Lofty A-Blasts Bolster Missile Defense Hopes

Nuclear Bombs Exploded 300 Miles In Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. hopes for building a defense against the intercontinental ballistic missile were brightened Thursday by the announced success of a series of high altitude atomic test explosions.

The hitherto secret launching of three rockets bearing nuclear warheads into space late last summer was described by the Defense Department as having "advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop antimissile missiles."

Dep. Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told a Pentagon news conference that "the national security had been helped by these experiments."

He said the test blasts — the first known man-made nuclear explosions in space—had provided information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile now under development in this country.

Without saying how, Quarles also said explosion of the three relatively small atomic devices some 300 miles above the South Atlantic will likewise help U.S. offensive weapons.

Quarles and his scientific assistants made it clear that the prime purpose of the experiments, which threw a thin curtain of radiation around the earth for short periods, produced results that will be used in perfecting the radar systems needed to put an antimissile missile on course.

These systems must be highly effective in their ability to find and track an onrushing enemy weapon in time to knock it out.

By exploding three atomic bombs above the atmosphere, the Project Argus scientists were able to trap neutrons from the nuclear bursts within the earth's magnetic field for a time.

The Pentagon officials, while jealously guarding the precise military effects of the experiment, indicated knowledge that certain radio frequencies and electromagnetic impulses would be interrupted by high altitude radiation.

The first of the three atomic bombs was launched from a Navy missile experimental ship last Aug. 27. The second burst was three days later and the last of the series was on Sept. 6.

The officials emphasized that this was about a month before the Oct. 1 start of a one-year suspension on nuclear explosions pending negotiations with the Soviet Union for halting of all such tests.

Radar Signal Bounced Off Planet Venus

WESTFORD, Mass. (UPI)—Man has made his first contact with another planet. Scientists reported Thursday night they bounced a radar signal off Venus for a space round - trip of 56 million miles.

It was the first two - way contact with any celestial body beyond the moon.

President Eisenhower sent a special message congratulating scientists and engineers of the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the achievement, one of the major breakthroughs of the space age.

The universe as man knew it has been made smaller by the unprecedented contact.

Lincoln Lab's official announcement said "preliminary calculations. . indicate that the dimensions of the solar system are somewhat smaller than the previously accepted value."

The experiment has given man his first chance to study the surface of cloud-shrouded Venus earth's nearest brother in space.

It also gives scientists their their first chance to accurately measure space distances, according to Dr. Robert Price and Dr. Paul E. Green, Jr., leaders of the research team.

Man's radar range also has been extended 100 times.

Basic ingredients of the breakthrough were a giant radar antenna and its related computer located at Millstone hill near here; a newly - developed research tool which helped to "sift" the returning signal out of the noice of space; and the sweat, tears and inspiration of dozens of scientists, engineers, and aides.

The historic contact came more than a year ago but it took a crew of scientists working full-time for nearly 13 months to find out exactly what they had.

Geneva Nuclear Talks Recessed

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States, Britain and Soviet Russia recessed the Geneva nuclear conference Thursday until April 13 to give both sides time for possible major policy revisions that could lead to a break in the deadlock on a nuclear test ban treaty.

Before recessing, negotiators reached agreement on three more articles for a test ban treaty. They brought to seven the number of articles approved by both sides since the talks began last Oct. 31.

Soviet sources termed Russian agreement to the three articles as a "major concession" to the West in order to speed up progress of the negotiations.

Western sources said the articles indicated a certain amount of progress, but "failed to change any of the basic issues" separating East and West.

The recess was called at the suggestion of the United States and British delegations. It was informally admitted the recess was designed to allow time for a review and possible new approach to the test ban problem.

Treasury Will Sell Half Billion In Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury announced Thursday it will try to sell 500 million dollars worth of 10-year bonds as part of four billion dollars of financing next week.

In deciding to offer a bond, the department surprised many money market observers. The market for Treasury bonds has been hit in recent months by lenders' fears of rising interest rates.

In still another move to get away from borrowing on a very short-term basis, the department disclosed it will offer 1½ billion dollars of 4 per cent notes which will mature in a little over four years.

The remaining two billion dollars in cash will be borrowed through an auction of 8½ months bills.

The 10-year bonds will pay 4 per cent interest.

Russia Ready To Negotiate Berlin Crisis

Khrushchev Willing To Open Ministers Conference May 11

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Thursday he is willing to open a foreign ministers conference on Germany May 11 but insisted only a summit meeting can brush away the threatening clouds of war.

"I am convinced there will be meetings of both the foreign ministers and heads of states," he told a news conference. He said he is waiting for the West to make concrete proposals.

Khrushchev had some praise for President Eisenhower's speech on Germany and for Democratic Sens. J. William Fulbright and Mike Mansfield. But he denounced Adm. Arleigh A. Burke and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. Navy and Army chiefs.

Khrushchev expressed belief President Eisenhower's Monday night speech to the American people recognized a need for negotiations and a willingness to take part in them.

"Healthy Seeds"

Noting that Eisenhower also had called for a firm Western stand on Berlin, Khrushchev said the President's speech contained contradictions and reservations.

He said, however, that when the reservations are "weeded out" there remain a majority of "healthy seeds"—namely, a willingness to hold a foreign ministers meeting with a summit meeting possibly later.

(In Washington, a State Department spokesman said Khrushchev's remarks appear to be encouraging.)

A correspondent noted that Eisenhower had talked of a possible summit meeting in the summer, well past the May 27 date the Soviet Union set last Nov. 27 for discussions on ending the four-power occupation of Berlin.

Khrushchev again denied May 27 was intended as an ultimatum date. "If it is not settled in six months, let it be settled in seven," he said.

Manner Conciliatory

Repeatedly in the two-hour conference with 300 correspondents in the Kremlin, Khrushchev insisted the Soviet Union was ready to meet the West more than half way to solve the questions of Germany and European security. There was nothing threatening in his words or manner.

Only once did his conciliatory manner desert him. That was when a Communist correspondent asked about what he called appeals for atomic war by Burke and Taylor.

Khrushchev waved his arms and said: "I can only say that some people talk of God punishing people by taking away their reason and these gentlemen must have been so treated. Burke talks of destroying the Soviet Union in two days.

"I suggest he is a poor mathematician. If that is true, how many days would it take to destroy the United States?"

On the other hand, Khrushchev said Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas and Mansfield of Montana had "some useful thoughts" on Germany.

Fulbright has suggested summit conferences would be helpful in the present world situation. Mansfield has said some Soviet suggestions for U.N. guarantees for West Berlin are worthy of consideration.

Vengeance-Driven Ex-Convict Seized By Police At Logan

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A vengeance - driven ex-convict, who kidnaped a mother and three children and offered to barter their lives in exchange for the "head" of a former prison cellmate, was apprehended by state police Thursday night at Logan, W. Va., 70 miles south of here.

"It was like sitting on a volcano that might erupt at any time," said Mrs. Elma Baldwin after she and her three children, aged 5 to 10, were rescued unharmed.

The woman, fearing for the lives of her children, told officers that during the abduction she twice struck her captor with a hammer, but failed to knock him out.

Mother Grabs Wheel

A bullet-punctuated chase by three state troopers ended when Mrs. Baldwin grabbed the steering wheel of the kidnap car and slammed on the brakes when her captor turned to fire at pursuing officers.

Ex-convict Richard A. Payne, 22, threw his gun out the car window and surrendered meekly as the troopers' cruiser pulled alongside. Payne, who at 16 was called "a one-man gang," offered no resistance when the officers approached the car with guns drawn.

Mrs. Baldwin, 29, and her children, Kenneth, 10, Danny, 7, and Susan, 5, cowered near the car floor.

"The children were tired and hungry," said Cpl. M. S. Hofstetter. "So was the mother, but they all were okay."

Cruiser Windshield Shattered

The capture, only a few hundred yards from the state police station at Logan, came at 5:15 p.m., e.s.t. — less than 24 hours after Payne herded the Baldwins from their South Charleston home at gunpoint.

Payne fired two shots through the rear window of the car at the pursuing troopers. One smashed through the cruiser's windshield, but none of the officers was hurt.

The break in the bizarre case which began with the Baldwin's abduction less than 24 hours earlier came at about 5:15 p. m. e.s.t. when Payne's car was spotted traveling toward Logan.

Cpl. Hofstetter and two fellow officers saw the kidnaper's car as it sped less than 100 yards in front of the state police station at Logan. They gave chase with siren wailing.

Note Threatens Torture

Earlier in the day an intense manhunt was touched off after Payne wrote to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood demanding the "head" of his former cellmate at Moundsville State Penitentiary.

Payne set a deadline of midnight Saturday for the governor to hand over to him Burton Junior Post, 28, or he would begin torturing his hostages to death. Post is serving a total of more than 100 years in the penitentiary.

The demands and the hatred for Post expressed in Payne's five-page letter to Gov. Underwood baffled authorities — and Post himself.

"I thought Payne and I were good friends," Post told State Trooper Arthur C. Hill, who questioned him in the prison. "We were cellmates for years and the only argument I can think of that we had was one time when we squabbled over a chess game."

Coal Operators Ask Courts, Ike Halt Picketing

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Independent coal operators in eastern Kentucky sought help Thursday from the courts and from the White House to break up picketing by striking members of the United Mine Workers Union.

Joe Lewis, Lexington, Ky., attorney for a group of coal operators in the Hazard field, sent a telegram to President Eisenhower asking him to send federal troops to eastern Kentucky "to restore law and order."

A similar request for national guard troops was rejected by Kentucky Gov. A.B. Chandler Wednesday. The governor said that reports from state police and other sources did not indicate any such action was necessary.

At a hearing Thursday before Pike Circuit Judge James B. Stephenson, attorneys for the UMW promised to end picketing in Pike County, pending a hearing set for 10 a.m. e.s.t. Monday on a request for a temporary restraining order asked by the Pike County Independent Coal Operators' Assn.

Union attorneys Thurmond Hibbitts and Francis M. Burke said that pending the hearing, the UMW would withdraw all of its pickets until the court could hear the motion on its merits, including testimony from both sides.

Attorneys for the coal operators said this would mean that union motorcades also would be discontinued in Pike County, pending Monday's hearing.

Lewis, in his telegram to the President, charged that a motorcade of UMW pickets Wednesday turned into a "treacherous mob," and said that residents of Perry, Knott and Letcher counties "fear for their lives."

Lewis asked, "do for the citizens of Kentucky what you did for the citizens of Arkansas," referring to the use of federal troops in the Little Rock school integration crisis.

Macmillan Believes Soviets Want Peace

British Leader, Ike Begin Talks Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan expressed confidence Thursday that the Soviet leaders want to negotiate rather than go to war over Berlin.

Arriving here for talks with President Eisenhower, he called on the Western Allies to develop "the right mixture" of firmness and reasonableness to guide them in foreign ministers and summit conferences with the U.S.S.R.'s leaders.

"I am persuaded that the Soviet leaders realize that they and we have a common interest in avoiding war," he said.

Not long afterward the State Department challenged Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to back up the apparent softer tone of remarks he made at a news conference in Moscow Thursday.

A spokesman said the tone of Khrushchev's comments "appears to be encouraging." Press officer Lincoln White added pointedly at a news conference: "Experience shows, however, that we can not always be sure that words mean the same thing to the Soviets as they mean to us."

Khrushchev said he was ready to accept a Western offer to convene a foreign ministers conference May 11 as a prelude to a heads of government meeting where cold war issues would be discussed.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter led a delegation of U.S. officials who greeted Macmillan and his foreign secretary, Selwyn Lloyd, when they arrived here aboard a British Comet jet airliner.

Macmillan went directly to the British Embassy to prepare for four days of far-ranging talks with Eisenhower beginning Friday. The two men, assisted by four aides each, will survey mainly the Berlin, German and European disarmament problems in the privacy of Eisenhower's Camp David mountain lodge about 65 miles north of the capital.

Macmillan hopes to heal a backstage Anglo-American split over the kind of concessions that should be offered the Soviets to ease mounting tensions over Berlin.

Hundreds Flee Montana Flood

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP) — A flash flood caused by an ice jam in the fast-flowing Yellowstone River sent hundreds of persons scrambling for their lives here early Thursday.

Water swirled over a vast, low-lying trailer camp for oilfield workers a short time after a warning touched off a mass evacuation. No casualties were reported.

The damage caused by water, mud and debris was confined mostly to the West Glendive trailer court area of this booming oil community of 10,000. There was no estimate of the loss.

Some persons were rescued by boats from nearby homes.

At mid-day the Yellowstone shook free of its big winter ice-cap and began returning to its banks.

'Dunce Cap' Atlas Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —The Air Force disclosed Thursday its "dunce cap" Atlas ICBM faltered shortly after blastoff Wednesday night and splashed into the Atlantic only 800 (statute) miles from the cape.

Officials had hoped the long-range war rocket would climb several hundred miles into space and hurl its new "peel-off" nose cone some 5,000 (statute) miles down the Atlantic tracking range. A recovery team was waiting in the planned impact area to pick up the cone so missile men could determine how well it could protect a hydrogen warhead.

But the Air Force in Washington said the 100-ton weapon "developed propulsion and control problems" and "impacted in the Atlantic Ocean about 700 nautical miles down the Atlantic missile range." That distance is equivalent to 800 land miles.

The abbreviated hop meant the tapered nose cone had little if any chance to heat up to the extremely high temperatures experienced in a successful flight.

House Votes $297 Million In Airport Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed a 297-million dollar airport construction bill Thursday after beating down attempts by Republicans and southern Democrats to trim it to President Eisenhower's specifications.

By a 272 - 134 roll call vote, it sent the Democratic measure to a House - Senate conference committee which must work out a compromise with the 465 million dollar version passed by the Senate. The President had asked for only 200 million dollars.

The bill would provide a four-year program of aid to state and municipal governments for construction and improvement of airports. It was approved after a series of votes in which the economy bloc forced members to go on record for or against federal spending.

The big test, which led to a see-saw battle, came on a proposal by Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) to slash 97 million dollars from the Democratic bill. This would have reduced it to the amount sought by the President.

First the House tentatively approved the amendment by a narrow 168 - 157 non-record vote. Then Democrats rallied their forces and defeated the proposal on a 214 - 194 roll call.

Since both the House and Senate bills are larger than the President's proposed measure, the House-Senate conference committee was almost certain to authorize more spending on airports than Eisenhower wanted.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House Commerce Committee, which had cut 168 million dollars from the Senate version, told the House the nation's airports needed at least 297 million dollars in federal funds to keep pace with the air age.

"Like Sitting On Volcano," Housewife Held Hostage By Kidnaper Declares

Mrs. Elma Baldwin, a 29-year-old South Charleston, W. Va., housewife, and her three children were held as hostages by an enraged, vengeance-bent ex-convict who was willing to gamble their lives in exchange for that of his worst enemy. The following dispatch is her account of the gruelling ordeal.

By MRS. ELMA BALDWIN
As Told To UPI

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—It was like sitting on a volcano that might erupt at any time.

I stayed awake all night for fear that he (ex-con Richard A. Payne) might wreck the car. He drove awful nervously and reckless.

The kids slept a little, but not much. The way he drove, they were shaken up so much they couldn't sleep.

The kids were never scared. He (Payne) actually was very nice to us. He was very considerate and, before we left the house last Wednesday night, he told me to take two pillows and two blankets.

He was very nervous all the time and kept the car heater turned up awfully high. I kept covering the children's faces with the blankets.

He never lost his temper. If he had been insane he surely would have jumped on me for the bad time I gave him. But he was extremely nice.

After we got in the car last night, I remembered there was a hammer under the front seat. I reached down and hit him twice —once on the back of the head and once on the forehead.

It didn't knock him out. I don't know why. He bled considerably and he complained all day how his head hurt him.

But he didn't get mad after I hit him.

He just told me not to try anything like that again or he would hurt one of the children.

He talked a lot. Mostly about how it was in prison. Everytime he talked about this man Post (Burton Junior Post) he would pull out his gun.

I told him not to do that because he might hurt one of the children. I said "I've kept my word by not causing any trouble and you ought to keep yours." He agreed not to harm us if we didn't make trouble.

He agreed to let us go free tonight and planned to get other hostages. We were just about out of money and gas. He said he would leave the car with me.

He said if the police tried to get him he would use the little

LONDON (UPI) — A "cat" burglar stole several thousand dollars worth of jewelry from the bedroom of American actress Lauren Bacall Wednesday night without disturbing her sleeping children or servants who were watching television. The jewelry was insured.

The thief entered through the window of a third-story bedroom in which 10-year-old Steven was asleep. He walked through the room and into Miss Bacall's bedroom. Six - year - old Leslie was asleep in another room.

One-Time "Crazy Greek's" Radiation Curtain Theory Apparently Verified

WASHINGTON (AP) — "That crazy Greek," they called him.

"Just another crank letter," they said, dropping one of his scientific dreams into the file-and-forget cabinet.

"They" in this case were American nuclear scientists.

The man they first scorned—but later welcomed with open arms and a chunk of money—was Nicholas Constantine Christofilos, 42.

He is the human idea factory whose theory of a man-made radiation curtain now seems to have been verified in one of the newest sensations of science, Project Argus.

There is some doubt that Argus is the greatest scientific experiment of the century, but no one questions that it is tremendously important.

The story of how Christofilos got through the scientific curtain was told to a congressinnal committee a year ago by Dr. George K. Green of the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven laboratory on Long Island, N.Y.

In 1950, then in Greece, Christofilos wrote a letter to the University of California radiation laboratory at Livermore, supported by the AEC. The letter discussed atom-smashers even though, as Green put it, "he had never seen one."

The lab scientists considered the letter a mess, but they took the trouble to write Christofilos a letter "analyzing all his errors and misconceptions."

Another year brought another Christofilos letter. The scientists called this one a crank letter and didn't even read it. It was then that the "crazy Greek" reference popped up.

In the summer of 1952 Brookhaven scientists came up with an invention to make possible the construction of a powerful atom-smasher with a big saving in the materials and power needed to run it.

Christofilos about that time paid a luncheon visit to Green and remarked that he had come up with the same invention a year earlier. Green telephoned to the people at the California laboratory.

"They got his letter out of the files," Green related, "and their faces were red."

Green hired Christofilos on the spot and the "crazy Greek" eventually was paid $10,000 in addition, just for the idea. It was calculated the process he had hit upon first meant a saving of 70 million dollars.

West Virginia Mother, Three Children Safe

Vengeance-Driven Ex-Convict Seized By Police At Logan

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A vengeance - driven ex-convict, who kidnaped a mother and three children and offered to barter their lives in exchange for the "head" of a former prison cellmate, was apprehended by state police Thursday night at Logan, W. Va., 70 miles south of here.

"It was like sitting on a volcano that might erupt at any time," said Mrs. Elma Baldwin after she and her three children, aged 5 to 10, were rescued unharmed.

The woman, fearing for the lives of her children, told officers that during the abduction she twice struck her captor with a hammer, but failed to knock him out.

Mother Grabs Wheel

A bullet-punctuated chase by three state troopers ended when Mrs. Baldwin grabbed the steering wheel of the kidnap car and slammed on the brakes when her captor turned to fire at pursuing officers.

Ex-convict Richard A. Payne, 22, threw his gun out the car window and surrendered meekly as the troopers' cruiser pulled alongside. Payne, who at 16 was called "a one-man gang," offered no resistance when the officers approached the car with guns drawn.

Mrs. Baldwin, 29, and her children, Kenneth, 10, Danny, 7, and Susan, 5, cowered near the car floor.

"The children were tired and hungry," said Cpl. M. S. Hofstetter. "So was the mother, but they all were okay."

Cruiser Windshield Shattered

The capture, only a few hundred yards from the state police station at Logan, came at 5:15 p.m., e.s.t. — less than 24 hours after Payne herded the Baldwins from their South Charleston home at gunpoint.

Payne fired two shots through the rear window of the car at the pursuing troopers. One smashed through the cruiser's windshield, but none of the officers was hurt.

The break in the bizarre case which began with the Baldwin's abduction less than 24 hours earlier came at about 5:15 p. m. e.s.t. when Payne's car was spotted traveling toward Logan.

Cpl. Hofstetter and two fellow officers saw the kidnaper's car as it sped less than 100 yards in front of the state police station at Logan. They gave chase with siren wailing.

Note Threatens Torture

Earlier in the day an intense manhunt was touched off after Payne wrote to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood demanding the "head" of his former cellmate at Moundsville State Penitentiary.

Payne set a deadline of midnight Saturday for the governor to hand over to him Burton Junior Post, 28, or he would begin torturing his hostages to death. Post is serving a total of more than 100 years in the penitentiary.

The demands and the hatred for Post expressed in Payne's five-page letter to Gov. Underwood baffled authorities — and Post himself.

"I thought Payne and I were good friends," Post told State Trooper Arthur C. Hill, who questioned him in the prison. "We were cellmates for years and the only argument I can think of that we had was one time when we squabbled over a chess game."

Coal Operators Ask Courts, Ike Halt Picketing

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Independent coal operators in eastern Kentucky sought help Thursday from the courts and from the White House to break up picketing by striking members of the United Mine Workers Union.

Joe Lewis, Lexington, Ky., attorney for a group of coal operators in the Hazard field, sent a telegram to President Eisenhower asking him to send federal troops to eastern Kentucky "to restore law and order."

A similar request for national guard troops was rejected by Kentucky Gov. A.B. Chandler Wednesday. The governor said that reports from state police and other sources did not indicate any such action was necessary.

At a hearing Thursday before Pike Circuit Judge James B. Stephenson, attorneys for the UMW promised to end picketing in Pike County, pending a hearing set for 10 a.m. e.s.t. Monday on a request for a temporary restraining order asked by the Pike County Independent Coal Operators' Assn.

Union attorneys Thurmond Hibbitts and Francis M. Burke said that pending the hearing, the UMW would withdraw all of its pickets until the court could hear the motion on its merits, including testimony from both sides.

Attorneys for the coal operators said this would mean that union motorcades also would be discontinued in Pike County, pending Monday's hearing.

Lewis, in his telegram to the President, charged that a motorcade of UMW pickets Wednesday turned into a "treacherous mob," and said that residents of Perry, Knott and Letcher counties "fear for their lives."

Lewis asked, "do for the citizens of Kentucky what you did for the citizens of Arkansas," referring to the use of federal troops in the Little Rock school integration crisis.

Macmillan Believes Soviets Want Peace

British Leader, Ike Begin Talks Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan expressed confidence Thursday that the Soviet leaders want to negotiate rather than go to war over Berlin.

Arriving here for talks with President Eisenhower, he called on the Western Allies to develop "the right mixture" of firmness and reasonableness to guide them in foreign ministers and summit conferences with the U.S.S.R.'s leaders.

"I am persuaded that the Soviet leaders realize that they and we have a common interest in avoiding war," he said.

Not long afterward the State Department challenged Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to back up the apparent softer tone of remarks he made at a news conference in Moscow Thursday.

A spokesman said the tone of Khrushchev's comments "appears to be encouraging." Press officer Lincoln White added pointedly at a news conference: "Experience shows, however, that we can not always be sure that words mean the same thing to the Soviets as they mean to us."

Khrushchev said he was ready to accept a Western offer to convene a foreign ministers conference May 11 as a prelude to a heads of government meeting where cold war issues would be discussed.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter led a delegation of U.S. officials who greeted Macmillan and his foreign secretary, Selwyn Lloyd, when they arrived here aboard a British Comet jet airliner.

Macmillan went directly to the British Embassy to prepare for four days of far-ranging talks with Eisenhower beginning Friday. The two men, assisted by four aides each, will survey mainly the Berlin, German and European disarmament problems in the privacy of Eisenhower's Camp David mountain lodge about 65 miles north of the capital.

Macmillan hopes to heal a backstage Anglo-American split over the kind of concessions that should be offered the Soviets to ease mounting tensions over Berlin.

Hundreds Flee Montana Flood

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP) — A flash flood caused by an ice jam in the fast-flowing Yellowstone River sent hundreds of persons scrambling for their lives here early Thursday.

Water swirled over a vast, low-lying trailer camp for oilfield workers a short time after a warning touched off a mass evacuation. No casualties were reported.

The damage caused by water, mud and debris was confined mostly to the West Glendive trailer court area of this booming oil community of 10,000. There was no estimate of the loss.

Some persons were rescued by boats from nearby homes.

At mid-day the Yellowstone shook free of its big winter ice-cap and began returning to its banks.

'Dunce Cap' Atlas Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —The Air Force disclosed Thursday its "dunce cap" Atlas ICBM faltered shortly after blastoff Wednesday night and splashed into the Atlantic only 800 (statute) miles from the cape.

Officials had hoped the long-range war rocket would climb several hundred miles into space and hurl its new "peel-off" nose cone some 5,000 (statute) miles down the Atlantic tracking range. A recovery team was waiting in the planned impact area to pick up the cone so missile men could determine how well it could protect a hydrogen warhead.

But the Air Force in Washington said the 100-ton weapon "developed propulsion and control problems" and "impacted in the Atlantic Ocean about 700 nautical miles down the Atlantic missile range." That distance is equivalent to 800 land miles.

The abbreviated hop meant the tapered nose cone had little if any chance to heat up to the extremely high temperatures experienced in a successful flight.

House Votes $297 Million In Airport Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed a 297-million dollar airport construction bill Thursday after beating down attempts by Republicans and southern Democrats to trim it to President Eisenhower's specifications.

By a 272 - 134 roll call vote, it sent the Democratic measure to a House - Senate conference committee which must work out a compromise with the 465 million dollar version passed by the Senate. The President had asked for only 200 million dollars.

The bill would provide a four-year program of aid to state and municipal governments for construction and improvement of airports. It was approved after a series of votes in which the economy bloc forced members to go on record for or against federal spending.

The big test, which led to a see-saw battle, came on a proposal by Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) to slash 97 million dollars from the Democratic bill. This would have reduced it to the amount sought by the President.

First the House tentatively approved the amendment by a narrow 168 - 157 non-record vote. Then Democrats rallied their forces and defeated the proposal on a 214 - 194 roll call.

Since both the House and Senate bills are larger than the President's proposed measure, the House-Senate conference committee was almost certain to authorize more spending on airports than Eisenhower wanted.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House Commerce Committee, which had cut 168 million dollars from the Senate version, told the House the nation's airports needed at least 297 million dollars in federal funds to keep pace with the air age.

"Like Sitting On Volcano," Housewife Held Hostage By Kidnaper Declares

Mrs. Elma Baldwin, a 29-year-old South Charleston, W. Va., housewife, and her three children were held as hostages by an enraged, vengeance-bent ex-convict who was willing to gamble their lives in exchange for that of his worst enemy. The following dispatch is her account of the gruelling ordeal.

By MRS. ELMA BALDWIN
As Told To UPI

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—It was like sitting on a volcano that might erupt at any time.

I stayed awake all night for fear that he (ex-con Richard A. Payne) might wreck the car. He drove awful nervously and reckless.

The kids slept a little, but not much. The way he drove, they were shaken up so much they couldn't sleep.

The kids were never scared. He (Payne) actually was very nice to us. He was very considerate and, before we left the house last Wednesday night, he told me to take two pillows and two blankets.

He was very nervous all the time and kept the car heater turned up awfully high. I kept covering the children's faces with the blankets.

He never lost his temper. If he had been insane he surely would have jumped on me for the bad time I gave him. But he was extremely nice.

After we got in the car last night, I remembered there was a hammer under the front seat. I reached down and hit him twice —once on the back of the head and once on the forehead.

It didn't knock him out. I don't know why. He bled considerably and he complained all day how his head hurt him.

But he didn't get mad after I hit him.

He just told me not to try anything like that again or he would hurt one of the children.

He talked a lot. Mostly about how it was in prison. Everytime he talked about this man Post (Burton Junior Post) he would pull out his gun.

I told him not to do that because he might hurt one of the children. I said "I've kept my word by not causing any trouble and you ought to keep yours." He agreed not to harm us if we didn't make trouble.

He agreed to let us go free tonight and planned to get other hostages. We were just about out of money and gas. He said he would leave the car with me.

He said if the police tried to get him he would use the little

'Cat Burglar' Steals Actress' Jewelry

LONDON (UPI) — A "cat" burglar stole several thousand dollars worth of jewelry from the bedroom of American actress Lauren Bacall Wednesday night without disturbing her sleeping children or servants who were watching television. The jewelry was insured.

The thief entered through the window of a third-story bedroom in which 10-year-old Steven was asleep. He walked through the room and into Miss Bacall's bedroom. Six - year - old Leslie was asleep in another room.

One-Time "Crazy Greek's" Radiation Curtain Theory Apparently Verified

WASHINGTON (AP) — "That crazy Greek," they called him.

"Just another crank letter," they said, dropping one of his scientific dreams into the file-and-forget cabinet.

"They" in this case were American nuclear scientists.

The man they first scorned—but later welcomed with open arms and a chunk of money—was Nicholas Constantine Christofilos, 42.

He is the human idea factory whose theory of a man-made radiation curtain now seems to have been verified in one of the newest sensations of science, Project Argus.

There is some doubt that Argus is the greatest scientific experiment of the century, but no one questions that it is tremendously important.

The story of how Christofilos got through the scientific curtain was told to a congressinnal committee a year ago by Dr. George K. Green of the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven laboratory on Long Island, N.Y.

In 1950, then in Greece, Christofilos wrote a letter to the University of California radiation laboratory at Livermore, supported by the AEC. The letter discussed atom-smashers even though, as Green put it, "he had never seen one."

The lab scientists considered the letter a mess, but they took the trouble to write Christofilos a letter "analyzing all his errors and misconceptions."

Another year brought another Christofilos letter. The scientists called this one a crank letter and didn't even read it. It was then that the "crazy Greek" reference popped up.

In the summer of 1952 Brookhaven scientists came up with an invention to make possible the construction of a powerful atom-smasher with a big saving in the materials and power needed to run it.

Christofilos about that time paid a luncheon visit to Green and remarked that he had come up with the same invention a year earlier. Green telephoned to the people at the California laboratory.

"They got his letter out of the files," Green related, "and their faces were red."

Green hired Christofilos on the spot and the "crazy Greek" eventually was paid $10,000 in addition, just for the idea. It was calculated the process he had hit upon first meant a saving of 70 million dollars.

Probers Charge Four 'Robber Barons' Drew Million From Union's Treasury

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rackets Committee charged Thursday that four "robber baron" officers of a Chicago Teamster local drew $1,136,275 from the union's treasury from 1952 to 1958.

One of the officials was Teamster Vice President John O'Brien, who once was hailed as leader of a Teamster "clean-up" campaign. He invoked the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination when asked to testify about his financial affairs.

The committee also was told that Teamster President James R. Hoffa used "scabs" and strike-breakers against a rival union, the United Mine Workers, during an Illinois brewery strike. The charge was made by former Teamster official Barney Matual, of LaSalle, Ill.

Matual testified he recently led a group of brewery employes out of the teamsters and into Local 846 of the UMW. During a strike at the Star Union Brewery at Peru, Ill., he said, scabs broke through the UMW picket line. He said he had no doubt Hoffa was behind it.

Matual also testified that John C. Clinch Jr., an attorney for the strikebound brewery, was paid $4,000 in legal fees by the Teamsters. He said Clinch also acted as city attorney of Peru.

O'Brien refused to say whether, under orders from Hoffa, he worked with the brewery management to put down the strike by the UMW local. He was equally tight-lipped when it came to his finances.

O'Brien and the others who allegedly drew more than a million dollars from the union treasury were officials of Teamster Local 710. The payments to O'Brien, the secretary treasurer, were described as salary, vacation, Christmas bonuses and "commissions" on union dues.

W.Va., Pa. Join In Appeal For Interstate Road

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia and Pennsylvania Thursday, were promised careful consideration of their plea for a north-south interstate highway — if any mileage becomes available.

The assurance was given by E. L. Armstrong, commissioner of public roads, after hearing Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia and others urge an interstate segment in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The two states want an extension of an interstate route from Washington, Pa. to Beckley, W. Va., and thence to the West Virginia-Virginia border near Bluefield. The proposed route would closely parallel U.S. 19 from Erie, Pa. to the southern border of West Virginia.

Armstrong said that the 41,000 miles in the interstate program have been allocated except for a small reserve held against contingencies.

He said some mileage may be left over after detailed studies are made in the next several years, and added:

"If we do have mileage left over, we can assure you we will give very objective and thorough consideration of the points you've brought up today."

Underwood summed up his plea by saying:

"We believe the addition of this proposed north-south route from Erie to Miami would be of tremendous economic benefits — not only to our specific area, but also to the nation as a whole. It would provide a much-needed defense route and open a large defense-dispersal area (in six north central West Virginia counties). It would be of great help in alleviating the economic distress of the hard-hit coal mining areas."

Pet Monkey Dies After Biting Nude Man; Man Sues

BALTIMORE (AP)—It was bad enough when a monkey bit him in the nude in a Turkish bath, but when the monkey died a few days later—well, that was too much, said Edward W. Szostak.

Szostak is an attendant at Rowland's Health Baths, a Turkish bath establishment in downtown Baltimore.

In a suit filed Thursday, Szostak said that a customer, Charles H. Walls, walked into the place last month with a monkey. He said Walls went into the baths and let his pet monkey wander around the place freely.

Szostak said he took one look at the frolicking ape and decided he had better take the animal in leash to protect the other customers, all of whom were in the nude.

Szostak, also in the nude, said that when Walls saw him with his hand on the monkey's chain, he yelled, "Let go of that chain."

This excited and confused the monkey, Szostak's suit said, the animal bit him several times.

As if this wasn't bad enough, Szostak said, that Walls refused to have the monkey tested for rabies.

When Walls showed up at the Turkish bath a few days after the biting episode, he said, he asked Walls about the rabies tests. But Walls merely laughed and said the monkey died the morning after it had bitten Szostak.

This, said Szostak, threw him into a state of shock and aggravated his previous nervous condition.

He asked the Baltimore City Court to award him $10,000 in damages.

George Washington adopted two children—Nancy and George Washington Parke Curtis.

Condemnation Bill Defeated

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The House of Delegates handed its majority floor leader a resounding setback Thursday by voting 95-17 against a bill which came out of his committee with a favorable report and for which he argued strongly.

It would have given the State Roads Commission a quicker way to destroy dwellings or commercial buildings it condemns. Under the bill the SRC could have torn them down if the owner's court appeal of the commission's offered buying price was not tried within 60 days.

Now it must wait until a jury decides the value.

Del. Murray (D-Howard) protested this deprived the owner of "his day in court" since the jury would have no property to inspect in determining its value.

After losing his argument and bill, Majority Leader Boone (D-Balto County) caustically thanked the House for its "sterling vote of confidence."

The House continued to suspend rules so more bills could be introduced although the deadline was supposed to have been Tuesday. It received 15 Thursday afternoon, raising the total for the session to 888.

Baltimore Man Dies Of Crash Injuries

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)— Joseph H. Stolte, 23, of Baltimore, died Thursday night in Frederick Memorial Hospital from injuries suffered in a car crash earlier in the day.

State Police said Stolte was in a car that crashed on Morgan Station Road between Maryland 144 and U.S. 4.

Robert M. Leake, 25, also of Baltimore, was injured and treated at the hospital. He was taken to Howard County jail in default of $1,000 bond on a charge of operating a vehicle while his license was suspended and with reckless driving.

The dodo, which has been extinct since 1681, was nearly the size of a swan and couldn't fly.

When the state police car started chasing us, he let go of the steering wheel and pulled her closer to him.

I managed to grab the wheel and put on the brakes and pulled the car over to the curb.

I was screaming to police not to shoot. Then he (Payne) said "I'll give myself up. I don't want to hurt one of them." That's when he threw the gun out the window.

But until we were safe, it was like sitting on a volcano.

Time To Quit

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A 73-year-old motorist involved in eight accidents Wednesday surrendered his driving license in Police Court Thursday.

Police said the man, Albert G. Meyer, told them at his home he had not remembered any of the mishaps, but agreed to come to police headquarters.

Baltimore Man Dies Of Crash Injuries

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)— Joseph H. Stolte, 23, of Baltimore, died Thursday night in Frederick Memorial Hospital from injuries suffered in a car crash earlier in the day.

State Police said Stolte was in a car that crashed on Morgan Station Road between Maryland 144 and U.S. 4.

Robert M. Leake, 25, also of Baltimore, was injured and treated at the hospital. He was taken to Howard County jail in default of $1,000 bond on a charge of operating a vehicle while his license was suspended and with reckless driving.

The dodo, which has been extinct since 1681, was nearly the size of a swan and couldn't fly.

When the state police car started chasing us, he let go of the steering wheel and pulled her closer to him.

I managed to grab the wheel and put on the brakes and pulled the car over to the curb.

I was screaming to police not to shoot. Then he (Payne) said "I'll give myself up. I don't want to hurt one of them." That's when he threw the gun out the window.

But until we were safe, it was like sitting on a volcano.

Time To Quit

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A 73-year-old motorist involved in eight accidents Wednesday surrendered his driving license in Police Court Thursday.

Police said the man, Albert G. Meyer, told them at his home he had not remembered any of the mishaps, but agreed to come to police headquarters.

They declined his offer to drive his own car.

Now! Bleach safely, automatically in the new MAYTAG AUTOMATIC WASHER with BLEACH DISPENSER

No waiting or diluting. Maytag does both jobs for you. Just add concentrated bleach through dispenser opening; bleach remains in dispenser until washer has filled and washing action starts, and is automatically diluted before being introduced into the wash water. After washing action starts, bleach is added slowly to provide uniform bleaching action. Only Maytag provides this automatic delay and pre-dilution.

No bleach damage to clothes. By providing automatic dilution and properly timed injection, Maytag prevents heavy concentrations of bleach from coming in contact with clothes. Gone forever are the holes in clothes, the weakened fibres, the uneven bleaching associated with strong liquid bleaches.

No half-hearted detergents. Modern detergents contain brightening agents which are destroyed by liquid bleach when bleach and detergents are added to wash water at the same time. By delaying the introduction of bleach until after the washing action has started, Maytag preserves the full effectiveness of your detergent and clothes come out sparkling clean, white, and color bright, wash after wash after wash.

Churches Have Tough Problem In Arithmetic

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Churches today have a dizzying problem in arithmetic.

They're stumped, in a sense, by statistics. As widely assessed by authorities, the figures on current religious activity can be used to show contrasting conditions—either liveliness or lull — and often are.

"It's a wide-open field for interpretation," said Dr. Benson Y. Landis, a longtime, top church statistician.

"The great difficulty is that many of the figures not only are crude estimates, but they don't cover nearly all the ground that they should."

Latest contribution to the question is that of University of California sociologist Seymour M. Lipset, who presents data to show that the much-heralded church boom in this country is mostly a myth.

"The idea of a major postwar growth in religious practice is not well-founded," he writes in Forum, a Columbia University quarterly. He presents an array of computations to back up his thesis.

On the other hand, editors of Presbyterian Life not long ago rounded up a set of figures to show that church affiliation in America is far greater than usually counted—about 130 million rather than 104 million.

That's about three-fourth of the population instead of two-thirds.

Official tallies listed by various churches show a strongly rising graph, particularly in postwar years. But Dr. Landis, editor of the Yearbook of American Churches, points out various disparities including:

1. Of 268 religious bodies, perhaps only half of them compile new tabulations annually, with some figures long out of date.

2. Denominations have inconsistent definitions of membership, with Roman Catholics and some Protestant bodies counting all baptized persons, including infants. Most Protestant groups count only adults.

(It was by including Protestant children that Presbyterian Life arrived at its higher Protestant figures—about 86 million instead of the 60 million generally given. A 1957 census bureau sampling got similar results.)

3. No uniform policies exist for removing deadwood from local church rolls. Examples were cited of congregations with a fourth of their membership listed with addresses unknown. Many are probably also counted in congregations elsewhere.

Dr. Lipset cited numerous studies challenging the usual picture of a rising religious tide, including these findings:

1. Lessened religious activity by American businessmen, with 63 per cent having church preferences in 1920, and only 41 per cent in 1950.

2. Lack of proportional expansion of the clergy, with 1.12 ministers available to each 1,000 population in 1950, less than the 1.16 available a century ago.

3. In 18 Protestant churches, studies show donations in relation to income in 1953 were lower than in 1929 — about the same level as late in the depression.

4. Some churches which formerly didn't count children under 13 as members now do so, thus inflating comparative totals. Studies show adult membership at 55 per cent of population in 1906; 51 per cent in 1940; 64 per cent in 1950.

5. As for church-going, polls indicate weekly attendance by 41 per cent of the population in 1939; 39 per cent in 1950; 47 per cent in 1957.

"No basic trend exists," Lipset said. "By far the most striking aspect of religious life in America is not the changes which have occurred in it—but the basic continuities it retains."

Dutch-Built Cars Will Be Sold In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A representative of the DAF Auto Works of Holland said Wednesday plans are being made to begin selling the Netherlands-built car in the United States with an eventual goal of 20,000 to 30,000 units annually.

J. Soeten, general North American sales manager of DAF, said he was in the process of negotiating contracts.

He estimated the auto would sell for under $1,500.

Close "Ice" Station

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union soon will close down its floating observation station in the ice-filled Arctic Ocean, the official Tass News Agency reported.

Tass said the station has completed its scientific observations after nearly two years in operation on an ice floe covering more than a square mile. The floe drifted about 2,000 miles in 23 months, Tass said.

D.C. Dairy Cuts Maryland Milk Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chestnut Farms (Sealtest) Dairy announced Thursday price cuts of up to 3½ cents a quart in milk it will sell in Maryland suburbs, effective Monday.

A spokesman for Embassy Dairy, owned by the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Assn., said his firm may take similar action.

An official for Thompson's Dairy said his firm has not decided what action it will take.

Edgar N. Brawner, general manager of Chestnut Farms, said the reduction is the result of an increased supply of raw milk from Pennsylvania. The milk does not come under District of Columbia inspection but it has been approved by Maryland health officials, Brawner said. He added:

"Because we are buying this milk for lower prices, we can sell it for lower prices."

Home-delivered Sealtest homogenized vitamin D milk will be reduced from 27½ cents a quart to 26½ cents. Sealtest homogenized will drop from 27½ cents a quart in single-quart containers to 23 cents a quart in half-gallon containers.

Brawner said store prices probably will drop to the same extent.

He said the dairy expects to break even on the price reductions.

But William B. Hooper, general manager of the Maryland-Virginia association, contended Chestnut Farms would not be passing on any savings "because there are no savings being made at this point."

"They're probably taking a loss on it in an effort to gain public support in Maryland," he said.

Two Religious Groups Share Van Horn Estate

BALTIMORE (AP) — Circuit Judge Joseph L. Carter ruled Thursday that two religious institutions, rather than her relatives, should share in the estate of Mrs. Bernice T.W.F. Van Horn.

Judge Carter said that her husband was not entitled to any of the estate left him under her will because he has been convicted of killing his socially prominent wife on the night of June 1, 1957 at their Baltimore County home. The value of the estate exceeds $600,000.

Van Horn was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the maximum term of 10 years in prison.

The court said that the Brown Memorial Church of Baltimore and the Jesuit Seminary Fund, named in the will as substitute beneficiaries if Van Horn died before his wife, should divide the bulk of the estate as residuary beneficiaries.

The will had been executed in April 1955 a few months after her marriage to Van Horn, a native of Clarksburg, W. Va. Mrs. Van Horn formerly was married to Joseph J. Flynn, who died in 1951.

Judge Carter noted that Van Horn through counsel at first opposed the religious groups' claim, but the petition was withdrawn later on the ground that "in all good conscience morally he should not be permitted to take under said will and thus profit by his own act."

Young Fireman Charged With Setting Blazes

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 19-year-old volunteer fireman Thursday was charged with setting 10 field fires in the southwestern section of Baltimore County since the first of the year.

Capt. Louis W. Irvin of the arson squad identified the youth, who lives in the Baltimore Highlands section, was a member of the English Counsul Volunteer Fire Department.

He was taken into custody at Catonsville Senior High School, where he is a senior.

Irvin said the youth admitted reporting two false alarms last year and rode fire apparatus to the fires he allegedly set this year.

He will be questioned about a series of brush fires which have been breaking out along the Baltimore - Washington Expressway near the Friendship Airport in the last several days.

The young fireman, investigators reported, had been "depressed by school work and needed a way to leave off his emotions and stored-up energy."

New York Woman Car Crash Victim

LA PLATA, Md. (AP)—A New York woman was crushed to death near here Thursday when the car in which she had been riding rolled down an embankment and landed on top of her.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Mannie St. Martene, 69, of Floral Park, N. Y.

Elmer Kephart, 55, of Leon Springs, Bolusia, Fla., the driver, and his 38-year-old wife, Rona, received minor injuries.

State Trooper A. I. Prince said the car struck a pickup truck on U.S. 13 and the impact threw Mrs. Martene from the car and down an embankment.

He said the car rolled over and over down the same embankment and landed on top of the woman.

Death Investigated

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — The U. S. Army provost marshal in Pusan Thursday investigated the death of Kim Myong Bae, 42, who died after a horse cart he was guiding was struck by a jeep driven by Capt. John P. McCoy, of Rochester, N.Y.

Piggyback Service

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad's piggyback service—TrucTrain—will go into operation in Baltimore next Monday.

The railroad said the service, which it started in 1954, will be inaugurated between Baltimore and Chicago.

Truck trailers will be loaded on flat cars at a loading track in the Baltimore Bay View Yards in late afternoon and start west at 8:45 p.m. They will arrive in Chicago 28 hours later.

Helmets For Cops

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore's motorcycle cops soon will be wearing crash helmets.

Inspector Bernard J. Schmidt, head of the Traffic Division's motorcycle police, said 95 of the plastic headpieces had been ordered.

The helmets, lined with foam rubber, are designed to minimize head injuries when an officer is thrown from his cycle.

Two Religious Groups Share Van Horn Estate

BALTIMORE (AP) — Circuit Judge Joseph L. Carter ruled Thursday that two religious institutions, rather than her relatives, should share in the estate of Mrs. Bernice T.W.F. Van Horn.

Judge Carter said that her husband was not entitled to any of the estate left him under her will because he has been convicted of killing his socially prominent wife on the night of June 1, 1957 at their Baltimore County home. The value of the estate exceeds $600,000.

Van Horn was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the maximum term of 10 years in prison.

The court said that the Brown Memorial Church of Baltimore and the Jesuit Seminary Fund, named in the will as substitute beneficiaries if Van Horn died before his wife, should divide the bulk of the estate as residuary beneficiaries.

The will had been executed in April 1955 a few months after her marriage to Van Horn, a native of Clarksburg, W. Va. Mrs. Van Horn formerly was married to Joseph J. Flynn, who died in 1951.

Judge Carter noted that Van Horn through counsel at first opposed the religious groups' claim, but the petition was withdrawn later on the ground that "in all good conscience morally he should not be permitted to take under said will and thus profit by his own act."

New York Woman Car Crash Victim

LA PLATA, Md. (AP)—A New York woman was crushed to death near here Thursday when the car in which she had been riding rolled down an embankment and landed on top of her.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Mannie St. Martene, 69, of Floral Park, N. Y.

Elmer Kephart, 55, of Leon Springs, Bolusia, Fla., the driver, and his 38-year-old wife, Rona, received minor injuries.

State Trooper A. I. Prince said the car struck a pickup truck on U.S. 13 and the impact threw Mrs. Martene from the car and down an embankment.

He said the car rolled over and over down the same embankment and landed on top of the woman.

Death Investigated

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — The U. S. Army provost marshal in Pusan Thursday investigated the death of Kim Myong Bae, 42, who died after a horse cart he was guiding was struck by a jeep driven by Capt. John P. McCoy, of Rochester, N.Y.

Piggyback Service

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad's piggyback service—TrucTrain—will go into operation in Baltimore next Monday.

The railroad said the service, which it started in 1954, will be inaugurated between Baltimore and Chicago.

Truck trailers will be loaded on flat cars at a loading track in the Baltimore Bay View Yards in late afternoon and start west at 8:45 p.m. They will arrive in Chicago 28 hours later.

Helmets For Cops

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore's motorcycle cops soon will be wearing crash helmets.

Inspector Bernard J. Schmidt, head of the Traffic Division's motorcycle police, said 95 of the plastic headpieces had been ordered.

The helmets, lined with foam rubber, are designed to minimize head injuries when an officer is thrown from his cycle.

AAUW Group Favors Liberal Foreign Policy

The International Relations Group of Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, endorsed a more liberal policy of foreign aid, especially in the Middle East.

United States Foreign Policy was the topic discussed at the dessert meeting held at the home of Mrs. Veronica Schleifman, Washington Street. Miss Dorothy Willison was assistant hostess. Miss Janet Anderson presided and Miss Adele Malcolm and Miss Margaret Baker were the discussion leaders.

It was brought out that the United States has the money and know-how and should share both intelligently. The group believed the Development Fund Loan to be the best means of aiding and stressed that lending is the best means of aiding, both with the individual or the whole world.

The first job, it was pointed out is to understand the people, as they need understanding more than money. The group also felt that the health service abroad has paid well in accomplishment, through the capable management of World Health Organization. More liberal policies about trade were recommended as it is believed that reciprocal trade helps all.

It was announced that the next group meeting will be April 22, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Georgeie O. Wolford, 1702 Holland Street. The state AAUW convention was discussed. It will be held in Hagerstown April 10-11. Mrs. John G. Thomas, Miss Annie B. Gray, Mrs. Aden L. Everstine, Mrs. Joseph M. Miller, Mrs. William H. Blake, Mrs. Schleifman, Mrs. Austin D. Twigg, Jr., Miss Lillian Boughton, Mrs. William Frailey and Miss Malcolm are delegates from the branch. Members are asked to call Mrs. Thomas or Mrs. Everstine for transportation.

Cumberland DeMolay Boys will hold an Easter flower sale March 27-28 at the corner of Baltimore and Centre Streets, beginning at 8:30 a. m.

Society To Sponsor Cook Books

The Mount Tabor Women's Society of Christian Service agreed to sponsor cook books, which will be compiled and sold for the benefit of the parsonage fund. The group met Wednesday and appointed Mrs. Leslie Beckner chairman of the project. Mrs. Foster Smith presided.

"One in Christ, Progress in Ecumenicity" was the theme used for the devotionals, which were led by Mrs. William Hetrick. Mrs. Merlin Barb read the Scripture. Routine reports were given. A hat sale will be held at the next meeting.

Mrs. Edward Taschenberger offered prayer for a family of a deceased member, Mrs. Earl Irons. She read a spiritual poem and urged the members to live more for God.

A talk on Mexico was given by Mrs. Merle Reckley. She showed pictures and articles that had been purchased in Mexico. She also urged the members to keep praying for the missionaries and to support them.

St. Patrick's Day theme was used for the table decorations for the social hour, which followed the business session. Hostesses were Mrs. Edward Taschenberger, Mrs. Richard Hamilton, Mrs. Arthur Hook and Miss Alma Taschenberger. There were 31 members and four visitors present.

A fellowship dinner will be held by the WSCS of Davis Memorial Church at 6 tonight at the church.

Not Much Advance

LONDON (UPI) — The Daily Mail said Thursday Britain was not doing much better in road building than its ancient Roman occupiers. "The Romans built 4,000 miles of roads in 400 years—or 10 miles a year," the Mail said.

"Today we are building at the rate of 25 miles a year. It does not seem a big advance in 2,000 years."

Income Tax Deductions And How To Figure Them

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The size of your income tax bill can be altered considerably by the deductions you claim.

Uncle Sam will allow you a standard deduction amounting to 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income, within certain dollar limits. For many taxpayers whose deductible expenses aren't that high, this is a real break. However, others will save money by itemizing their deductions.

The safest course is to figure it both ways.

Note, however, that the standard deduction can't exceed $1,000 if you're single, or are married and file a joint return. If husband and wife file separate returns, the limit is $500 each under the standard deduction.

Adjusted gross income is the amount reported on line 11, page one of tax form 1040.

Deductions you can itemize include:

Contributions—Gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary groups but not including political organizations or labor unions. Contributions generally may not exceed 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income —30 per cent if one-third were to churches and tax-exempt schools and hospitals.

Interest — Interest paid on your home mortgage, bank loan or personal debt. On carrying charges on an installment purchase, figure out the average unpaid monthly balance during the tax year and deduct 6 per cent of that amount as interest.

Medical and dental expenses — You can include in medical expenses the cost of drugs and medicines exceeding 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, you can deduct only those medical expenses — doctor bills, etc., as well as drugs and medicines — which exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

The 3 per cent rule doesn't apply to persons 65 or older. The 1 per cent limit on drugs and medicines does apply, however. Also, there are dollar limits on deductible medical expenses, starting at $2,500.

Taxes — Most nonfederal taxes are deductible, including retail sales taxes, personal property and real estate taxes, state gasoline taxes and auto license fees. Not dog licenses, however.

Casualty losses and thefts—You can deduct any loss not covered by insurance if your property was damaged in an auto accident or by fire, storm, hurricane, flood or other natural force. Losses from theft can be deducted in the year of discovery. You can't deduct for misplacing something.

Child care — Up to $600 can be deducted by employed persons who are widowed, legally separated or divorced, for the care of dependents who are under 12 or are physically or mentally unable to care for themselves. The care must be necessary to allow the taxpayers to work or seek work.

A married woman can claim this deduction only on a joint return. And the deduction must be reduced by the amount that the couple's adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500.

Miscellaneous — This category includes small tools, safety equipment and special uniforms required in your work, dues to a union or professional society and fees to employment agencies.

To Visit Moscow?

LONDON (UPI) — The Communist Daily Worker said Thursday that opposition Labor Party leaders Hugh Gaitskell and Aneurin Bevan "are likely to accept" an invitation to visit Moscow later this year.

The invitation was extended by Mikhail Suslov, Communist Party secretary and member of the Presidium, who is in Britain with a Soviet delegation.

Nasser Joins Communist List Of Public Enemies

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic is learning the true value of Kremlin protestations that its economic aid for underdeveloped countries is given without political strings.

Nasser found the strings invisible until he started disagreeing with something the Soviet Union wants.

Now he has joined John Foster Dulles and Marshall Tito on the Communist list of public enemies.

For many years, ever since Britain and France replaced Turkish rule of the Middle East with a group of states lacking the power to stand alone, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Iraq have been in competition for Arab leadership. Primarily it was a personal competition among the kings.

Cairo had the widely powerful Moslem University; Arabia had Mecca, the spiritual center of Islam; and Iraq had Baghdad, the once great historical capital. Arabia and Iraq had the oil.

Nasser, attempting to organize a great pan-Arab movement to put himself and Egypt on top, has never been able to get at the oil, only real source of Arab wealth.

When a nationalist revolt occurred in Baghdad last year, much akin to the one he staged himself against King Farouk in Egypt, Nasser thought he was in.

He had received much help and was promised more by international communism, because he represented a thorn in the side of the Western powers.

But any place that is full of trouble and material wealth, especially any nearby place, is of great interest to the Kremlin, also.

Let's not get any ideas about expanding the U. A. R. in this direction, Khrushchev says to Nasser.

The Egyptian lacks the power to accomplish his aims, but can't give up publicly.

Now, if the usual pattern is followed, he is about to be strangled by the strings of economic aid. Having been emboldened to break with the West, he is scuttled by the East.

The West, following its usual practice of loving anyone who opposes communism, will now take Nasser back to its bosom for the sake of expediency.

Two reversals of policy can be expected. The Soviets won't build the Aswan dam, and the United States will.

Dr. Harry Marsh, former district superintendent, will assist along with several other Methodist ministers and the president of the Cumberland Ministerial Association, Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel here.

The church is moving its location from 127-31 Bedford Street to the 1700 block of Frederick Street.

Entertainment and dancing will follow in the downstairs lounge. Greetings will be extended by Paul W. Weisenmiller, post commander, and Mrs. Maude Banzhof, president of the auxiliary unit.

To Cut Prices

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — Russia's automobile industry has cut prices and eased credit terms in an effort to win back its former share of the Finnish car market.

Sales of Soviet-made cars dropped almost 80 per cent last year, from about 6,000 units in 1957 to just over 1,200 in 1958. Relaxed controls on imports of Western autos caused the big drop of Soviet sales from first to fourth place.

Russian Atomic Disaster Reported

VIENNA (UPI)—An explosion at a Soviet atomic reactor station near Swerdlowsk in the Urals a year ago contaminated a 5,000-square - mile area and caused 172 serious radiation cases among inhabitants, the Austrian newspaper Die Presse reported Wednesday.

The independent newspaper said 20 more persons were victims of severe eye diseases leading to partial blindness.

Twelve villages and a number of collective farms northwest of Swerdlowsk were vacated by order of the Soviet interior ministry, Die Presse reported. There was no official confirmation of the report.

Election Coverage

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's two television services have announced plans to cover the forthcoming general elections with party political telecasts.

The non - commercial British Broadcasting Corp. and the Commercial Independent Television Network, ending weeks of consultation with the three British political parties, said they would both screen the same programs simultaneously. No date has been set for the elections.

America's household cat and dog population has reached a record high of more than 49 million, 300 thousand.

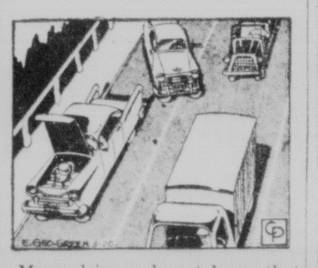
Wife Preservers

Babies need to relax as much as adults do. For a finicky eater, try a warm bath before dinner.



Many drivers do not know that the standard distress signal is a raised hood. It should bring aid as well as help protect you from rear-end collisions while you are waiting.

For centuries, Burma has been the world's leading source of fine rubies.

Musk oxen have provided a vital source of food for Artic explorers and twice saved the life of Rear Adm. Robert E. Peary, the discoverer of the North Pole.

STOP THE EASTER CRUELTY!

For over eighty years American humane societies have worked continually against the practice of selling baby chicks as Easter novelties for children. As the result of this effort, ordinances controlling the traffic in young birds have been passed in such progressive cities as Harrisburg and Peoria, Illinois; Kansas City, Missouri; Rochester, New York; and Scranton, Pennsylvania.

As the Easter season approaches, it is particularly saddening to think of the suffering inflicted on these fragile little creatures during this solemn religious celebration. Highly specialized facilities are needed for the proper care of young birds, and these facilities are certainly not available in the average home. The temporary entertainment which they bring to children is many times over-balanced by the injuries which are inflicted upon the birds, and their painful deaths.

The Animal Welfare Society is sponsoring an ordinance which in brief forbids the sale of dyed birds, forbids the sale of chicks and ducklings under four weeks of age in lots of less than six, and requires stores selling birds or rabbits to properly care for them. This ordinance in no way infringes on the rights of farmers or poultrymen. Albert Schweitzer once said that "he who is not actively kind, is cruel." You can help us win this crusade in two ways:

1. Write your city and county officials urging them to adopt this ordinance.
2. Do NOT buy animals or birds as Easter novelties for children.

Newborn Babies To Get Pennies During Coin Week

The Western Maryland Coin Club has voted to continue the practice of presenting a new penny in an album to each baby born at Memorial Hospital here during National Coin Week.

The club has decided to make the presentations for the third straight year during the special week, April 12-18.

During the past two years the club has given albums with new pennies to 45 babies. In addition the organization plans to award a nickel album in the event twins are born during National Coin Week.

Mrs. John Carroll and Mrs. John Malone head the presentation committee and will make the awards during Coin Week at Memorial Hospital.

At Wednesday's meeting a collection of 180 pennies, every one a different die and variety, was exhibited by a local coin collector. The condition of the coins ranged from very good to a very fine in the various varieties and from fine to uncirculated in some of the rarities and many of the later dated coins.

The local coin club, an affiliate of the Recreation Department, now has 70 members.

start on completion of the project and range from $770,000 the first year to $1,600,000 in the 50th year.

The local cost should be recoverable through water charges to industry and from other benefits, officials said.

The Army Engineers have said the projects would develop half of the capacity of the whole drainage basin, and would provide about 1,000 construction jobs during the five years of building, with employment perhaps twice that many in peak periods.

More Oratory

A new outbreak of oratory developed after Sen. Wheatley (D-Prince Georges), moved that this measure be postponed until Monday. Wheatley said he felt the senators should be given a chance to vote on the Hughes and Bertorelli amendments to the first bill before taking action on the second.

Malkus said Wheatley was trying to kill the second bill by the proposed delay.

A reaffirmation by Wheatley that he merely wanted to vote on the bills in their original order on the calendar brought an offer of apology from Malkus.

"It isn't necessary," smiled Wheatley, and the postponement was granted.

Bolt & Forge May Increase Work Force

The B&O Bolt and Forge Shops here will probably increase its work force as the result of announcement by the railroad of a new car production project for the shops at Dubois, Pa.

Of 500 new 70-ton gondolas to be built at Dubois, 100 of them will be specially fitted for handling coil steel, 50 for bar steel and 10 for tinplate. The Bolt and Forge shops here will fabricate the skids which will be assembled in the cars at Dubois.

Officials of the local shops said other parts for the cars are also being produced here.

Production at the Dubois car shops will start May 6 with 10 units per day scheduled. The specially-fitted cars will be 52 feet, six inches long.

This newest authorization for the Dubois shops follows closely an order for 500 new 50-ton, 33 foot hopper cars, production of which started this month. The various brake assemblies and other parts are being fabricated here.

The B&O also announced that the last of 1,000 gondolas of 70-ton capacity which were built at Dubois since November of last year will be placed in service this month.

YMCA Board Defers Survey Of Building

The Central YMCA Board of directors last night decided to defer a survey of the building to determine the cost of improvements and repairs.

The YMCA Auxiliary at a recent meeting had agreed to finance the survey of the building, but the board last night accepted the recommendation of the executive committee, to delay the survey for the time being.

Much of the remainder of last night's meeting at the YMCA was given over to a report by Dr. William R. Allen, president, on his recent trip to Princeton University where heads of YMCAs in New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C., met to discuss problems.

A membership report by Earl Nonnenmann, chairman of the committee, indicated the present drive has added 54 new members to the YMCA and 33 new members to the Y-sponsored Rec Club. The organization hopes to pass 100 members before the end of March.

It also was announced at the session that the Central Atlantic Area conference will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, on April 10, 11 and 12. Dr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Nonnenmann, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Eves, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bishop and B. U. Smith, general secretary, plan to attend this conference. Other members also are expected to attend.

A report also was made that the repair of windows in the women's locker room has been completed and a number of the dormitory rooms have been repainted.

Dr. Allen presided at last night's meeting, at which 15 members of the board were in attendance.

District Orders 1,918,000 Trees

More of the 1,918,000 trees to be delivered to this four-county Western Maryland districts are expected to arrive today from the State Nursery at Harmans in Anne Arundel County, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

A second and final truckload of more than 100,000 trees is expected here for distribution to landowners in Allegany County who have ordered them. This county is listed for 278,000 trees and the first shipment came last Friday.

Garrett County, which has received two truckloads toward a 1,121,000 order is due for another truckload today.

Washington and Frederick counties to the east, which have an earlier growing season, already have received all of their trees. Frederick County was down for 340,000 trees and Washington County for 179,000.

House Passes County Bills

Two bills sponsored by the Allegany County delegation were passed by the House of Delegates yesterday and were sent to the Senate.

One measure, HB 673, would entitle the sheriff to collect 75 cents a day from the County Commissioners for board and keep of each prisoner in his charge.

The other, HB 674, would authorize the County Commissioners to provide ambulance service for people certified by the Welfare Board to be medically indigent.

On Wednesday the House passed House Bill 379, which would allow year-round fishing for bass and walleye. Also passed was HB 367, sponsored by Del. William Walsh and six other delegates, which would make it a misdemeanor for railroads to fail to keep their rights-of-way reasonably free from debris and vegetation.

Reds Crack Down On Tipping

"Public exposure" is the treatment to be accorded citizens of Bulgaria who insist upon perpetuating the nasty capitalist scheme of tipping, according to information received in neighboring Yugoslavia. Gratuities are degrading, both to the giver and receiver, say the communist overlords, and therefore are to be condemned.

The extent to which officials of the Russian satellite are conducting their anti-tipping campaign reveals the widespread acceptance of the custom by the Bulgarian people.

Meetings are to be held in all barber shops and other places of business, with "pep talks" to point out the errant ways of tippers. In the event this is not successful, "administrative measures" will be taken against those who accept tips and "public exposure" is threatened for those who give them.

Tipping has long been an honorable custom in nations of the West, and many Eastern countries before their domination by Russia, and no free man can understand the irritability expressed by the communist mind over such a commonplace practice. Any remnant of the capitalist system of rewards and incentives becomes suspect to the communist mind, and is consequently marked for extinction.

It is unfortunately true that to many people tipping has lost its meaning as a special compensation for efficient service or individual favor. In many metropolitan areas it has become an expected service charge and quite understandably has provoked mild resentment from those who find themselves tipping for poor service.

But it takes a distorted mind to despise the practice of showing appreciation by offering a material gift to the point of threatening the population of a country with reprisals if the custom continues. The next time a person on this side of the iron curtain feels inclined to grumble about tips, he might remember that the decision is his, not the government's.

Quick Work

Edward R. Murrow did his piece on the business of the call girls on January 19; the following comment was sent out from Peking on January 21:

"American businessmen are using prostitution on a lavish scale to promote business deals, according to New York news reports. This was revealed on a program over the Columbia Broadcasting System radio network on Monday night. The narrator of the program, Edward R. Murrow, said that the number of 'call girls' being used to settle big business deals was a 'sizable' one, 'perhaps 30,000 in New York alone.' He added that 'some companies maintain one or two call girls on their payroll as part of their public relations staff.'

"A big executive who is the president of a large international firm admitted shamelessly over the program that 'there is absolutely no doubt that prostitution does help business.' He said that 'in most cases the buyers are married with families. Well, we will not call it exactly blackmail but . . . (NCNA ellipsis) it is a weapon I hold . . . (NCNA ellipsis) and it is a good weapon to have.'

"The 'call girls,' it was said, came from all walks of life who needed money. A psychologist said that a large number of them 'end up suicides, incurable addicts, or in mental institutions of various kinds.' " (NCNA are the letters for the service in Peking issuing the item.)

This is an extreme example of how quickly anything anti-American is picked up by enemy countries to do the United States damage.

Of course, there is a bit of hypocrisy in this item, for it is impossible to believe that the traditional system of sing-song girls, concubines and prostitutes has altogether disappeared in Communist China.

The sing-song girl used to be an entertainer who attended stag dinners and who sang and talked pleasantly and knew everybody's business. Sing-song girls were often but not always prostitutes but they were never chaste. Many of them became concubines; that is secondary wives without the benefit of marriage. A man could own as many concubines as he could afford to keep. Many of the concubines were more beautiful, more educated, more interesting than the lawfully wedded wife who was married to her spouse early in life and often without either of them knowing the other.

As politicians of the old regime always transacted their business at meals, sing-song girls were often present to lighten the mood of the transacting gentlemen.

Sing-song girls were often purchased in their childhood and were trained for their task. Some of them were even sent to schools to learn to speak English or French. They were taught manners and deportment. If a man wanted one as a concubine, he had to free the light of his eyes from her contractual bond to her pimp or her madame. In a word, she was virtually a slave although not regarded as such.

Children born to concubines were legitimate. It is a fact that some of the most outstanding women in Chinese history were concubines.

I do not know what has happened to this elaborate system of polygamy under the Communists in China. It was never regarded as immoral except by Christian Chinese and among them, I knew some very notable backsliders.

An ancient system is not readily removed by edict. Besides, the prostitutes in large cities in China were, back in my days, organized into unions to protect their rights and for political purposes. Even if all restaurants, teahouses and such places have been nationalized by the Communists, there must be some form of amusement and recreation beyond reciting party slogans and singing party songs. Despite all this tradition here and there, any notice that makes materialistic America look mean and selfish and inhuman is given the widest circulation.

Red China may yet adopt a puritanical code such as Soviet Russia has adopted. In Soviet Russia, hooliganism is not tolerated, is, in fact, seriously punished. Hooliganism amounts to acts against the community. For instance, the recent snow-ball fight between Yale students and a St. Patrick's Day parade in New Haven would be regarded as hooliganism and the students would be severely punished. If China goes puritanical, it will indeed be an effective revolution.

U.S. Adopts Official Berlin Policy Based On Belief Russia Is Bluffing

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — To understand the USA position during the Eisenhower-Macmillan conversations, it's necessary to understand the position taken by the administration at an extremely important National Security Council meeting three weeks ago. This meeting also helps explain the vigorous and somewhat confusing statements made by the President at his last press conference.

The decision taken at the Security Council meeting is all-important. Briefly it was this: Premier Khrushchev is bluffing over Berlin; there will be no military showdown.

This decision was not plucked out of the thin air. It was based upon the following intelligence:

1. The Red Army marshals do not want war.

2. The Soviet Presidium does not want war.

3. Although Khrushchev has talked about war and even threatened war over Berlin, he personally does not want war. Even if he did, he could not afford to buck both the Red Army leaders and the Presidium to precipitate war.

A careful study of Khrushchev's statements shows that he has threatened war or the equivalent of war on at least four occasions. When the British and French landed at Suez he threatened to rain rockets on London and Paris. Again when the United States landed troops in Lebanon, Khrushchev talked of military retaliation. And when Quemoy was under Red Chinese fire, Mr. K again waved the military big stick. Finally he threatened war if the United States used armed force to open the highway to Berlin.

Mr. K Cries Wolf

In none of these cases, so far, has Mr. K carried out his threat. True, Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., got panicky during the Suez crisis (Dulles being ill) and President Eisenhower phoned Sir Anthony Eden demanding that British troops be withdrawn.

True also, in the Quemoy crisis, the United States was careful to keep Chinese Nationalist planes away from the Chinese Communist mainland. Simultaneously, however, we know that Khrushchev was careful to restrain the Chinese Reds from taking any action which might precipitate war.

Weighing all these factors, the National Security Council decided Khrushchev was gambling over Berlin and that under no circumstances would he risk a nuclear war. He might, it was decided, risk a local war with ground troops, since he had 22 Red Army divisions in East Germany against only five American divisions in West Germany. But it was decided he would not risk nuclear war, and that the best way to call Khrushchev's bluff was to make it clear that in any showdown we would use atomic bombs.

This was why President Eisenhower at his last press conference talked at length about nuclear war and threw down any use of ground troops. It is not unusual for the President to ramble at a press conference. But at the last conference he turned aside newsmen's attempts to change the subject and kept on talking at great length about the fact that we would rely wholly on nuclear weapons, not on ground troops.

The President, incidentally, was angry at his old comrade, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, for telling Congress about the need to mobilize for the Berlin crisis and the necessity of getting more ground troops. This conveyed just the opposite impression desired by the National Security Council; and was another reason why Ike went out of his way to throw down the need of troops.

However, his remarks, when cabled to Europe, cut the ground out from under Gen. Lauris Norstad, U. S. Commander of NATO, who has been arguing, begging and cajoling NATO members to fill up their quota of troops.

To put the entire Berlin picture in proper focus, therefore, White House advisers decided that the President should make a telecast to the nation from a carefully prepared manuscript, not from memory as he does at a press conference.

This is the background of White House statements on Berlin during the past week; also the background guiding the President in his talks with Prime Minister Macmillan.

Time Is Against Us

One significant reason why the National Security Council decided Russia does not want war over Berlin was the estimate that Russian strength is on the rise and the Kremlin can only gain by waiting.

Thus, one year from now, or especially two years from now, Russia would have a far better chance for a military showdown. This time Russia might not be bluffing.

This rise in Russian military strength is shown by the secret graphs in the still unpublished Gaither Report warning the administration that the USA is in danger of becoming a Second-Class Power.

Thus the administration's decision that Russia does not want war was based on facts exactly opposite from those which the President has been giving the American people. He has been giving the impression that we are fully and adequately prepared.

Foreign Aid Helps Keep Nation Out Of War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—If the American people could express in a single sentence their most important wish today, it would be: "Keep us out of war at any cost."

Yet, when out of a national budget of 77 billion dollars, the President asks for $3,930,000,000 to keep American boys from fighting abroad, and calls for a "mutual security program" to bolster our allies, this is derided as a "foreign aid" program or a "give-away."

The label is wrong. It's really a "keep-us-out-of-war" program.

Few of the critics realize the explosive situation that exists in the world today or how interrelated America's fate is with the other free countries—or, if they do realize it, they fail to see how many billions more our defenses would cost if America had to do the job alone. That's why President Eisenhower's television address Monday night was so important to the country.

For the President had no sooner announced last week that he was asking Congress for $3,930,000,000 when from Capitol Hill—mostly from Democrats — came predictions that the expenditure would be cut by a billion. Acting Secretary of State Herter promptly said that if any such reduction were made it would "serve notice on the world that we are weakening in our determination."

Just why some of the legislators regard any money spent abroad as either a gift or a throw away is hard to understand unless they think the American people really can be misled by such distortions. Certainly, as sometimes charged, there's waste in the spending of American funds in other countries because the United States cannot always control how other governments disburse the money they receive. But, conceding that there is some waste, it is a fact that in war itself there is even greater waste. The true test is whether, on the whole, war is prevented, and thus far the United States has managed with the help of strong allies to keep us out of a third World War.

It sometimes isn't realized how much America's own allies have been spending since the close of World War II. Rather the impression is fostered by the critics that the United States is putting up all the money for international defense or mutual security. The President in his message a few days ago to Congress said:

"Over the year of our combined effort, these allies and friends have spent on these forces some $141 billion, more than six times the $22 billion we have contributed in military assistance. During calendar year 1958 they contributed $19 billion of their own funds to the support of these forces . . .

"Without the strength of our allies our nation would be turned into an armed camp and our people subjected to a heavy draft and an annual cost of many billions of dollars above our present military budget."

What perhaps isn't generally understood in America is that economic assistance plays a vital role in maintaining the stability of other nations. If there were no stable governments among our allies America would not have strategic bases overseas. The President said on this point:

"Through the mutual security program our friends among the free world nations make available to us for the use of our forces some 250 bases in the most strategic locations, many of them of vital importance. They support ground forces totaling more than 5 million men stationed at points where danger of local aggression is most acute, based on their own soil and prepared to defend their own homes. They man air forces of about 30,000 aircraft of which nearly 14,000 are jets, 23 times the jet strength of 1950 when the program started. They also have naval forces totaling 2,500 combat vessels with some 1,700 in active fleets or their supporting activities."

Dissenting members of Congress often concede that the military program is logical but they claim the economic support abroad is questionable and this they would cut. In doing so they would strike a blow at the morale of the countries affected. For without economic stability, political chaos ensues, and then the Communists find fertile ground for exploitation or even overthrow of existing governments. The Communist intrusion in Iraq lately, for example, has unsettled the entire Middle East. The Communist tactics in Africa, Asia and Latin America have been supported by Soviet measures in the economic field.

So it's a dangerous international situation which calls for American expenditures to bolster here and abroad our defenses—politically, economically and militarily. From a strong alliance, however, comes firmness in a crisis as is the case today when Moscow is testing the west. The President says the West will not surrender. He can say this convincingly because the western alliance in the last ten years has been built on a strong foundation. It is to maintain that strength that the "mutual security program," or what might better be called a "keep-us-out-of-war" program, is really directed.

Lavish allowances for running Congressional offices are a source of income for many lawmakers. It's easy to include friends and relatives on the payroll at handsome salaries . . . as witness the case of Rep. Steven V. Carter of Iowa, who put his 19-year-old son, a part-time college student, on the payroll for $11,873 a year. When this came to light he said he would cut the young man's salary to $6,400.

Unless public protest is too strong another provision costing taxpayers $6 million a year is likely to sneak through. This little gem would permit members of the House of Representatives, who already are allowed $30,000 a year or more to pay their office help, to hire another administrative assistant at a salary of $14,000 per year.

Many Congressional offices are lavish to the point of ostentation. Wastebaskets in the new Senate Office building, for example, cost $60 each. A Senator may sit in a chair that has literally cost the taxpayers several hundred dollars.

Both Representatives and Senators get Turkish baths and the use of a gymnasium for free! A lavish swimming pool in the new Senate Office Building is for Senators only. Representatives are unhappy because Senators have a free refrigerator in their offices, while members of the lower house do not.

For only $10.83 a month, a Congressman gets a whooping big, $20,000 life insurance policy. Taxpayers pay the rest of the premium. The lawmakers have restaurants where you can order a big meal for 90 cents. Naturally, these are run at a huge loss—with you, the taxpayer, picking up the tab, of course.

Travel allowances, lavish postal allowances, free mailing privileges, special studios on Capitol Hill, where Congressmen can make television films and radio recordings at a fraction of their true cost; free medical care, free hospital care at Army or Navy hospitals, free or cut rate haircuts at barbershops subsidized by the taxpayers, low cost beauty shops for the lady members of Congress, and for Congressional wives, free flowers for Congressional functions, "borrowed" from the Botanical Gardens, free trips to Europe—or anywhere else in the world—and plenty of free spending money in "counterpart" funds obtained from the U. S. embassies abroad —these are only a few of the "extras" your Congressman receives.

The big boon to medicine is Blue Cross. It eases the burden of institutional care for the family, for the hospital, for the doctor. In 1957, there were 85 of these plans around the country. They took in more than $1,280,000,000 in earned subscription income. This makes Blue Cross big business.

All of them are non-profit. On the average, 06.01 percent of all premiums is used for administrative costs. This comes to $76,800,000, which will buy a lot of tongue depressors. Still, when it is divided among the 85 Blue Cross Plans, the average is only $900,000 per year.

I've been a member of Associated Hospital Service of New York since November, 1939. I haven't needed it often, but when those bad times came, the bills were paid promptly. One three-week stay in Holy Name Hospital, Teaneck, N. J. cost me $4.05—in phone bills.

The original premium, as I recall, was $9 and some odd cents each three months. This covered my family—a wife, two daughters and me. Today, the premium is $18.36 and it covers one daughter and me. Blue Cross is not raising the cost without reason.

It is caught between some irresponsible doctors, some greedy patients, and some hospitals which would close their doors if it were not for Blue Cross money. Doctors are recommending institutional care in cases where, if the low-income patient didn't have Blue Cross, two or three house calls would suffice.

Surgery has gone a little wild. Hysterectomies, gall bladder operations, Smithwick sections and resections are a medical conveyor belt. The patients are worse. A family head will have one policy in his place of business, one at home, and collect from both and pocket the difference.

Hospitals add wings to their big structures and put in 75 or 100 additional beds. Still, bed space is at a premium. Are we getting sicker as a nation? Hardly. Our doctors are slamming more people into hospitals with less reason.

One of the brave men who speaks out is J. Albert Durgom, Executive Vice President of the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey. This state has but one Blue Cross Plan, and, in 1957, had 2,083,415 members. Mr. Durgom is one of the early fathers of Blue Cross. He knows the field.

He says that the United States, in 25 years, has gone from "empty hospital beds to an all time over-use of hospitals now." Mr. Durgom complains that too many patients are admitted for "check ups" and "bed rest." In 1957, all the Blue Cross organizations paid $1,210,591,526 to 6,616 hospitals to admit and treat 9,545,087 patients out of 55,959,000 subscribers.

That's a lot of hospitalization. "The answer," says Mr. Durgom, "lies basically in the hands of the medical profession. . . . Such authority must remai. within the professional judgment of the physician who bears the responsibility for the care of his patient, but such decision must extend beyond sheer convenience of the patient and the physician, with a disciplinary set of standards by the medical staff of the hospital. . ."

He does not indict medicine as a profession for these abuses. Some doctors are careless, just as some lawyers are—or engineers. Mr. Durgom claims that organized medicine will police and discipline its careless members or face the threat of government regulation. I do not believe that this is true. This is the old Socialized Medicine bugaboo.

It was beaten into the ground in the Truman Administration and, in my opinion, it will not rise again. Still, as Durgom points out, "a realistic approach to reasonable fees and curtailment of abuses of health insurance benefits are vital" to the voluntary plan.

Hospitals have jacked their charges up and up and up. So have doctors. But then, the cost of everything has gone up and the increase of house visits from $3 in 1920 to $10 in 1959 is not as great as the increase in the cost of household commodities or in earning power.

Mr. Durgom makes a good point. The whole field of American Medicine can be injured by the greed and irresponsibility of a minority of doctors and hospitals.

Doctor, heal thyself. . .

Only Mother May Know Why Baby Is Crying

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Dr. Keith Hammond, when mothers call about a howling baby in the wee hours of the morning, asys, "Does he cry as if he were in pain or is he just fussing?" The mother almost always seems to know when a baby with a cold has earache or is merely uncomfortable or miserable because of a stuffy nose.

A group of graduate and undergraduate nurses were placed within hearing distance of infants who cried because of hunger, sudden change of position, restraint of the head, or pain. Each nurse was asked to write down what she thought was the cause. All failed. Apparently it takes a mother or an astute physician to recognize the distinctive cries of the sick and of the well child. This differentiation must be experienced; it cannot be taught.

Why do babies cry? At birth, a hearty yowl expands the infant's lungs. Thereafter crying is a sign of pain, discomfort from a wet diaper, hunger, frustration, fear, boredom, or various other causes. But aside from these factors, the time spent in crying is related to the care the tyke receives and to parental behavior and tensions.

One group of pediatricians studied the crying habits of 18 infant sons and daughters of students living in a housing project. The parents of the babies who cried excessively did not respond quickly or appropriately to the needs of the youngsters. These babies also had more intestinal disorders, regurgitation, and growth failures. In addition, the parents did more floorwalking at night.

The late Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich, of the Mayo Clinic, once asked a group of mothers to keep tab on the number of minutes their infants cried every day. The range varied from 48.2 minutes to 243 minutes. The problem boiled down almost entirely to the attention given the tot. The more care, the less crying.

In another series of infants who cried because of colic it was found that 46 per cent of the trouble was traced to family tensions. All parents should give their offspring love and affection. Those who attempt to uncover the cause of crying are rewarded in many ways. The least is less crying at night and more sleep for all. Mother and Dad awaken refreshed and in better shape to do their job and take care of junior.

Mark Twain once was allowed to buy stock in a publishing house, and boasted to a friend, "This will net me a fortune. They've let me in on the ground floor."

Ten months later the publishing house went bankrupt, and the friend taunted, "I thought you said they let you in on the ground floor?" "So they did," maintained Twain, "but there was a son of a gun in the basement!"

Mark Twain explained another time that all true humorists find themselves in the same position: "We have to make people, who would otherwise hang us, believe that we are joking."

Reds Crack Down On Tipping

"Public exposure" is the treatment to be accorded citizens of Bulgaria who insist upon perpetuating the nasty capitalist scheme of tipping, according to information received in neighboring Yugoslavia. Gratuities are degrading, both to the giver and receiver, say the communist overlords, and therefore are to be condemned.

The extent to which officials of the Russian satellite are conducting their anti-tipping campaign reveals the widespread acceptance of the custom by the Bulgarian people.

Meetings are to be held in all barber shops and other places of business, with "pep talks" to point out the errant ways of tippers. In the event this is not successful, "administrative measures" will be taken against those who accept tips and "public exposure" is threatened for those who give them.

Tipping has long been an honorable custom in nations of the West, and many Eastern countries before their domination by Russia, and no free man can understand the irritability expressed by the communist mind over such a commonplace practice. Any remnant of the capitalist system of rewards and incentives becomes suspect to the communist mind, and is consequently marked for extinction.

It is unfortunately true that to many people tipping has lost its meaning as a special compensation for efficient service or individual favor. In many metropolitan areas it has become an expected service charge and quite understandably has provoked mild resentment from those who find themselves tipping for poor service.

But it takes a distorted mind to despise the practice of showing appreciation by offering a material gift to the point of threatening the population of a country with reprisals if the custom continues. The next time a person on this side of the iron curtain feels inclined to grumble about tips, he might remember that the decision is his, not the government's.

Quick Work

Edward R. Murrow did his piece on the business of the call girls on January 19; the following comment was sent out from Peking on January 21:

"American businessmen are using prostitution on a lavish scale to promote business deals, according to New York news reports. This was revealed on a program over the Columbia Broadcasting System radio network on Monday night. The narrator of the program, Edward R. Murrow, said that the number of 'call girls' being used to settle big business deals was a 'sizable' one, 'perhaps 30,000 in New York alone.' He added that 'some companies maintain one or two call girls on their payroll as part of their public relations staff.'

"A big executive who is the president of a large international firm admitted shamelessly over the program that 'there is absolutely no doubt that prostitution does help business.' He said that 'in most cases the buyers are married with families. Well, we will not call it exactly blackmail but . . . (NCNA ellipsis) it is a weapon I hold . . . (NCNA ellipsis) and it is a good weapon to have.'

"The 'call girls,' it was said, came from all walks of life who needed money. A psychologist said that a large number of them 'end up suicides, incurable addicts, or in mental institutions of various kinds.'" (NCNA are the letters for the service in Peking issuing the item.)

This is an extreme example of how quickly anything anti-American is picked up by enemy countries to do the United States damage.

Of course, there is a bit of hypocrisy in this item, for it is impossible to believe that the traditional system of sing-song girls, concubines and prostitutes has altogether disappeared in Communist China.

The sing-song girl used to be an entertainer who attended stag dinners and who sang and talked pleasantly and knew everybody's business. Sing-song girls were often but not always prostitutes but they were never chaste. Many of them became concubines; that is secondary wives without the benefit of marriage. A man could own as many concubines as he could afford to keep. Many of the concubines were more beautiful, more educated, more interesting than the lawfully wedded wife who was married to her spouse early in life and often without either of them knowing the other.

As politicians of the old regime always transacted their business at meals, sing-song girls were often present to lighten the mood of the transacting gentlemen.

Sing-song girls were often purchased in their childhood and were trained for their task. Some of them were even sent to schools to learn to speak English or French. They were taught manners and deportment. If a man wanted one as a concubine, he had to free the light of his eyes from her contractual bond to her pimp or her madame. In a word, she was virtually a slave although not regarded as such.

Children born to concubines were legitimate. It is a fact that some of the most outstanding women in Chinese history were concubines.

I do not know what has happened to this elaborate system of polygamy under the Communists in China. It was never regarded as immoral except by Christian Chinese and among them, I knew some very notable backsliders.

An ancient system is not readily removed by edict. Besides, the prostitutes in large cities in China were, back in my days, organized into unions to protect their rights and for political purposes. Even if all restaurants, teahouses and such places have been nationalized by the Communists, there must be some form of amusement and recreation beyond reciting party slogans and singing party songs. Despite all this tradition here and there, any notice that makes materialistic America look mean and selfish and inhuman is given the widest circulation.

Red China may yet adopt a puritanical code such as Soviet Russia has adopted. In Soviet Russia, hooliganism is not tolerated, is, in fact, seriously punished. Hooliganism amounts to acts against the community. For instance, the recent snow-ball fight between Yale students and a St. Patrick's Day parade in New Haven would be regarded as hooliganism and the students would be severely punished. If China goes puritanical, it will indeed be an effective revolution.

U.S. Adopts Official Berlin Policy Based On Belief Russia Is Bluffing

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — To understand the USA position during the Eisenhower-Macmillan conversations, it's necessary to understand the position taken by the administration at an extremely important National Security Council meeting three weeks ago. This meeting also helps explain the vigorous and somewhat confusing statements made by the President at his last press conference.

The decision taken at the Security Council meeting is all-important. Briefly it was this: Premier Khrushchev is bluffing over Berlin; there will be no military showdown.

This decision was not plucked out of the thin air. It was based upon the following intelligence:

1. The Red Army marshals do not want war.

2. The Soviet Presidium does not want war.

3. Although Khrushchev has talked about war and even threatened war over Berlin, he personally does not want war. Even if he did, he could not afford to buck both the Red Army leaders and the Presidium to precipitate war.

A careful study of Khrushchev's statements shows that he has threatened war or the equivalent of war on at least four occasions. When the British and French landed at Suez he threatened to rain rockets on London and Paris. Again when the United States landed troops in Lebanon, Khrushchev talked of military retaliation. And when Quemoy was under Red Chinese fire, Mr. K again waved the military big stick. Finally he threatened war if the United States used armed force to open the highway to Berlin.

Mr. K Cries Wolf

In none of these cases, so far, has Mr. K carried out his threat. True, Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., got panicky during the Suez crisis (Dulles being ill) and President Eisenhower phoned Sir Anthony Eden demanding that British troops be withdrawn.

True also, in the Quemoy crisis, the United States was careful to keep Chinese Nationalist planes away from the Chinese Communist mainland. Simultaneously, however, we know that Khrushchev was careful to restrain the Chinese Reds from taking any action which might precipitate war.

Weighing all these factors, the National Security Council decided Khrushchev was gambling over Berlin and that under no circumstances would he risk a nuclear war. He might, it was decided, risk a local war with ground troops, since he had 22 Red Army divisions in East Germany against only five American divisions in West Germany. But it was decided he would not risk nuclear war, and that the best way to call Khrushchev's bluff was to make it clear that in any showdown we would use atomic bombs.

This was why President Eisenhower at his last press conference talked at length about nuclear war and threw down any use of ground troops. It is not unusual for the President to ramble at a press conference. But at the last conference he turned aside newsmen's attempts to change the subject and kept on talking at great length about the fact that we would rely wholly on nuclear weapons, not on ground troops.

The President, incidentally, was angry at his old comrade, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, for telling Congress about the need to mobilize for the Berlin crisis and the necessity of getting more ground troops. This conveyed just the opposite impression desired by the National Security Council; and was another reason why Ike went out of his way to throw down the need of troops.

However, his remarks, when cabled to Europe, cut the ground out from under Gen. Lauris Norstad, U. S. Commander of NATO, who has been arguing, begging and cajoling NATO members to fill up their quota of troops.

To put the entire Berlin picture in proper focus, therefore, White House advisers decided that the President should make a telecast to the nation from a carefully prepared manuscript, not from memory as he does at a press conference.

This is the background of White House statements on Berlin during the past week; also the background guiding the President in his talks with Prime Minister Macmillan.

Time Is Against Us

One significant reason why the National Security Council decided Russia does not want war over Berlin was the estimate that Russian strength is on the rise and the Kremlin can only gain by waiting.

Thus, one year from now, or especially two years from now, Russia would have a far better chance for a military showdown. This time Russia might not be bluffing.

This rise in Russian military strength is shown by the secret graphs in the still unpublished Gaither Report warning the administration that the USA is in danger of becoming a Second-Class Power.

Thus the administration's decision that Russia does not want war was based on facts exactly opposite from those which the President has been giving the American people. He has been giving the impression that we are fully and adequately prepared.

Foreign Aid Helps Keep Nation Out Of War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—If the American people could express in a single sentence their most important wish today, it would be: "Keep us out of war at any cost."

Yet, when out of a national budget of 77 billion dollars, the President asks for $3,930,000,000 to keep American boys from fighting abroad, and calls for a "mutual security program" to bolster our allies, this is derided as a "foreign aid" program or a "give-away."

The label is wrong. It's really a "keep-us-out-of-war" program.

Few of the critics realize the explosive situation that exists in the world today or how interrelated America's fate is with the other free countries—or, if they do realize it, they fail to see how many billions more our defenses would cost if America had to do the job alone. That's why President Eisenhower's television address Monday night was so important to the country.

For the President had no sooner announced last week that he was asking Congress for $3,930,000,000 when from Capitol Hill—mostly from Democrats — came predictions that the expenditure would be cut by a billion. Acting Secretary of State Herter promptly said that if any such reduction were made it would "serve notice on the world that we are weakening in our determination."

Just why some of the legislators regard any money spent abroad as either a gift or a throw away is hard to understand unless they think the American people really can be misled by such distortions. Certainly, as sometimes charged, there's waste in the spending of American funds in other countries because the United States cannot always control how other governments disburse the money they receive. But, conceding that there is some waste, it is a fact that in war itself there is even greater waste. The true test is whether, on the whole, war is prevented, and thus far the United States has managed with the help of strong allies to keep us out of a third World War.

It sometimes isn't realized how much America's own allies have been spending since the close of World War II. Rather the impression is fostered by the critics that the United States is putting up all the money for international defense or mutual security. The President in his message a few days ago to Congress said:

"Over the year of our combined effort, these allies and friends have spent on these forces some $141 billion, more than six times the $22 billion we have contributed in military assistance. During calendar year 1958 they contributed $19 billion of their own funds to the support of these forces . . .

"Without the strength of our allies our nation would be turned into an armed camp and our people subjected to a heavy draft and an annual cost of many billions of dollars above our present military budget."

What perhaps isn't generally understood in America is that economic assistance plays a vital role in maintaining the stability of other nations. If there were no stable governments among our allies America would not have strategic bases overseas. The President said on this point:

"Through the mutual security program our friends among the free world nations make available to us for the use of our forces some 250 bases in the most strategic locations, many of them of vital importance. They support ground forces totaling more than 5 million men stationed at points where danger of local aggression is most acute, based on their own soil and prepared to defend their own homes. They man air forces of about 30,000 aircraft of which nearly 14,000 are jets, 23 times the jet strength of 1950 when the program started. They also have naval forces totaling 2,500 combat vessels with some 1,700 in active fleets or their supporting activities."

Dissenting members of Congress often concede that the military program is logical but they claim the economic support abroad is questionable and this they would cut. In doing so they would strike a blow at the morale of the countries affected. For without economic stability, political chaos ensues, and then the Communists find fertile ground for exploitation or even overthrow of existing governments. Such authority must remain within the professional judgment of the physician who bears the responsibility for the care of his patient, but such decision must extend beyond sheer convenience of the patient and the physician, with a disciplinary set of standards by the medical staff of the hospital. . ."

He does not indict medicine as a profession for these abuses. Some doctors are careless, just as some lawyers are—or engineers. Mr. Durgom claims that organized medicine will police and discipline its careless members or face the threat of government regulation. I do not believe that this is true. This is the old Socialized Medicine bugaboo.

It was beaten into the ground in the Truman Administration and, in my opinion, it will not rise again. Still, as Durgom points out, "a realistic approach to reasonable fees and curtailment of abuses of health insurance benefits are vital" to the voluntary plan.

Hospitals have jacked their charges up and up and up. So have doctors. But then, the cost of everything has gone up and the increase of house visits from $3 in 1920 to $10 in 1959 is not as great as the increase in the cost of household commodities or in earning power.

Mr. Durgom makes a good point. The whole field of American Medicine can be injured by the greed and irresponsibility of a minority of doctors and hospitals.

Doctor, heal thyself. . .

Only Mother May Know Why Baby Is Crying

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Dr. Keith Hammond, when mothers call about a howling baby in the wee hours of the morning, asys, "Does he cry as if he were in pain or is he just fussing?" The mother almost always seems to know when a baby with a cold has earache or is merely uncomfortable or miserable because of a stuffy nose.

A group of graduate and undergraduate nurses were placed within hearing distance of infants who cried because of hunger, sudden change of position, restraint of the head, or pain. Each nurse was asked to write down what she thought was the cause. All failed. Apparently it takes a mother or an astute physician to recognize the distinctive cries of the sick and of the well child. This differentiation must be experienced; it cannot be taught.

Why do babies cry? At birth, a hearty yowl expands the infant's lungs. Thereafter crying is a sign of pain, discomfort from a wet diaper, hunger, frustration, fear, boredom, or various other causes. But aside from these factors, the time spent in crying is related to the care the tyke receives and to parental behavior and tensions.

One group of pediatricians studied the crying habits of 18 infant sons and daughters of students living in a housing project. The parents of the babies who cried excessively did not respond quickly or appropriately to the needs of the youngsters. These babies also had more intestinal disorders, regurgitation, and growth failures. In addition, the parents did more floorwalking at night.

The late Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich, of the Mayo Clinic, once asked a group of mothers to keep tab on the number of minutes their infants cried every day. The range varied from 48.2 minutes to 243 minutes. The problem boiled down almost entirely to the attention given the tot. The more care, the less crying.

In another series of infants who cried because of colic it was found that 46 per cent of the trouble was traced to family tensions. All parents should give their offspring love and affection. Those who attempt to uncover the cause of crying are rewarded in many ways. The least is less crying at night and more sleep for all. Mother and Dad awaken refreshed and in better shape to do their job and take care of junior.

TOMORROW: Fever blister protection.

Try And Stop Me

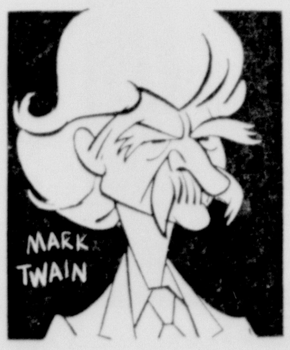
By Bennett Cerf

Mark Twain once was allowed to buy stock in a publishing house, and boasted to a friend, "This will net me a fortune. They've let me in on the ground floor."

Ten months later the publishing house went bankrupt, and the friend taunted, "I thought you said they let you in on the ground floor?" "So they did," maintained Twain, "but there was a son of a gun in the basement!"

Mark Twain explained another time that all true humorists find themselves in the same position: "We have to make people, who would otherwise hang us, believe that we are joking."



A tourist wandered into a flea circus and watched spellbound while the head flea did his tricks. "Did you educate that flea yourself?" he asked the owner of the show.

"I did," was the proud reply. "I raised it from a pup."

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

WASHINGTON — Both Dr. Willard F. Libby, of the Atomic Energy Commission, and General Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of research and development for the Army, acknowledge that Soviet Russia's technological progress in this space age has been enhanced by espionage activity since World War II. These top-level officials have differing opinions as to the extent to which the Communists were benefitted by this "cloak and dagger" effort, but each agrees that the stealing of secrets has definitely taken place to the detriment of the United States.

Top American counterintelligence and security officers 18 months ago told the Congress that the Federal Government cannot remove known Communists and professional saboteurs from classified plants producing parts and component sections for priority missiles and other essential industrial areas. Experience has shown that a twisted wire, a bady soldered connection, or something equally as simple can cause the failure of a multi-million dollar missile. Yet, under existing law, our Defense establishment is powerless to deal with some 2,000 identifiable Communists and potential spies, except to shift them to less sensitive duties.

The methods employed by a saboteur to inflict damage are as varied as human imagination. When such perverse talents are exercised, the loss can be as serious as a major military reverse. The employment of known Communists in essential industrial and defense plans merely intensifies the possibilities of sabotage. Common-sense dictates the removal of such persons from these facilities.

What is more certain than that, in the event of a war of any type the Communist conspiracy will stop at nothing to sap our industrial strength by every devilish device of which their conspirators and dupes are capable. Should we wait until an actual outbreak of open hostilities before giving appropriate governmental authorities power to act effectively to safeguard our industrial production against sabotage? I say no! After the defense establishments are sabotaged, after a moon shot has failed, it will be too late to take precautionary measures, and the punishment of the guilty will not rebuild our factories or supply implements for survival.

Accordingly, I have introduced Senate Bill 776, the Defense Facilities Protection Act of 1959, which would prescribe rules and regulations to prevent access to defense facilites by those likely to commit sabotage, espionage, or other subversive acts. The Department of Defense for a number of years has imperatively requested such authority. And, if Dr. Libby's and General Trudeau's words have any meaning, this legislation should be adopted immediately.

Leftovers Formed Into Surprise

For a ladies' luncheon, a delicate, light yet nutritious entree is usually the main bill of fare.

Frequently a hearty salad serves the purpose for this occasion.

In this recipe . . . it's the combination that counts. Here, leftover lamb serves you in a nutritious as well as economical way.

Imagine all in one salad . . . the meat furnishes the protein; the tomato juice, the Vitamin C and the fresh vegetables, as you know, come well equipped with vitamins and minerals.

This entree is one that can be made ahead of time, too. You'll undoubtedly want to try this as soon as you're hostess to the neighborhood afternoon gathering.

Meatless Rice Roast For Lenten Period

Meatless main dishes often present a problem to the homemaker during Lent.

One recipe which has met with considerable popularity — even outside the Lenten period — is a meatless rice roast.

Meatless Rice Roast

- 2 cups cooked rice
- 2 cups ground whole wheat toast
- 1 cup ground nuts (peanuts or pecans)
- 4 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- ¼ teaspoon sage
- 2 tablespoons ground onion
- 2 tablespoons ground green pepper
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 4 beaten eggs
- 1 teaspoon salt

Simple to prepare. Just mix ingredients thoroughly, form into a loaf and bake for one hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Serve hot with this sauce.

- 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon ground onion
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup tomato juice

Melt the butter or margarine, add the onion, and cook gently for a few seconds. Then stir in the flour and continue stirring until the mixture is well browned. Pour in the tomato juice, cook until thick, and season with salt and pepper. Serves eight.

A garnish of sliced boiled eggs, chopped pimiento, parsley and mandarin orange segments will make this a favorite with your family.

Saucy Touch For Desserts

There's nothing like a special sauce to add glamour to a plain dessert. Here is a delicious sauce to be used over ice cream, cake or both as well as with custards, souffles or with a snow pudding. The cherry soda intensifies the flavor to make it a cherrier cherry.

It is adaptable to your party moods — whether it be a big buffet, a dessert bridge, or the luscious finale to a family dinner. It's easy on the hostess and impressive for the guests. You'll find that youngsters especially love this party treat — so be prepared for seconds.

Black Cherry Sauce

- 2 cups cherry soda
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 can (about 1 lb.) dark sweet pitted cherries in heavy syrup

Add cherry soda to the cornstarch, a little at a time until thoroughly blended. Stir over medium heat until slightly thickened. Add cherries and syrup; continue to heat until thickened. Serve warm on ice cream or plain cake. Makes about 3 cups.

Dress Up Patties

In preparing ham patties or lamb patties the next time, add a touch of color by topping them with a maraschino cherry surrounded by 2 pieces of pineapple. For pineapple pieces, simply cut a pineapple slice into quarters.

Fish Fritters, Cheese Sauce

To help you serve meatless meals during the Lenten season which are delicious and nourishing, home economists have perfected a recipe which utilizes evaporated milk in two ways. The milk is used with biscuit mix and fish in a batter for fritters which can be fried in deep or shallow fat according to your preference. A smooth, mellow cheese sauce which cooks in only three minutes is poured over the fritters at serving time. This fool-proof and easy-to-make sauce is just the right flavor and texture complement for the fritters. And, of course, since evaporated milk is a concentrated form of milk supplying twice the nutrients of fresh whole milk, recipes like these provide an excellent way to add extra milk nutrients to the daily diet.

Lobster Spinach Fritters with 3-Minute Cheese Sauce

(Makes about 6 servings)

- 2 cups all-purpose biscuit mix
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1 egg
- ⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup (1 5-ounce can, drained) lobster, chopped
- 1¼ cups chopped spinach
- 2 tablespoons chopped canned pimiento
- Fat or oil for frying

Blend biscuit mix, seasoned salt, egg, evaporated milk and lemon juice in bowl. Add lobster, spinach and pimiento and blend well. Drop from teaspoon into deep hot fat (375° F.), or into ½ inch hot fat in frying pan. Fry 1½ to 2 minutes. Turn and fry on other side. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve at once with 3-Minute Cheese Sauce (recipe at bottom).

3-Minute Cheese Sauce

- 1⅔ cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups (about 8 ounces) grated process American cheese

Simmer evaporated milk and salt in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add cheese. Stir until cheese melts (about 1 minute longer).

Cream Of Carrot Potage

- 1 can (10-½ ounces) cream of chicken soup
- 1 jar (7-¾ ounces) baby food chopped carrots junior style
- 1 soup-can of milk
- ⅛ teaspoon of curry powder (optional)

Blend soup and carrots in a saucepan, heat and stir until smooth, then add milk gradually. Add curry, and heat mixture to boiling point. Pour soup into bowls or cups and float a raft of crackers, covered with crisp chopped bacon, on the surface. Yield: 3 to 4 servings.

Vegetable-Fish Fritters For Tempting Meals

Three-minute cheese sauce made with evaporated milk and served over fritters of clam and carrot is perfect for Lenten meals. Better blending qualities of evaporated milk insure a smooth, delicious sauce every time the recipe is used.

There's plenty of good eating in store for the family when you have a recipe for crisp fish and vegetable fritters on hand. To complement the fritters, prepare a creamy smooth cheese sauce. Good news to homemakers is that this sauce needs only three minutes to cook.

Clam and Vegetable Fritters With Cheese Sauce

(Makes about 6 servings)

- 2 cups all-purpose biscuit mix
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1 egg
- ⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaported milk
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ¾ cup (7½-ounce can, drained) minced clams
- 1¼ cups grated carrots
- ¼ cup chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- Fat or oil for frying

Blend biscuit mix, seasoned salt, egg, evaporated milk and lemon juice in bowl. Add clams, carrots, parsley and onion and blend well. Drop from teaspoon into deep hot fat (375 degrees F.), or into ½ inch hot fat in frying pan. Fry 1½ to 2 minutes. Turn and fry on other side. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve at once with 3-Minute Cheese Sauce (recipe at bottom).

3-Minute Cheese Sauce

- 1⅔ cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups (about 8 ounces) grated process American cheese

Simmer evaporated milk and salt in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add cheese. Stir until cheese melts (about 1 minute longer).

- ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
- ⅓ cup brown sugar
- 6 pecan halves
- 6 canned apricot halves, drained

Cup Cake Batter:

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |

Opening lead: Three of ♠.

While shaded take-out doubles of opening suit bids will at times produce satisfactory results, such tactics against opening no trump bids almost invariably follow the path that leads to the grave. The best you can hope for is a part score against which you risk a loss far out of proportion to what the enemy could score if they reached a game contract. A good rule of thumb is not to double an opening no trump unless your hand is at least as good as the opening bidder's.

West's action in today's hand was induced, perhaps by a bit of stubbornness. Having a hand that contained eight honor cards, he rather resented being shut out of the auction and made an immediate double of the opening no trump. North had the requirements for a raise to two no trump and so he redoubled. The burden was now on the enemy to extricate themselves. East tried two clubs and South doubled. West, in desperation, bid two diamonds which North doubled, and there the hand was played.

The three of spades was opened, South won with the ace, returned the suit and received a ruff on the next round. He now exited with the ace and jack of diamonds, and when North got in he was able to cash the queen of trumps to prevent any ruffs in dummy. Before the smoke cleared away declarer had suffered a set of four tricks for a loss of 1,100 points.

After the opening bid, West should have reasoned that his best chance for a profit was that the opponents would bid themselves into trouble, and should have remained silent.

Use Egg Wreath For Easter Table

If you're looking for ways to make your Easter dinner table setting unusually attractive, try reviving the delightful German folk custom of making an egg wreath for the center of the table. Spiral a dowel with strips of crepe paper and stick in a flower pot. Suspend small evergreen wreath by ribbons from top of the dowel. Hang gaily decorated eggs from wreath and sprig top with a tiny bunch of real posies.

Bound to be tops on the hit parade for Easter are luscious Apricot-Honey Glazed Ham and Yams and a Tossed Green Salad with Herb Dressing.

All the ingredients for a very successful Easter meal are here but to insure that success, serve a light dessert of freshly boxed chocolates and demi-tasse. The chocolates will give your meal a festive touch, satisfy your sweet tooth and leave you more than pleased with your Easter dinner.

Apricot Glazed Baked Ham and Yams

(Makes 8 servings)

1 13-pound pre-cooked ham
8 medium-sized Louisiana yams, pared and quartered
1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
1 12-ounce can apricot nectar
½ cup honey
½ teaspoon cloves

Place ham on rack in roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (325°) 1 hour. Combine sugar, apricot nectar, honey and cloves and blend. Score ham. Arrange yams around ham. Pour 1 cup apricot mixture over yams and ham. Bake in slow oven (325°) 1¾ hours, or until yams are tender and meat thermometer registers 130°. Brush ham and yams with remaining apricot mixture during baking period.

Herb French Dressing

(Makes about ½ cup)

½ cup French dressing
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon tarragon

Potato Meatburgers

¾ cup ground or coarsely grated raw potato
¾ pound ground beef
¼ cup grated or finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
Cooking fat or oil
1 cup tomato juice
1 tablespoon flour
¼ cup water

Add potato, beef, onion, green pepper, and salt to the beaten egg. Shape the mixture into flat cakes.

Heat a little cooking fat or oil in a fry pan and brown the cakes on both sides.

Add tomato juice and simmer until the meat is done—about 20 minutes. Remove cakes from the pan and keep them hot.

Mix flour and water and add gradually to the liquid in the pan. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thickened, and pour over the cakes.

Corn And Cheese Chowder

2 tablespoons of butter or margarine
1 tablespoon of flour
½ teaspoon of salt
dash of pepper
3 cups of milk
1 seven-ounce can of corn, including liquid
2 ounces of cheese cut in approximately ¼ inch cubes

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan and stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk and corn, and heat and stir mixture until it is slightly thickened. Just before serving add cheese cubes, pour soup into bowls or cups, and on the surface of the soup float a buttered raft of crackers covered with chopped parsley. Yield: 3 to 4 servings.

Remove from heat and blend in well beaten egg yolks. Cool slightly. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold sauce slowly into egg whites. Pour into an ungreased, 2-quart casserole. Bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees, 1¼ hours, or until top is firm and golden brown. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Congressman Serves As Sponsor For Artist

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman's life is full of surprises.

For here is Rep. Bob Wilson (R) of Chula Vista, Calif., serving not as a sponsor for a bill, but as a sponsor for an artist.

Furthermore, the artist he is pushing isn't even a constituent.

The scene was the Pan American Union, where an exhibit of Mexican paintings and drawings went on display, starring the works of Joaquin Chinas (he's the congressman's man) and Alberto Gironella.

"Funny how I got into this," Wilson was saying. "I was back in San Diego last October, and saw these drawings. I liked them. These pictures ought to be shown in the Pan American Union, I said, and, well, here we are."

Chinas, a pleasant young man of 35, is an Indian, born in Tehauntepec. He picks up a few dollars working as a common laborer.

He never has gone to art school, and he has been drawing seriously for only a couple of years. His pictures are in charcoal.

Chinas is grateful for this chance to show his stuff.

"I think I can produce something valuable," he said. "These, I think, are just samples of the beginning."

Now to Gironella, a pleasant young man of 29. He is married to a successful columnist and has been a painter since he was 15.

Gironella's work is much grimmer than Chinas'.

He pointed to a picture of a dog, "Kiki." It was like no dog you ever saw, except in your nightmares.

"In this I was trying to symbolize something of Kiki's ferocity," he said.

Gironella then proceeded to discuss his use of color, and here he delivered a low blow to this nonartist.

"Yellow," he said, "is tragedy."

And the reason it was a low blow is that, through ignorance, I've just finished painting the kitchen the brightest shade of tragedy you've ever seen.

Stolen—One House!

Heiress To Two Fortunes Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Muriel McCormick Hubbard, heiress to two of America's greatest fortunes, died in a hospital here Wednesday of a heart ailment. She was 56.

The granddaughter of both John D. Rockefeller Sr. and Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the reaper, succumbed in Grace-New Haven Hospital which she entered three weeks ago.

Mrs. Hubbard's fortune was estimated at forty million dollars.

In the grand fashion, Mrs. Hubbard maintained several homes throughout the country—at Middleton, Conn.; Reno, Nev.; Palm Beach, Fla.; Bar Harbor, Maine, and St. Regis Lake, New York.

Furthermore, the artist he is pushing isn't even a constituent.

The scene was the Pan American Union, where an exhibit of Mexican paintings and drawings went on display, starring the works of Joaquin Chinas (he's the congressman's man) and Alberto Gironella.

"Funny how I got into this," Wilson was saying. "I was back in San Diego last October, and saw these drawings. I liked them. These pictures ought to be shown in the Pan American Union. I said, and, well, here we are."

Chinas, a pleasant young man of 35, is an Indian, born in Tehauntepec. He picks up a few dollars working as a common laborer.

He never has gone to art school, and he has been drawing seriously for only a couple of years. His pictures are in charcoal.

Chinas is grateful for this chance to show his stuff.

"I think I can produce something valuable," he said. "These, I think, are just samples of the beginning."

Now to Gironella, a pleasant young man of 29. He is married to a successful columnist and has been a painter since he was 15.

Gironella's work is much grimmer than Chinas'.

He pointed to a picture of a dog, "Kiki." It was like no dog you ever saw, except in your nightmares.

"In this I was trying to symbolize something of Kiki's ferocity," he said.

Gironella then proceeded to discuss his use of color, and here he delivered a low blow to this nonartist.

"Yellow," he said, "is tragedy."

And the reason it was a low blow is that, through ignorance, I've just finished painting the kitchen the brightest shade of tragedy you've ever seen.

Underwood Signs Into Law Bills To Promote Industry

Sen. Ralph Bean Co-Sponsored Idea

CHARLESTON, W. Va. UPI—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood signed into law Wednesday a bill aimed at encouraging formation of business development corporations to assist present industries and attract new ones to West Virginia.

One of the main changes from the old law will allow banks and savings and loan associations to pool their efforts, along with other businesses, in creating industrial development loan funds.

The measure, co-sponsored by Senate President Ralph J. Bean and Minority Leader John E. Carrigan, allows 10 development corporations to be established on a regional basis throughout the state.

They would work with the State Industrial and Publicity Commission to encourage and assist — through loans, investments and other business transactions —the location of new business and industry in West Virginia and the rehabilitation or assistance of existing industry.

State I&P Commission Director Don Crislip said he plans to call a statewide meeting of firms and organizations interested in the law, to help promote formation of the regional corporations.

Also signed by the governor was a bill extending the terms of present state mine inspectors from June 30, when they were due to expire under a 1958 law, until Dec. 31, if replacemenets have not qualified before then.

The Mines Department needed the extra time to qualify enough men through the new Mine Inspectors Examining Board set up under last year's recodification of state mine laws.

This is the first time such an association has existed between general practitioners in this area. Through this, Dr. Miles and Dr. Kato feel they can offer the patient more complete coverage all day, every day; plus giving the doctors a chance for a day off and ample chance to attend post-graduate meetings. # Council Airs Report On Plan For Chlorinator

Meeting Scheduled Next Wednesday

WESTERNPORT — Elmer Wilt, Westernport, representing a number of residents of the Savage River Valley area, conferred with the Mayor and Council last night concerning the purchase of a high pressure chlorinator. It would provide chlorinated water for people in that area, the Town of Bloomington and the woodyard of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Wilt said the problem could be solved by trading in the new chlorinator recently purchased by the Bloomington Water Company, which was installed and tested but never put into operation, and one the paper mill has. Plus the allowance of $504 for the two trade-in chlorinators, the cost would be $1,055.50 according to Wilt.

A meeting is scheduled for next Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. with the Mayor and Council, Wilt and William Bevers of the Bloomington Water Company.

Okey E. Michael, former mayor informed council that a bill had been introduced in the Maryland Legislature for the state to blacktop a recreation playground at Frostburg.

Michael suggested that the town make a request that the bill be amended to ask that a pavement be extended on property at Westernport Elementary School.

Ronald Grove, Betterton Avenue, asked the town to run a water line to a house near Philos Avenue. He was advised that the service line would be installed.

Mayor Wilt announced that $25 was found in a fire truck fund in Citizens National Bank. The money was donated toward the new tank truck the company is planning on buying.

Council ordered that $5,137.50 be transferred from the water account to the following accounts: $3,506.25, bond interest; $1,500, bond service and $131.25, bond redemption. These are items incurred by the building of the filtration plant.

Collections from parking meters during the past two weeks amounted to $80.38, Mrs. Katherine Dailey, town clerk, revealed.

The town will extend the water line from Fourth Street to where workers are building the sewage plant for the Upper Potomac River Commission for the principal use of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The town will also install a sewer at that point when the water line is extended. The request was made by John Coleman, resident engineer of the project.

The town is contemplating the listing of all community properties and trucks for fire insurance and public liabilities, offering them in a group to a bidder.

TOP HOMEMAKER — Miss Linda Riley, 17-year-old Romney High School senior, attained the second highest rating in the West Virginia "Homemaker of Tomorrow" contest. # W.Va. Traffic Fatalities Increase 30 Per Cent

CHARLESTON, W. Va. UPI—A rise of more than 30 per cent in West Virginia traffic fatalities this year has resulted from "accident severity," State Police officials said Wednesday.

The department explained that the elimination of only five multi-death accidents would bring the current year's toll to within three of the number killed on state highways during the comparable period of 1958.

Four of those five accidents occurred in February and took a toll of 17 lives. A Kanawha County accident claimed six lives, while two Jefferson County mishaps and a Turnpike smashup each claimed three.

As of Wednesday, highway deaths in the state this year totaled 79 compared to 59 in the similar period of 1958.

Lt. T. A. Welty, head of the State Police Accident Prevention Bureau, said the number of fatal accidents in West Virginia this year actually were lower than a year ago.

During the first two months of this year, 56 persons were killed in 39 accidents while in January and February, 1958, 50 persons died in 47 accidents.

The bureau figures also showed that in January of this year the number of highway deaths—22—was below the 10-year average of 25.4 for the month. However, the 34 fatalities recorded in February was above the 10-year average of 27.6.

Welty noted that 23 persons had died in 19 highway accidents so far this month compared to 20 deaths in 18 accidents during the entire month of March, 1958. The 10-year average for March is 25.3 deaths.

Westernport Wants Public SRC Meeting

Discuss Changes On Routes 36, 135

WESTERNPORT—A resolution asking the Maryland State Roads Commission to hold a public meeting relative to the relocation of Routes 36 and 135 was unanimously adopted by the Mayor and Council last night.

It is understood that a number of properties will be acquired and razed. The meeting is being requested to give the SRC an opportunity to acquaint the public with its plans.

The Mayor and Commissioners have not gone on record as endorsing or opposing the proposed routes being considered.

Mayor Ray L. Wilt read a letter from Maddox and Hopkins, employed by State Roads Commission, who are making survey on proposed road changes. It stated: "Present regulations of the State Roads Commission require replacing of sidewalks in areas where existing sidewalks are removed by new highway construction.

"These regulations do not permit the construction of sidewalks along the new highway where none exists before new north bound lane of Route 36. Under the later category, in other than rush hours, they will undoubtedly be allowed on the left lane. A sidewalk adjacent to new road would be useful. If such a sidewalk is desired by the town it could be scheduled in the new construction with the town bearing the additional cost resulting therefrom.

"Since this project is presently scheduled for construction in the near future, we should be advised as soon as possible as to the town's desire for sidewalks. Paving costs for sidewalks generally run from $3 to $3.50 per square yard in addition to earth work and right-of-way costs."

It was ordered that the engineers be advised that the property owners are required by the town to put in their own sidewalks.

An estimate of Haven and Sawyer, engineers employed by the town to make a preliminary survey for running sewers to connect with the sewage plant, was listed at approximately $87,000. The town could get a federal grant of 40 per cent, reducing the amount to about $66,000.

Church Leader Urges Americans To Take Stock Of Great Religious Upsurge

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans are being urged to pause and take stock of the huge religious upsurge that has swept the nation since World War II.

Does it represent a true spiritual revival? Or is it just a mass search for easy answers to difficult problems of the nuclear age?

These are only two of the questions posed by Dr. Truman Douglass, executive vice-president of the Congregational Christian Board of Home Missions and a veteran preacher, in an interview with United Press International. He doubts anyone knows the answers.

"In recent years, church membership, church - going and the willingness to speak a good word for rleigion have become almost fashionable," he aid.

"Equally fashionable is the tendency of many ministers and church leaders to render a somewhat sour and cynical judgment on the meaning of 'this return to religion'."

Justifiable Skepticism

There undoubtedly is some justification for skepticism, he said, because a phenomenon as widespread as the current interest in religion is likely to be spread thin.

"When church - going becomes popular, many people take it up because of its popularity rather than because they have become religious," Douglass said. "Probably there are people who are 'trying religion' as a new experience, as in the past they have tried astrology, the ouija board, yoga, great books discussion groups, and rock 'n' roll.

"Doubtless there are those who have to go at religion instead of psychoanalysis — because it is cheaper and just possibly might work.

"Then there are those who hope to find in religion a simple solution for the problems of a complex age. This is always a tempting hope, especially for the type of mind that resents the fact that life is not simple. It would be wonderful if the intractable problems of economics, politics, and international relations could be solved if everybody engaged in more Bible-reading, prayer and church going."

Expresses Regret

Douglass said many disparaging observations on the stimulated religious interest undoubtedly have been justified. But he feels they can be both insensitive and seriously misleading.

Before church leaders make cynical judgments on why people go to church, he said, they need to take a new look at their own attitudes on the subject. It might be possible they have become more concerned about the motives that send people to church than about what they find when they get there, he said.

"It is perhaps regrettable when persons turn to the church for the wrong reasons," he said, "but the more important issue is whether the church has something for those who seek it out for the right reasons."

Douglass expressed deep concern over the fact that at a time when all over half the nation's occupants are church members, there is a major juvenile delinquency problem—"one cause of which is parental irresponsibility."

Cites Educational Crisis

He said there also is an educational crisis, an interracial conflict and an international situation ir which Americans are feared and hated by a large proportion of the peoples of the earth.

All of this comes, he said, at a time when more than 100 million Americans are listed as church members.

On the brighter side, Douglass said that if a person looks under the surface for evidences of an authentic religious revival, he will find much to give him heart, including:

—A new interest in essentially theological questions, such as "why are we here?" "Does life have a purpose?" "What is the meaning of existence?" "What may we hope for?"

—A recognition that religion should have a bearing on a man's daily work and vocation. Thoughtful religious leaders are beginning to distinguish between "church work," involving serving as an usher or cooking church suppers, and "the work of the church," which involves carrying religion into daily life.

Religion Reappears On Campus

—The reappearance of Christianity on college and university campuses to compete with rival views of life such as materialism, hedonism, scientism and moral and spiritual neutrality.

—The concern of responsible church representatives over the problem of communication. They are recognizing that they no longer can remain aloof from culture and society.

On this last point, Douglass added:

"They must take their pl within the frustration and agor of our period of history, ad that they do not have pat answ to our problems, and try to sh how religion can illuminate dilemmas of our time and po the way to finding adequate swers."

Corn Acreage Boost Planned

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland farmers are planning to plant more corn acreage this year than at any time since 1955, it was learned Wednesday.

The announcement was made by C. N. Guellow, chief of the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

Guellow also said in the annual March acreage survey that acres planted to tobacco and oats also will be up, but acreage of soybeans and most other major crops will be down from a year ago.

On the basis of farmers' reports as of March 1, acreage planted to corn in Maryland in 1959 will total 508,000 acres — 13 per cent more than last year.

The reports also indicated that tobacco growers intend to plant 38,000 acres of tobacco — 12 per cent more than in 1958. Acreage planted to oats — at 58,000 acres —will be 5 per cent above 1958, but less than in any year since 1950.

In commenting on these increases, Guellow pointed out that changes in the nationwide soil bank program and a cutback in hay acreage are the two chief factors involved in the acreage shifts.

Planted acreage of soybeans is expected to be down 2 per cent from last year. Intentions-to-plant reports indicate a total of 206,000 acres, compared with 210,000 a year ago.

Winter wheat acreage is off about one per cent. Acreage planted to barley —at 94,000 acres — is down 4 per cent from 1958. Still the acreage remains larger than in any year prior to 1957.

West Virginia, Louisville Open NCAA Tourney Tonight

Golden Bears Of California To Play Cincy

Kentucky Is Site Of Semi-Finals In National Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Four sizzling teams with a combined won-lost mark of 64-5 since around the turn of the year line up at Freedom Hall starting Friday night to decide the 1959 National Collegiate Basketball Championship.

It's hometown Louisville (19-10) vs. West Virginia (28-4) at 8:30 p.m. (EST) and Cincinnati (25-3) vs. California (23-4) at 10:30 in the semifinals opening a two-night stand that wraps up two weeks of nationwide eliminations.

Louisville Is Favored

Louisville, the team that wasn't supposed to be here, is the 7-5 favorite to become the first at-large entry to nail the title since CCNY in 1950.

West Virginia, champion of the Southern Conference for the fifth straight year, and Cincinnati's Missouri Valley Conference kings for three straight years, at 4-1, have never won an NCAA title.

The Cardinals from Louisville, coached by Peck Hickman, have won 14 of 17 in a tremendous late-season comeback capped by upset victories over defending champion Kentucky and Michigan State in the Mideast regional last weekend.

They have height in 6-11 Fred Sawyer, savvy in Don Goldstein and Hal Andrews, a top sophomore in 6-5, 200-pound John Turner, and a home court advantage.

Coach George Smith and his Cincinnati Bearcats have Oscar Robertson, a junior, who leads the nation's scorers for the second straight year. Behind this great All-America, Cincinnati has won 19 of its last 20.

Jerry West, probably the nation's No. 2 player, is the fellow who makes West Virginia go — and Freddie Schaus' club has "gone" to 21 victories in its last 22 games. An all-around player, the 6-3 West has scored 94 points in the Mountaineers' three regional victories.

Bears Cop 14 In Row

Defense-minded California has picked up a 14-game winning streak in the last two months with a bunch of guys named Joe to all but the West Coast. Coached by Pete Newell, the Bears lead the nation in stinginess with a 50-point per game yield.

Barfield Paces Gulf Coast Golf

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—Michigan's Jim Barfield, one of golf's greying eagles, whacked four strokes off par with a 67 Thursday and bounced into the first-round lead of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Tournament.

The 54-year-old Barfield, who owns the Ridgemoor Country Club in Grand Rapids, toured the 6,016-yard Great Southern Country Club course in 34-33—67, despite a strong breeze and temperatures in the low 50s.

Barfield finished one stroke in front of four professionals grouped at 68.

Pre-tournament favorites didn't fare too well, with only newly turned professional Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., living up to expectations. Rudolph carded a 69.

Dick Metz of Fort Worth, Tex., winner of the Gulf Coast tourney two years ago, came in with a 71 while Johnny Revolta of Edgewater Park, Miss., had a 75.

Randy Sandy Wins

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (UPI) — Middleweight Randy Sandy of New York scored a 10-round decision over Dick Tiger of Nigeria, the British Empire champion, at the Liverpool Stadium Thursday night.

The crowd of 3,000 booed the verdict of referee Frank Wilson, who had no doubts about his decision as he immediately raised Sandy's arm at the finish.

Bosox Top Cubs, 2-1

West Virginia State Cage Tourney Will Open Today

Piedmont, Fairview Play At 9 A.M. In Class A Eye Opener

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The 46th annual West Virginia high school basketball tournament opens here Friday with southern teams favored in the inaugural of three-division competition.

For the first time in many years, a morning session will be held, and before the action is over at approximately 11 p. m., six games will have been played.

The schedule harks back to the former days of the West Virginia Conference tourney which had a six - game opening-day schedule. Sports writers and broadcasters are usually in the majority among people who watch all six games.

Ansted, Northfork - Elkhorn and South Charleston are favored in Class A, AA and AAA, respectively.

Piedmont Plays At 9 A.M.

Before what is expected to be a group composed largely of writers, broadcasters and tourney officials, Piedmont (16-10) will play Fairview (19-6) at the eye-opening hour of 9 a. m. to begin Class A play.

Then Ansted (24-0), which had its only smear in 48 consecutive games erased by a decision ruling Williamson Liberty out of the tourney,meets Athens (19-7).

Ansted was declared Area - 4 representative when Liberty was found guilty of using an overage player after the Williamson team had beaten the defending small-school titlists in an area playoff last Saturday.

The afternoon Class AA session starts at 2 o'clock with Pt. Pleasant (15-10) playing Weston (19-6). Then Northfork - Elkhorn (23-3) takes on Lookout (18-6). The latter upset once-beaten Matewan to reach the meet.

The most attention will come at night when Fairmont West (19-4) plays Weirton (18-5) in the Triple-A opener at 7:30. Then comes a rare intra-county game between South Charleston (21-3) and darkhorse DuPont (19-5).

DuPont Sentimental Choice

This is the first time in 32 years — and only the second time in history — that two teams from the same county have been in the state meet semifinals.

DuPont probably will be the sentimental favorite of the natural fans. The Panthers — who handed South Charleston one of its three seasonal losses in splitting two games with the Black Eagles — upset Beckley to enter the state finals.

Beckley had downed No. 1 ranked Princeton before falling to DuPont.

Ten of the 12 tourney teams arrived Thursday. Northfork - Elkhorn had been expected Wednesday night but delayed arrival until Thursday afternoon. The others came in as expected Thursday night. South Charleston and Pt. Pleasant will commute daily.

The Class A final will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. The Class AA final follows at 3 p. m. and the Triple-A championship tilt at 7:30 p. m.

The Allegany County League for Crippled Children will receive $589.33 from the annual dinner of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Club held on Sunday, February 1, at St. Mary's Hall, it was announced last night following a meeting of the executive committee of the organization at the Fraternal Order of Eagles Home.

St. Mary's Church was paid $708.75 for the use of the hall and the cost of the dinners which were prepared there. Other expenditures amounted to $320.17.

Florida Rains Stop Baseball, Horse Racing

Sports Car Practice Runs Are Cancelled

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Sun 'n' Fun Festival at Clearwater is about to throw in the sponge.

No sun. No fun.

Horse races at Sunshine Park near Tampa have been canceled for the rest of the week. The parking lot is flooded.

Maojr league baseball teams which congregate in the Tampa Bay area for spring training are stymied. They haven't been on the diamonds since Sunday. It has rained every day since then in north and central Florida.

Cancel Cuba Trip

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Redlegs decided Thursday to fly to Havana in search of sunshine. But rain and poor visibility prevented their chartered plane from taking off.

Some rivers in north Florida have jumped their banks, forcing some families to scurry to higher ground.

Waters of the Alafia River south of Tampa continued to rise, forcing evacuation of an additional 50 persons from their homes. About 15 families were moved out earlier.

In northern Florida the Suwannee River climbed upward in its first flood crest in 11 years. Waters from the picturesque and placid stream closed State Road 136 between White Springs and Live Oak. Several famlies left homes in low-lying areas.

Officials postponed the start of the St. Petersburg Open golf championship from Thursday to Friday, then indicated another postponement could be forthcoming.

Halt Practice Runs

Driving conditions were so hazardous at Sebring that practice runs for Saturday's sports car race were called off after drivers spent 90 minutes splashing around the rain-slicked course.

The St. Petersburg Independent gave away its sunshine edition Wednesday and Thursday because the sun refused to shine on the city during the two 24-hour periods.

The newspaper distributes without charge its entire press run of the edition at the end of any 24-hour period ending at 11 a.m. when there has been no sunshine on the city. The practice started in 1910.

Kansas City Sends Ten To Minor Loops

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics trimmed their squad to thirty-four Thursday by sending 10 players to the minors.

Infielder Milt Graff and outfielder Charley Secret were sent to Portland of the Pacific Coast League. Infielders Lou Klimchock and Rac Slider and pitcher Harry Taylor were shipped to Shreveport of the Southern Association and pitcher Bob Zammit, catcher Rick Rogers and infielders Alex George, Dick Howser and Ron McCutcheon were sent to the A's minor league camp at Pensacola for further assignment.

NYU Beaten By Bradley Five, 59-57

Top-Seeded Braves Reach NIT Finals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bradley's top-seeded Braves frittered away a 10-point second-half lead Thursday night before they rallied to beat New York University, 59-57, on Mike Owens' field goal and gained the National Invitational basketball tournament final for the second time in three years.

A capacity crowd of 18,496 was on hand at Madison Square Garden when St. John's met Providence College in the semifinal nightcap. Bradley's victory dashed the chance for an all-New York City final on Saturday afternoon.

Owens' driving field goal with 1:12 left to play during a Bradley stall represented the margin of victory after NYU had battled back from a 44-34 deficit in the first six minutes of the second half.

Hit Set Shot

Russ Cunningham, 5-foot, 10-inch back-court sniper who scored 15 points during NYU's gallant comeback, hit with a set shot that tied the score at 55-55 with 2:25 left to play.

Joe Billy McDade tossed in a hook shot for the Braves 51 seconds later and when they subsequently gained possession of the ball again, they went in for a lay-up which subsequently proved the margin of Bradley's victory when Cal Ramsey hit with a jump shot for the Violets with one minute to play.

This marked the third time in eight NIT ventures that the Braves from Peoria, Ill., gained the tournament final. They were beaten in the 1950 final by CCNY's "grand slam" champions and they won the tournament in 1957.

Outscored From Field

Although Bradley was outscored in field goals, 24-22, it cashed in on 15 of 20 free throws and never trailed during the game.

Owens was Bradley's high scorer with 16 points and Bobby Joe Mason contributed 14. Cunningham's 18 points were high for NYU.

Providence Bows To Redmen, 76-55

NEW YORK (AP)—Providence, the Cinderella team in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament, bowed to St. Johns of New York 76-55 in the semifinals before a howling sellout crowd of 18,496 at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The victory put St. John's in Saturday's championship final against top-seeded Bradley.

Providence, upset victor over Manhattan and St. Louis in the earlier rounds, made a courageous effort but the favored St. Johns Redmen were too slick.

Midway in the first half the Friars came from behind to tke the lead at 16-15 and again to tie at 22-22. Then the tide turned.

Led by Lou Roethel and Tony Jackson, the Redmen turned the game into a rout after the intermission. Roethel finished with 22 points and Jackson got 20.

20 Quints Survive Opening Week's Play In "Y" Tourney

Peskin's, Sports Shoppe, Fairmont Cop Senior Tilts

Twenty out of an original starting field of 34 teams remained in the running in four different classes as the first week's program in the 14th annual Central YMCA - Jaycees Basketball Tournament ended last night on the YMCA court.

The quarter-final round bracket was completed in the Junior Unlimited Class when Fairmont State eliminated Robinson's Plumbers, 54-38, and the Sports Shoppe ushered out the Hardy County (W.Va.) All-Stars, 53-46, in the last two games on last night's four-game card.

Don Layman, Kiger and Gary Shamblen with 12, 11 and 10 points, respectively, sparked Manager John Burkett's Fairmont Staters to a victory over Robinson's Plumbers, Rec League champions. Jerry Meeks was the "whole show" for the Plumbers with eight goals and 22 points. The Plumbers led at halftime, 23-22, but trailed at the close of the third period, 35-29.

Fairmont plays the Oakland Independents Tuesday at 9 p.m.

Score Tied Seven Times

The score was knotted on seven occasions before the Sports Shoppe pulled out a decision over the Hardy County All-Stars. A late rally decided the game after the West Virginians had gone into the final period with a 33-32 lead.

Ronnie Young and Doug Sullivan headed the Sports Shoppe offensive with 14 and 13 markers. Ronnie Moyers and George Hott were Hardy County's top scorers with 12 and 11 markers.

The eight survivors in the Senior Class are Fort Ashby VFW, Peskin's Shoemen, Dom's Grocery, Cumberland Moose, Sports Shoppe, Fairmont State, Old Germans and Oakland Independents.

Grocers Trim DeMolay

Potomac Park Grocery advanced to the semi-final round in the Junior Unlimited Class by defeating DeMolay in the opening game on last night's program by the score of 31-26.

The Grocers will play the Lakers of Fort Ashby next Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Leonard Jones and Raymond Dayton led the attack for Potomac Park with nine and seven tallies. Gary Yutzy was high scorer for DeMolay with ten tallies while Joe Fogtman was the runner-up with eight markers.

DeMolay was outscored 11 to 4 in the final period after leading 22-20 at the close of the third quarter.

Peskin's Shoemen Win

Peskin's Shoemen became a quarter-finalist in the Senior Unlimited Class by walloping the Receiving Five by the score of 62-22.

The Shoemen piled up a 29-9 lead at the halftime mark and held the long end of a 49-13 score when the third period was concluded.

Peskin's outscored their opponents 25 to 8 from the field and 12 to 6 from the foul line.

Monday's Schedule

The tourney resumes on Monday and games will be played through Thursday night when the finals will be staged.

7:00—Salem Frosties vs. St. Michael's (115 Pound Class)

Bill Hartack Called On Carpet By Stewards

HALLANDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Jockey Bill Hartack was called on the carpet by Gulfstream Park stewards Thursday after he angrily refused to ride three of his mounts.

The stewards ordered Hartack to appear at 10 a.m. Friday to explain his action.

The trouble started when Hartack warmed up the favored Firesickle for the fifth race and then declared the horse was too sore to run.

Two veterinarians examined Firesickle and pronounced him ready to race. The stewards ordered Hartack to ride him and the horse finished second.

Anthony And Ray Fight At Garden

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Anthony, top-ranking light heavyweight contender, Thursday was favored to make it two in a row over Chicago's Sonny Ray at Madison Square Garden.

The two 175-pounders clash in a television (NBC, 10 p.m., EST) 10-rounder Friday night.

Anthony, 24-year-old New Yorker, was a 4-1 favorite when he whipped the 23-year-old Chicagoan at the Garden last Nov. 14. But Anthony had to sweep the last three rounds to pull out the decision.

West Virginia, Louisville Open NCAA Tourney Tonight

Golden Bears Of California To Play Cincy

Kentucky Is Site Of Semi-Finals In National Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Four sizzling teams with a combined won-lost mark of 64-5 since around the turn of the year line up at Freedom Hall starting Friday night to decide the 1959 National Collegiate Basketball Championship.

It's hometown Louisville (19-10) vs. West Virginia (28-4) at 8:30 p.m. (EST) and Cincinnati (25-3) vs. California (23-4) at 10:30 in the semifinals opening a two-night stand that wraps up two weeks of nationwide eliminations.

Louisville Is Favored

Louisville, the team that wasn't supposed to be here, is the 7-5 favorite to become the first at-large entry to nail the title since CCNY in 1950.

West Virginia, champion of the Southern Conference for the fifth straight year, and Cincinnati's Missouri Valley Conference kings for three straight years, at 4-1, have never won an NCAA title.

The Cardinals from Louisville, coached by Peck Hickman, have won 14 of 17 in a tremendous late-season comeback capped by upset victories over defending champion Kentucky and Michigan State in the Mideast regional last weekend.

They have height in 6-11 Fred Sawyer, savvy in Don Goldstein and Hal Andrews, a top sophomore in 6-5, 200-pound John Turner, and a home court advantage.

Coach George Smith and his Cincinnati Bearcats have Oscar Robertson, a junior, who leads the nation's scorers for the second straight year. Behind this great All-America, Cincinnati has won 19 of its last 20.

Jerry West, probably the nation's No. 2 player, is the fellow who makes West Virginia go — and Freddie Schaus' club has "gone" to 21 victories in its last 22 games. An all-around player, the 6-3 West has scored 94 points in the Mountaineers' three regional victories.

Bears Cop 14 In Row

Defense-minded California has picked up a 14-game winning streak in the last two months with a bunch of guys named Joe to all but the West Coast. Coached by Pete Newell, the Bears lead the nation in stinginess with a 50-point per game yield.

Barfield Paces Gulf Coast Golf

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—Michigan's Jim Barfield, one of golf's greying eagles, whacked four strokes off par with a 67 Thursday and bounced into the first-round lead of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Tournament.

The 54-year-old Barfield, who owns the Ridgemoor Country Club in Grand Rapids, toured the 6,016-yard Great Southern Country Club course in 34-33—67, despite a strong breeze and temperatures in the low 50s.

Barfield finished one stroke in front of four professionals grouped at 68.

Pre-tournament favorites didn't fare too well, with only newly turned professional Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., living up to expectations. Rudolph carded a 69.

Dick Metz of Fort Worth, Tex., winner of the Gulf Coast tourney two years ago, came in with a 71 while Johnny Revolta of Edgewater Park, Miss., had a 75.

Randy Sandy Wins

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (UPI) — Middleweight Randy Sandy of New York scored a 10-round decision over Dick Tiger of Nigeria, the British Empire champion, at the Liverpool Stadium Thursday night.

The crowd of 3,000 booed the verdict of referee Frank Wilson, who had no doubts about his decision as he immediately raised Sandy's arm at the finish.

Bosox Top Cubs, 2-1

West Virginia State Cage Tourney Will Open Today

Piedmont, Fairview Play At 9 A.M. In Class A Eye Opener

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The 46th annual West Virginia high school basketball tournament opens here Friday with southern teams favored in the inaugural of three-division competition.

For the first time in many years, a morning session will be held, and before the action is over at approximately 11 p. m., six games will have been played.

The schedule harks back to the former days of the West Virginia Conference tourney which had a six - game opening-day schedule. Sports writers and broadcasters are usually in the majority among people who watch all six games.

Ansted, Northfork - Elkhorn and South Charleston are favored in Class A, AA and AAA, respectively.

Piedmont Plays At 9 A.M.

Before what is expected to be a group composed largely of writers, broadcasters and tourney officials, Piedmont (16-10) will play Fairview (19-6) at the eye-opening hour of 9 a. m. to begin Class A play.

Then Ansted (24-0), which had its only smear in 48 consecutive games erased by a decision ruling Williamson Liberty out of the tourney,meets Athens (19-7).

Ansted was declared Area - 4 representative when Liberty was found guilty of using an overage player after the Williamson team had beaten the defending small-school titlists in an area playoff last Saturday.

The afternoon Class AA session starts at 2 o'clock with Pt. Pleasant (15-10) playing Weston (19-6). Then Northfork - Elkhorn (23-3) takes on Lookout (18-6). The latter upset once-beaten Matewan to reach the meet.

The most attention will come at night when Fairmont West (19-4) plays Weirton (18-5) in the Triple-A opener at 7:30. Then comes a rare intra-county game between South Charleston (21-3) and darkhorse DuPont (19-5).

DuPont Sentimental Choice

This is the first time in 32 years — and only the second time in history — that two teams from the same county have been in the state meet semifinals.

DuPont probably will be the sentimental favorite of the natural fans. The Panthers — who handed South Charleston one of its three seasonal losses in splitting two games with the Black Eagles — upset Beckley to enter the state finals.

Beckley had downed No. 1 ranked Princeton before falling to DuPont.

Ten of the 12 tourney teams arrived Thursday. Northfork - Elkhorn had been expected Wednesday night but delayed arrival until Thursday afternoon. The others came in as expected Thursday night. South Charleston and Pt. Pleasant will commute daily.

The Class A final will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. The Class AA final follows at 3 p. m. and the Triple-A championship tilt at 7:30 p. m.

The Allegany County League for Crippled Children will receive $589.33 from the annual dinner of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Club held on Sunday, February 1, at St. Mary's Hall, it was announced last night following a meeting of the executive committee of the organization at the Fraternal Order of Eagles Home.

St. Mary's Church was paid $708.75 for the use of the hall and the cost of the dinners which were prepared there. Other expenditures amounted to $320.17.

Florida Rains Stop Baseball, Horse Racing

Sports Car Practice Runs Are Cancelled

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Sun 'n' Fun Festival at Clearwater is about to throw in the sponge.

No sun. No fun.

Horse races at Sunshine Park near Tampa have been canceled for the rest of the week. The parking lot is flooded.

Maojr league baseball teams which congregate in the Tampa Bay area for spring training are stymied. They haven't been on the diamonds since Sunday. It has rained every day since then in north and central Florida.

Cancel Cuba Trip

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Redlegs decided Thursday to fly to Havana in search of sunshine. But rain and poor visibility prevented their chartered plane from taking off.

Some rivers in north Florida have jumped their banks, forcing some families to scurry to higher ground.

Waters of the Alafia River south of Tampa continued to rise, forcing evacuation of an additional 50 persons from their homes. About 15 families were moved out earlier.

In northern Florida the Suwannee River climbed upward in its first flood crest in 11 years. Waters from the picturesque and placid stream closed State Road 136 between White Springs and Live Oak. Several families left homes in low-lying areas.

Officials postponed the start of the St. Petersburg Open golf championship from Thursday to Friday, then indicated another postponement could be forthcoming.

Halt Practice Runs

Driving conditions were so hazardous at Sebring that practice runs for Saturday's sports car race were called off after drivers spent 90 minutes splashing around the rain-slicked course.

The St. Petersburg Independent gave away its sunshine edition Wednesday and Thursday because the sun refused to shine on the city during the two 24-hour periods.

The newspaper distributes without charge its entire press run of the edition at the end of any 24-hour period ending at 11 a.m. when there has been no sunshine on the city. The practice started in 1910.

Kansas City Sends Ten To Minor Loops

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics trimmed their squad to thirty-four Thursday by sending 10 players to the minors.

Infielder Milt Graff and outfielder Charley Secret were sent to Portland of the Pacific Coast League. Infielders Lou Klimchock and Rac Slider and pitcher Harry Taylor were shipped to Shreveport of the Southern Association and pitcher Bob Zammit, catcher Rick Rogers and infielders Alex George, Dick Howser and Ron McCutcheon were sent to the A's minor league camp at Pensacola for further assignment.

NYU Beaten By Bradley Five, 59-57

Top-Seeded Braves Reach NIT Finals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bradley's top-seeded Braves frittered away a 10-point second-half lead Thursday night before they rallied to beat New York University, 59-57, on Mike Owens' field goal and gained the National Invitational basketball tournament final for the second time in three years.

A capacity crowd of 18,496 was on hand at Madison Square Garden when St. John's met Providence College in the semifinal nightcap. Bradley's victory dashed the chance for an all-New York City final on Saturday afternoon.

Owens' driving field goal with 1:12 left to play during a Bradley stall represented the margin of victory after NYU had battled back from a 44-34 deficit in the first six minutes of the second half.

Hit Set Shot

Russ Cunningham, 5-foot, 10-inch back-court sniper who scored 15 points during NYU's gallant comeback, hit with a set shot that tied the score at 55-55 with 2:25 left to play.

Joe Billy McDade tossed in a hook shot for the Braves 51 seconds later and when they subsequently gained possession of the ball again, they went in for a layup which subsequently proved the margin of Bradley's victory when Cal Ramsey hit with a jump shot for the Violets with one minute to play.

This marked the third time in eight NIT ventures that the Braves from Peoria, Ill., gained the tournament final. They were beaten in the 1950 final by CCNY's "grand slam" champions and they won the tournament in 1957.

Outscored From Field

Although Bradley was outscored in field goals, 24-22, it cashed in on 15 of 20 free throws and never trailed during the game.

Owens was Bradley's high scorer with 16 points and Bobby Joe Mason contributed 14. Cunningham's 18 points were high for NYU.

Providence Bows To Redmen, 76-55

NEW YORK (AP)—Providence, the Cinderella team in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament, bowed to St. Johns of New York 76-55 in the semifinals before a howling sellout crowd of 18,496 at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The victory put St. John's in Saturday's championship final against top-seeded Bradley.

Providence, upset victor over Manhattan and St. Louis in the earlier rounds, made a courageous effort but the favored St. Johns Redmen were too slick.

Midway in the first half the Friars came from behind to tke the lead at 16-15 and again to tie at 22-22. Then the tide turned.

Led by Lou Roethel and Tony Jackson, the Redmen turned the game into a rout after the intermission. Roethel finished with 22 points and Jackson got 20.

20 Quints Survive Opening Week's Play In "Y" Tourney

Peskin's, Sports Shoppe, Fairmont Cop Senior Tilts

Twenty out of an original starting field of 34 teams remained in the running in four different classes as the first week's program in the 14th annual Central YMCA - Jaycees Basketball Tournament ended last night on the YMCA court.

The quarter-final round bracket was completed in the Junior Unlimited Class when Fairmont State eliminated Robinson's Plumbers, 54-38, and the Sports Shoppe ushered out the Hardy County (W.Va.) All-Stars, 53-46, in the last two games on last night's four-game card.

Don Layman, Kiger and Gary Shamblen with 12, 11 and 10 points, respectively, sparked Manager John Burkett's Fairmont Staters to a victory over Robinson's Plumbers, Rec League champions. Jerry Meeks was the "whole show" for the Plumbers with eight goals and 22 points. The Plumbers led at half-time, 23-22, but trailed at the close of the third period, 35-29.

Fairmont plays the Oakland Independents Tuesday at 9 p.m.

Score Tied Seven Times

The score was knotted on seven occasions before the Sports Shoppe pulled out a decision over the Hardy County All-Stars. A late rally decided the game after the West Virginians had gone into the final period with a 33-32 lead.

Ronnie Young and Doug Sullivan headed the Sports Shoppe offensive with 14 and 13 markers. Ronnie Moyers and George Hott were Hardy County's top scorers with 12 and 11 markers.

The eight survivors in the Senior Class are Fort Ashby VFW, Peskin's Shoemen, Dom's Grocery, Cumberland Moose, Sports Shoppe, Fairmont State, Old Germans and Oakland Independents.

Grocers Trim DeMolay

Potomac Park Grocery advanced to the semi-final round in the Junior Unlimited Class by defeating DeMolay in the opening game on last night's program by the score of 31-26.

The Grocers will play the Lakers of Fort Ashby next Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Leonard Jones and Raymond Dayton led the attack for Potomac Park with nine and seven tallies. Gary Yutzy was high scorer for DeMolay with ten tallies while Joe Fogtman was the runner-up with eight markers.

DeMolay was outscored 11 to 4 in the final period after leading 22-20 at the close of the third quarter.

Peskin's Shoemen Win

Peskin's Shoemen became a quarter-finalist in the Senior Unlimited Class by walloping the Receiving Five by the score of 62-22.

The Shoemen piled up a 29-9 lead at the halftime mark and held the long end of a 49-13 score when the third period was concluded.

Peskin's outscored their opponents 25 to 8 from the field and 12 to 6 from the foul line.

Monday's Schedule

The tourney resumes on Monday and games will be played through Thursday night when the finals will be staged.

6:00—Cagey Cagers vs. Lovers Leap (115 Pound Class)

7:00—Salem Frosties vs. St. Michael's (115 Pound Class) (Semi-Finals)

8:00 — Peskin's Shoemen vs. Sports Shoppe (Sr. Unlimited)

9:00—Old Germans vs. Fort Ashby V.F.W. (Sr. Unlimited) (Quarter-Finals)

Tribe Has Many New Faces, But Must Solve Infield And Mound Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league baseball teams. Others will follow on this page every day.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association Sports Editor

TUCSON, Ariz. — While the Lane that has no turning—Frank Lane—continues his running battle of words and wits with the Yankee brass and Casey Stengel, the old Yankee infield flash, Joe Gordon, goes about his work here of fielding a team which has two definite objectives, to wit: (a) try to beat the Yankees and (b) bring back the fans to the Cleveland baseball park.

Where Bobby Bragan, the manager of the Tribe at the start of last year, used to go upstairs to ask Lane about what he should do with some of his players, Gordon does his own thinking and right now he's thinking about his pitching, which is the key to the 1959 success or failure of the Indians, who plunged to the depths in gate attendance last year while finishing fourth, 14½ games behind the hated Yankees.

Lane has done more than his bit in assembling new faces in Jimmy Piersall and Billy Martin and bringing back George Strickland, but it is Gordon's job to weld this club into a contender, not at the gate, but on the field.

The former Yankee and Indian second base star propped his feet up on the dugout steps here as he talked about the Injuns, who could be mighty good if Herb Score and Mike Garcia come back all the way and who might be just ordinary if they don't.

Gordon has a problem at short and the Tribe pitching, once the scourge of the majors, again presents the big question.

"I AM WELL satisfied with our offense and defense," Joe said, "but our pitching is a question. We must have Score and Gary Bell turn in fine efforts, along with Cal McLish, and our relief pitching has to establish itself.

"I think with Martin and Piersall we have added some speed to this club, which is another thing we needed. I also look to Larry Doby, who has been given a tryout at first base, to give us a big hand this year."

About the two big keys to his pitching staff Joe says: "Garcia has looked very good. He says he doesn't have that twinge in his back when he throws. Score is in wonderful shape physically. Yes, I'll admit the Giants belted him pretty hard the other day but we aren't too concerned with that. Herb didn't have his good fast ball working that day and he couldn't get his curve ball over. That will come.

"McLish is throwing a lot better this spring. He's a slow starter and, for sure, I look for him to have another good year.

"Young pitchers? Well, we have some, but it's pretty hard for them to break in when we have at least 11 veteran pitchers. I'd say that Dick Brodowski and Hal Woodeshick have looked good. And Dick Stigman (15-7 with Mobile) also has looked good and he's mighty close to making it."

"We're giving Al Cicotte a real shot at it and he may be a starter, not just a relief pitcher."

Gone from this once-great pitching staff are Bob Feller, Bob Lemon (he recently called it quits) and Early Wynn.

If Doby should play first, Vic Power will be on third and that would give the club some infield power. If not, Doby will be in outfield with Rocky Colavito, Minnie Minoso and Piersall, and Power will be on first. Also on hand for the initial sack is the veteran, Mickey Vernon.

THERE ARE several candidates seeking the shortstop spot with Woody Held, an outfielder, listed in this category along with Strickland, Billy Hunter and a rookie, Ray Webster, who was drafted from Sacramento.

Martin and Billy Moran will hold forth at second and Randy Jackson is around for third if needed.

Dick Brown, Hal Naragon and Russ Nixon give the Tribe three fine young catchers who also can hit.

The kingpin of the Indians attack, Colavito, should be ready for another and even greater season. The Rock hit 41 home runs last year and Gordon will tell you that "he hasn't reached the top yet . . . he's going to be a great hitter because he not only has power but he picks his pitches better now."

This, then, are the Indians of 1959, until Trader Lane, ready to deal anytime, comes up with some new faces to replace a few more of the old.

Maphis Sets New Highs of 652 And 31.0; Milavec's .788 Tops Area Foul Shooters

Romney Junior Tops Scorers 2nd Season; Scott Is Runner-Up

An all-time area record of 652 points in 21 games and high average of 31.0 was established during the 1958-59 basketball season by William Maphis, Romney High School junior, who headed the scorers of 30 schools for the second straight campaign.

The Pioneers' sharpshooter scored 249 goals, also an all-time high for a player in 21 regular season games and he hooped 154 out of 208 free throws for an average of .740.

Erases Several Marks

Maphis' point total and average bettered several previous marks credited to players of the tri-state area. Herman "Buddy" Meyer, of Mountaineer High's 1957 team scored 557 points in 20 games for an average of .27.9. These marks were wiped out by Maphis. In 1954 Bruce May, of Hyndman High School, scored 637 points in 27 regular season games. This record also was erased by Maphis who ran his three-year total to 1,552 points in 61 games. If he plays another complete season he should set a career mark exceeding 2,000 points.

This season Maphis accounted for 40 per cent of the 1,633 points chalked up by the Romney quint which won 19 of the 21 games played before tournament competition.

Leads For 2nd Season

Last season the Romney ace led the area scorers with 517 tallies in 19 contests for an average of 27.2. A year ago three players exceeded the 500 mark for the first time. They were Jim Vetter, Moorefield 525; Maphis 517 and Don Moyer of Mathias 525. Maphis was the only player to reach the select circle during the 1958-59 campaign.

Runner-up to Maphis in individual scoring this year was Bill Scott, of Ridgeley, who posted a 24.5 average. Jerold Milavec, of Elk Garden, finished in third place with 22.4. Joe Taylor of Piedmont was fourth with 21.78 and Bill Price, Fort Ashby, fifth with 21.33.

Milavec Best In Fouls

Jerold Milavec is the area foul shooting champion with an average of .788. He converted 126 of 160 free throws. Bill Price, Fort Ashby was runner-up with .776 and Maphis finished in third place with .740. One year ago Milavec was nosed out by George Lauder of Valley High .7833 to .7823. The Elk Garden player meshed 97 out of 124 attempts last season.

The most points scored in a single game was 58 and was credited to George Patton, of Northern High School of Garrett County. This was four points short of the area's all-time high of 62 made by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley High in 1951. Maphis was second to Patton this season with a 52-point performance in a single contest.

Wilcox Makes Little All-America Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Heralded as sure to make good in professional basketball, Dick Barnett of Tennessee A&I State made the Associated Press little All-America college basketball team Thursday for the second straight year.

Hugh Ahlering, who led Evansville to the NCAA small college championship; Paul Wilcox of Davis-Elkins (W. Va.), the leading scorer in both the NCAA and NAIA; and Chuck Curtis of Pacific Lutheran and Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas, who put their teams into contention for the NAIA crown, were the other four picked for the first team.

Tribe Has Many New Faces, But Must Solve Infield And Mound Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league baseball teams. Others will follow on this page every day.

Central Press Association Sports Editor

TUCSON, Ariz. — While the Lane that has no turning—Frank Lane—continues his running battle of words and wits with the Yankee brass and Casey Stengel, the old Yankee infield flash, Joe Gordon, goes about his work here of fielding a team which has two definite objectives, to wit: (a) try to beat the Yankees and (b) bring back the fans to the Cleveland baseball park.

Where Bobby Bragan, the manager of the Tribe at the start of last year, used to go upstairs to ask Lane about what he should do with some of his players, Gordon does his own thinking and right now he's thinking about his pitching, which is the key to the 1959 success or failure of the Indians, who plunged to the depths in gate attendance last year while finishing fourth, 14½ games behind the hated Yankees.

Lane has done more than his bit in assembling new faces in Jimmy Piersall and Billy Martin and bringing back George Strickland, but it is Gordon's job to weld this club into a contender, not at the gate, but on the field.

The former Yankee and Indian second base star propped his feet up on the dugout steps here as he talked about the Injuns, who could be mighty good if Herb Score and Mike Garcia come back all the way and who might be just ordinary if they don't.

Gordon has a problem at short and the Tribe pitching, once the scourge of the majors, again presents the big question.

"I AM WELL satisfied with our offense and defense," Joe said, "but our pitching is a question. We must have Score and Gary Bell turn in fine efforts, along with Cal McLish, and our relief pitching has to establish itself.

"I think with Martin and Piersall we have added some speed to this club, which is another thing we needed. I also look to Larry Doby, who has been given a tryout at first base, to give us a big hand this year."

About the two big keys to his pitching staff Joe says: "Garcia has looked very good. He says he doesn't have that twinge in his back when he throws. Score is in wonderful shape physically. Yes, I'll admit the Giants belted him pretty hard the other day but we aren't too concerned with that. Herb didn't have his good fast ball working that day and he couldn't get his curve ball over. That will come.

"McLish is throwing a lot better this spring. He's a slow starter and, for sure, I look for him to have another good year.

"Young pitchers? Well, we have some, but it's pretty hard for them to break in when we have at least 11 veteran pitchers. I'd say that Dick Brodowski and Hal Woodeshick have looked good. And Dick Stigman (15-7 with Mobile) also has looked good and he's mighty close to making it."

"We're giving Al Cicotte a real shot at it and he may be a starter, not just a relief pitcher."

Gone from this once-great pitching staff are Bob Feller, Bob Lemon (he recently called it quits) and Early Wynn.

If Doby should play first, Vic Power will be on third and that would give the club some infield power. If not, Doby will be in outfield with Rocky Colavito, Minnie Minoso and Piersall, and Power will be on first. Also on hand for the initial sack is the veteran, Mickey Vernon.

THERE ARE several candidates seeking the shortstop spot with Woody Held, an outfielder, listed in this category along with Strickland, Billy Hunter and a rookie, Ray Webster, who was drafted from Sacramento.

Martin and Billy Moran will hold forth at second and Randy Jackson is around for third if needed.

Dick Brown, Hal Naragon and Russ Nixon give the Tribe three fine young catchers who also can hit.

The kingpin of the Indians attack, Colavito, should be ready for another and even greater season. The Rock hit 41 home runs last year and Gordon will tell you that "he hasn't reached the top yet . . . he's going to be a great hitter because he not only has power but he picks his pitches better now."

This, then, are the Indians of 1959, until Trader Lane, ready to deal anytime, comes up with some new faces to replace a few more of the old.

Romney Junior Tops Scorers 2nd Season; Scott Is Runner-Up

An all-time area record of 652 points in 21 games and high average of 31.0 was established during the 1958-59 basketball season by William Maphis, Romney High School junior, who headed the scorers of 30 schools for the second straight campaign.

The Pioneers' sharpshooter scored 249 goals, also an all-time high for a player in 21 regular season games and he hooped 154 out of 208 free throws for an average of .740.

Erases Several Marks

Maphis' point total and average bettered several previous marks credited to players of the tri-state area. Herman "Buddy" Meyer, of Mountaineer High's 1957 team scored 557 points in 20 games for an average of 27.9. These marks were wiped out by Maphis. In 1954 Bruce May, of Hyndman High School, scored 637 points in 27 regular season games. This record also was erased by Maphis who ran his three-year total to 1,552 points in 61 games. If he plays another complete season he should set a career mark exceeding 2,000 points.

This season Maphis accounted for 40 per cent of the 1,633 points chalked up by the Romney quint which won 19 of the 21 games played before tournament competition.

Leads For 2nd Season

Last season the Romney ace led the area scorers with 517 tallies in 19 contests for an average of 27.2. A year ago three players exceeded the 500 mark for the first time. They were Jim Vetter, Moorefield 525; Maphis 5'7 and Don Moyer of Mathias 525. Maphis was the only player to reach the select circle during the 1958-59 campaign.

Runner-up to Maphis in individual scoring this year was Bill Scott, of Ridgeley, who posted a 24.5 average. Jerold Milavec, of Elk Garden, finished in third place with 22.4. Joe Taylor of Piedmont was fourth with 21.78 and Bill Price, Fort Ashby, fifth with 21.33.

Milavec Best In Fouls

Jerold Milavec is the area foul shooting champion with an average of .788. He converted 126 of 160 free throws. Bill Price, Fort Ashby was runner-up with .776 and Maphis finished in third place with .740. One year ago Milavec was nosed out by George Lauder of Valley High .7833 to .7823. The Elk Garden player meshed 97 out of 124 attempts last season.

The most points scored in a single game was 58 and was credited to George Patton, of Northern High School of Garrett County. This was four points short of the area's all-time high of 62 made by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley High in 1951. Maphis was second to Patton this season with a 52-point performance in a single contest.

Wilcox Makes Little All-America Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Heralded as sure to make good in professional basketball, Dick Barnett of Tennessee A&I State made the Associated Press little All-America college basketball team Thursday for the second straight year.

Hugh Ahlering, who led Evansville to the NCAA small college championship; Paul Wilcox of Davis-Elkins (W. Va.), the leading scorer in both the NCAA and NAIA; and Chuck Curtis of Pacific Lutheran and Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas, who put their teams into contention for the NAIA crown, were the other four picked for the first team.

Ex-Candy Maker To Sweeten Cardinal Mound Outlook?

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — It won't be as easy as candy for Ernie Gilbert Broglio to make the big leagues this year as a pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals, but Ernie has a fine chance.

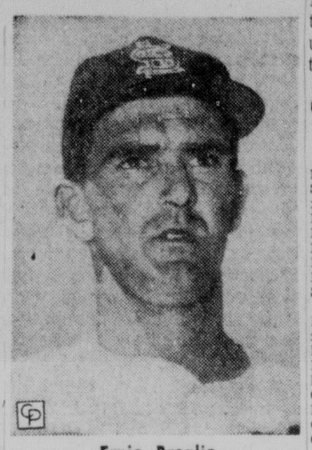
The one-time candy-maker—he made hard candy in a California candy shop—is rated the No. 1 pitching prospect in the Cards' camp here and he looked like he might accent the tag when he fanned Mickey Mantle of the Yanks in the Cardinals' first exhibition of the season when Mickey came in to pinch-hit.

A big boy at 6 feet 2 inches and weighing 200 pounds, the 23-year-old righthander comes up from the Giants' chain after a fine record in the minors. The Red Birds obtained him in a winter trade in which the Flock also obtained relief pitcher Marv Grissom for three players.

Although several club were looking at him when he graduated from El Cerrito high in California in 1953, Broglio signed with Oakland because he wanted to play ball near his home. He moved on from there to Modesto, Stockton, Johnstown, Dallas and finally, last year, to Toronto and Phoenix.

After the 1958 season ended Ernie went to Japan with the Cardinals and here he was sensational, winning all four games he started and teaming up with Sam Jones in one game for a one-hitter.

Broglio's best pitch is a fast ball, but says that he has worked on a slider and it now has helped him a lot.



Ernie Broglio

Grant Rides Six Winners

Sets New Record At Maryland Oval

BOWIE, Md., March 19 (AP)—Jockey Howard Grant equalled the Maryland riding record and set a new one for Bowie today, winning six of the eight races in which he had mounts.

He came in second and eighth in the races in which he failed to win.

Jockeys Bill Hartack, Albert Adams and Earl Sande had posted six victories each in a single day at other Maryland tracks.

Grant's success overshadowed the performance of Boncrist Farm's Backbone in the featured $5,000 Glendale Purse.

The 4-year-old son of Worden II turned in the fastest six furlongs of the meeting in scoring easily over Tee Shirt by two and a half lengths.

Backbone, ridden by Larry Adams, was timed in 1.10 3/5 only two-fifths of a second off the course record. A heavy favorite with 9,172 fans, Backbone paid $4.80.

Trico was third, three lengths behind Tee Shirt.

The day's mutuel handle was $896,834.

Grant did not ride in the feature. This was only his 12th day of action here but already he is the meeting's leading rider with 34 victories out of 80 mounts.

He opened by winning the first race with Head Dancer who paid $5.40, and finished second in the second race as his mount, Indian Lady, failed to catch the front-runner while performing as the 6-5 favorite.

In the third race Grant was astride Prince Quill, the odds-on choice, but he could do no better than eighth.

He took the fourth with Rhythm King ($3.20), the fifth with Sky Bid ($8.60), the seventh with Arrowette ($3.80), the eighth with Manticora ($13.20) and the ninth with Moco Yardley ($8.40).

Joe Van Durham, rookie outfielder with the St. Louis Cardinals, is nicknamed "Pop" because of his fondness for soda pop as a youngster.

SETS RECORD—Jockey Howard Grant set a new record at Bowie yesterday when he rode six winners. He had mounts in eight of the nine races. Grant also equalled a Maryland record of six winners in a single day posted by Jockeys Bill Hartack, Albert Adams and Earl Sande. The sensational 19-year-old saddlesmith has piloted 34 winners in only 12 days of racing. (AP Photofax)

Baltimore Farms Nicholson, Bonus Baby, To Amarillo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dave Nicholson, $100,000 bonus outfielder, was assigned to the Baltimore Orioles' Texas League farm club at Amarillo Thursday.

General Manager Lee MacPhail also announced that Frank Zupo, 19-year-old catcher signed to a $36,000 bonus contract in June 1957, has been sent to the Orioles' Miami, Fla. affiliate of the International League.

The 19-year-old Nicholson, tabbed by Manager Paul Richards as "the most improved rookie" in Baltimore's spring camp, batted .222 and hit 15 homers last year in Class A, 3's and D leagues.

Zupo hit .274, .290 and .221 in 1958 at Knoxville, Wilson, N. C., and Louisville.

Ex-Candy Maker To Sweeten Cardinal Mound Outlook?

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — It won't be as easy as candy for Ernie Gilbert Broglio to make the big leagues this year as a pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals, but Ernie has a fine chance.

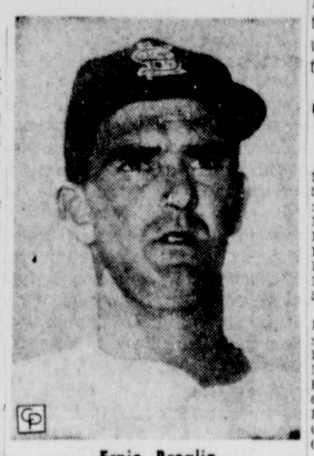
The one-time candy-maker—he made hard candy in a California candy shop—is rated the No. 1 pitching prospect in the Cards' camp here and he looked like he might accent the tag when he fanned Mickey Mantle of the Yanks in the Cardinals' first exhibition of the season when Mickey came in to pinch-hit.

A big boy at 6 feet 2 inches and weighing 200 pounds, the 23-year-old righthander comes up from the Giants' chain after a fine record in the minors. The Red Birds obtained him in a winter trade in which the Flock also obtained relief pitcher Marv Grissom for three players.

Although several club were looking at him when he graduated from El Cerrito high in California in 1953, Broglio signed with Oakland because he wanted to play ball near his home. He moved on from there to Modesto, Stockton, Johnstown, Dallas and finally, last year, to Toronto and Phoenix.

After the 1958 season ended Ernie went to Japan with the Cardinals and here he was sensational, winning all four games he started and teaming up with Sam Jones in one game for a one-hitter.

Broglio's best pitch is a fast ball, but says that he has worked on a slider and it now has helped him a lot.



Ernie Broglio

Grant Rides Six Winners

Sets New Record At Maryland Oval

BOWIE, Md., March 19 (AP)—Jockey Howard Grant equalled the Maryland riding record and set a new one for Bowie today, winning six of the eight races in which he had mounts.

He came in second and eighth in the races in which he failed to win.

Jockeys Bill Hartack, Albert Adams and Earl Sande had posted six victories each in a single day at other Maryland tracks.

Grant's success overshadowed the performance of Boncrist Farm's Backbone in the featured $5,000 Glendale Purse.

The 4-year-old son of Worden II turned in the fastest six furlongs of the meeting in scoring easily over Tee Shirt by two and a half lengths.

Backbone, ridden by Larry Adams, was timed in 1.10 3/5 only two-fifths of a second off the course record. A heavy favorite with 9,172 fans, Backbone paid $4.80.

Trico was third, three lengths behind Tee Shirt.

The day's mutuel handle was $896,834.

Grant did not ride in the feature. This was only his 12th day of action here but already he is the meeting's leading rider with 34 victories out of 80 mounts.

He opened by winning the first race with Head Dancer who paid $5.40, and finished second in the second race as his mount, Indian Lady, failed to catch the front-runner while performing as the 6-5 favorite.

In the third race Grant was astride Prince Quill, the odds-on choice, but he could do no better than eighth.

He took the fourth with Rhythm King ($3.20), the fifth with Sky Bid ($8.60), the seventh with Arrowette ($3.80), the eighth with Manticora ($13.20) and the ninth with Moco Yardley ($8.40).

Joe Van Durham, rookie outfielder with the St. Louis Cardinals, is nicknamed "Pop" because of his fondness for soda pop as a youngster.

SETS RECORD—Jockey Howard Grant set a new record at Bowie yesterday when he rode six winners. He had mounts in eight of the nine races. Grant also equalled a Maryland record of six winners in a single day posted by Jockeys Bill Hartack, Albert Adams and Earl Sande. The sensational 19-year-old saddlesmith has piloted 34 winners in only 12 days of racing. (AP Photofax)

Baltimore Farms Nicholson, Bonus Baby, To Amarillo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dave Nicholson, $100,000 bonus outfielder, was assigned to the Baltimore Orioles' Texas League farm club at Amarillo Thursday.

General Manager Lee MacPhail also announced that Frank Zupo, 19-year-old catcher signed to a $36,000 bonus contract in June 1957, has been sent to the Orioles' Miami, Fla. affiliate of the International League.

The 19-year-old Nicholson, tabbed by Manager Paul Richards as "the most improved rookie" in Baltimore's spring camp, batted .222 and hit 15 homers last year in Class A, A and D leagues.

Zupo hit .274, .290 and .221 in 1958 at Knoxville, Wilson, N. C., and Louisville.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — For days we have been hearing about Jules Verne's "Journey To the Center Of the Earth." Now it's all set to go with Pat Boone chosen by Buddy Adler for the starring role.

The Verne classic goes before the cameras in June when Pat returns to the coast. This will take him to many places. Edinburgh, Iceland, Stromboli (famous for the Ingrid Bergman-Rossellini interlude) and other remote and interesting locales.

Charles Brackett, producer, worked with Walter Reisch on the adaptation and Pat read the script, liked it and wired his acceptance to Buddy.

At long last Danny Kaye, who is so popular with the British, is going to Australia to put on an act. He'll go in June and July, immediately after his date in New York with "The Five Pennies," his new picture. He's now in San Francisco with his act.

When it became known that Danny planned to let the customers "Down Under" have a look, the demands for the tickets started even though the theatre is not yet set.

Those reviews Gigi Perreau received for her Rosland in "as You Like It" at Immaculate Heart College (where Gigi is in her freshman year) didn't go unnoticed around the studios.

As a result she has been signed by Al Zugsmith to portray the mixed-up young Mexican girl in "Girls Town," who finds herself by becoming a nun. Her convent training will come in handy for the nun role, the most dramatic part in the story.

A charming letter from Maurice Goudeket, husband of the late Colette, has been received by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, who wrote the beautiful music for "My Fair Lady" and for "Gigi."

Goudeket writes: "There is no doubt that the little person called Gigi was born under a lucky star. Her marriage to Lachaille (Louis Jourdan) brought her wealth and happiness, but she had to meet you both to reach world fame. I feel gratified that the opportunity be given me to state emphatically how enchanted I was by the lyrics and music of Gigi. I knew them by heart even before I was offered a chance to see the picture, and I feel quite certain that Colette would have been equally thrilled."

Don't let it ever be said that Sophia Loren isn't a good sport. She was at the Paul Hesse studio posing for a picture for the Los Angeles Examiner rotogravure which is being brought out April 16, for the Dodgers opening game, proceeds to go to the Los Angeles Orphanage.

Sophia spilled a hot cup of coffee on her arm and hand but she insisted on going on with the photograph although she was in great pain, and finishing it because she said it was the only day she could get away from her picture, "Heller With a Gun." She's a good girl this Sophia, without any nonsense.

Mack David and Jerry Livingston's music for "77 Sunset Strip" is already among the top 10 records, and Ray Anthony's "Peter Gunn" tunes are climbing and climbing. This, my friends, is a new phase of show business and a mighty interesting one.

Conversation, Anyone?

This has been quite a year for conversation, if conversation is quite the word for it. From California, Jack Paar issues a howl of rage to the effect that the movie stars don't know how to ad lib, that they are lost without their writers. Mr. Paar wonders mournfully what he's doing out there with an ad lib show.

Yet Hollywood is the place that spawned Oscar Levant than whom you can't get ad libber. From the same community comes word that Pamela Mason on her ad lib show stirred up a small hornet's nest by declaring that Rod Steiger is the kind of actor who scratches his behind (that is not the word she used) and called it Method acting. It doesn't seem to me that either Levant or Mrs. Mason need writers exactly. Just editors.

In New York, where conversation might be said to have its headquarters, the conversational show reached a pinnacle of some sort on the Ben Hecht show when Salvador Dali described the three kinds of love as sadism, masochism, and platonic love of a rather unusual nature. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Hecht's show departed the air, not necessarily because of that show. It's been a strong year. With the entertainment shows getting blander and blander, the talk shows have bordered more and more on the sensational. And the most sensational—in point of pure shock value—was Sam Levenson pleading for a revival of the old fashioned moral values of his youth. It's been some time since anyone has had the courage to put those sentiments into words.

Still, the conversation flows especially on WNTA in New York where Ted Cott knows a good things when he sees it. On WNTA, the air pulsates with talk—Fannie Hurst, Mike Wallace, David Susskind, Martin Gabel, Alexander King—and a couple more upcoming. To say nothing of their guests who sometimes, though by no means always, get in a word edgewise.

One place where no guest has got so much as a single word in edge or other wise, is on Alexander King's program. This "painter, playwright, and reconteur" hitherto curbed to twenty minutes or so on Jack Paar's show, has been untethered altogether on his own show called "Alex In Wonderland" on WNTA. On opening night, King announced he had no guests that night. "I didn't invite anyone because I didn't want to be interrupted."

Forthwith he plunged into anecdote. This continued for an hour, interrupted only by a marvelously naive drum solo by his young wife. Is this conversation? Conversation is generally understood to be a colloquy among several people. King's forte is monologue and it is conversation only in the sense that he needs listeners as mammals need air. They are marvellous stories, full of a distinctive flavor of their own, brimful of celebrated names, scatological references, thorny opinions, and wit.

"I deplore the beat generation so much. I can't read their books. I find them dull and full of self-pity. When I was in my twenties, I belonged to the lost generation but we were lost with taste." One hour of this was quite a stunt and held me limp with admiration. But I'm not at all sure I'm going to be equally spellbound every week. It's a little exhausting.

One of the best four-gaited, all-round conversationalists I know is Martin Gabel who has also been pressed into service on WNTA. Gabel's mind is marvellously stocked with anecdotes and rich with out-of-the-way literary allusions and old wives takes. He talks with ruffles and flourishes out of another century in manner that I find warm and beguiling.

Unlike King, who had no guests, Gabel on his opening show had perhaps too many—his wife Arlene Francis, George Axelrod, Joey Bushkin, Harvey Breit—and while they are all worthy people, they got to stepping on each other's toes.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — For days we have been hearing about Jules Verne's "Journey To the Center Of the Earth." Now it's all set to go with Pat Boone chosen by Buddy Adler for the starring role.

The Verne classic goes before the cameras in June when Pat returns to the coast. This will take him to many places. Edinburgh, Iceland, Stromboli (famous for the Ingrid Bergman-Rossellini interlude) and other remote and interesting locales.

Charles Brackett, producer, worked with Walter Reisch on the adaptation and Pat read the script, liked it and wired his acceptance to Buddy.

At long last Danny Kaye, who is so popular with the British, is going to Australia to put on an act. He'll go in June and July, immediately after his date in New York with "The Five Pennies," his new picture. He's now in San Francisco with his act.

When it became known that Danny planned to let the customers "Down Under" have a look, the demands for the tickets started even though the theatre is not yet set.

Those reviews Gigi Perreau received for her Rosland in "as You Like It" at Immaculate Heart College (where Gigi is in her freshman year) didn't go unnoticed around the studios.

As a result she has been signed by Al Zugsmith to portray the mixed-up young Mexican girl in "Girls Town," who finds herself by becoming a nun. Her convent training will come in handy for the nun role, the most dramatic part in the story.

A charming letter from Maurice Goudeket, husband of the late Colette, has been received by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, who wrote the beautiful music for "My Fair Lady" and for "Gigi."

Goudeket writes: "There is no doubt that the little person called Gigi was born under a lucky star. Her marriage to Lachaille (Louis Jourdan) brought her wealth and happiness, but she had to meet you both to reach world fame. I feel gratified that the opportunity be given me to state emphatically how enchanted I was by the lyrics and music of Gigi. I knew them by heart even before I was offered a chance to see the picture, and I feel quite certain that Colette would have been equally thrilled."

Don't let it ever be said that Sophia Loren isn't a good sport. She was at the Paul Hesse studio posing for a picture for the Los Angeles Examiner rotogravure which is being brought out April 16, for the Dodgers opening game, proceeds to go to the Los Angeles Orphanage.

Sophia spilled a hot cup of coffee on her arm and hand but she insisted on going on with the photograph although she was in great pain, and finishing it because she said it was the only day she could get away from her picture. "Heller With a Gun." She's a good girl this Sophia, without any nonsense.

There's a whole new trend in music in movies and especially TV. Pete Rugolo's background music of Richard Diamond TV show is so good it will be recorded, and it's getting many viewers for the Diamond series.

Mack David and Jerry Livingston's music for "77 Sunset Strip" is already among the top 10 records, and Ray Anthony's "Peter Gunn" tunes are climbing and climbing. This, my friends, is a new phase of show business and a mighty interesting one.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

Conversation, Anyone?

This has been quite a year for conversation, if conversation is quite the word for it. From California, Jack Paar issues a howl of rage to the effect that the movie stars don't know how to ad lib, that they are lost without their writers. Mr. Paar wonders mournfully what he's doing out there with an ad lib show.

Yet Hollywood is the place that spawned Oscar Levant than whom you can't get ad libber. From the same community comes word that Pamela Mason on her ad lib show stirred up a small hornet's nest by declaring that Rod Steiger is the kind of actor who scratches his behind (that is not the word she used) and called it Method acting. It doesn't seem to me that either Levant or Mrs. Mason need writers exactly. Just editors.

In New York, where conversation might be said to have its headquarters, the conversational show reached a pinnacle of some sort on the Ben Hecht show when Salvador Dali described the three kinds of love as sadism, masochism, and platonic love of a rather unusual nature. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Hecht's show departed the air, not necessarily because of that show. It's been a strong year. With the entertainment shows getting blander and blander, the talk shows have bordered more and more on the sensational. And the most sensational—in point of pure shock value—was Sam Levenson pleading for a revival of the old fashioned moral values of his youth. It's been some time since anyone has had the courage to put those sentiments into words.

Still, the conversation flows especially on WNTA in New York where Ted Cott knows a good things when he sees it. On WNTA, the air pulsates with talk—Fannie Hurst, Mike Wallace, David Susskind, Martin Gabel, Alexander King—and a couple more upcoming. To say nothing of their guests who sometimes, though by no means always, get in a word edgewise.

One place where no guest has got so much as a single word in edge or other wise, is on Alexander King's program. This "painter, playwright, and reconteur" hitherto curbed to twenty minutes or so on Jack Paar's show, has been untethered altogether on his own show called "Alex In Wonderland" on WNTA. On opening night, King announced he had no guests that night. "I didn't invite anyone because I didn't want to be interrupted."

Forthwith he plunged into anecdote. This continued for an hour, interrupted only by a marvelously naive drum solo by his young wife. Is this conversation? Conversation is generally understood to be a colloquy among several people. King's forte is monologue and it is conversation only in the sense that he needs listeners as mammals need air. They are marvellous stories, full of a distinctive flavor of their own, brimful of celebrated names, scatological references, thorny opinions, and wit.

"I deplore the beat generation so much. I can't read their books. I find them dull and full of self-pity. When I was in my twenties, I belonged to the lost generation but we were lost with taste." One hour of this was quite a stunt and held me limp with admiration. But I'm not at all sure I'm going to be equally spellbound every week. It's a little exhausting.

One of the best four-gaited, all-round conversationalists I know is Martin Gabel who has also been pressed into service on WNTA. Gabel's mind is marvellously stocked with anecdotes and rich with out-of-the-way literary allusions and old wives takes. He talks with ruffles and flourishes out of another century in manner that I find warm and beguiling.

Unlike King, who had no guests, Gabel on his opening show had perhaps too many—his wife Arlene Francis, George Axelrod, Joey Bushkin, Harvey Breit—and while they are all worthy people, they got to stepping on each other's toes.

Market Mixed; Specialty Issues Score Big Gains

NEW YORK (UPI)—Specialty issues scored some sharp gains to feature a mixed stock market. Trading slackened from Wednesday's pace as a note of caution crept into the market.

There was some improvement noted late in the session, sparked in part by a prediction by the president of Standard Oil (N.J.) that the outlook is for higher oil prices and earnings.

The principal stumbling block to the resumption of the bull market rise continued to be the realizing of profits amassed in recent weeks. Hardest hit were the recent favorites.

The economic news remained definitely bullish and Russian Premier Khrushchev's latest remarks on the Berlin situation buttressed the belief that problem will be settled amicably.

Ford, among the blue chips, was an upside feature, rising 2 points on the news its share of the over-all auto market is at a postwar high. Chrysler, stepping up production sharply, rose more than a point. General Motors firmed but American Motors eased.

Standard Oil (N.J.) added more than a point in the oils on the optimistic remarks of its President. However, profit-taking sent Richfield Oil down more than 2 and Amerada more than 1.

Secrets Of Charm

Good Clothes-Buying Sense

How wisely do you choose clothes? The answer lies in how you feel about what is hanging in your closet right now, when it is too late to buy winter clothes and too early to buy Spring clothes. If you can dress happily for every occasion and go out feeling you are looking your best, you are probably a wise buyer.

I'd be the last one to rub salt into the stabs of your conscience over ill-advised purchases, but I'd be the first to urge you to study the ways of the fashion-wise women who always manage to look their best . . . frequently on very limited clothes budgets.

If you want to keep skeletons out of your closet permanently, here's what clotheswise women know you must never, never do.

Never, never allow the lines of your clothes, no matter how currently fashionable they may be, to distort your figure. Everything you choose (hats included) must possess lines modified in silhouette and detail to flatter your figure.

Never, never be tempted by high fashion into wearing any color that does not become your color type.

Never, never mistake a fad for a fashion. Fads can swamp your wardrobe at great cost — but you can ride the crest of a true fashion trend with the utmost economy.

Never, never feel that you must be dressed-up for the occasion. Most occasions require a great deal of dressing-down!

Never, never buy your clothes piece-meal. Save your money until you have your entire season's wardrobe planned. You can then have a grand and glorious shopping spree safe in the knowledge that the results will be correlated, smart, economical and becoming!

To help you select colors that are just right for you and your wardrobe, read what I have to say in my newest booklet, "Your Color Type." To get your copy, send 25c and a stamped, return envelope to this column, c/o this paper.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—After an erratic trading day, grains closed quite irregular on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1¼ to up ¾; corn unchanged to off ⅛; new corn off ⅛ to up ⅛; oats off ⅛ to 1½; new oats unchanged to off ½; rye off 1½ to up ¾; soybeans unchanged to off 1⅞.

Observers considered Wednesday's planting report moderately bearish and also noted a reported increase in Canadian wheat acreage. Spot trade was light, and the trading basis remained unchanged.

Corn steadied after rather easy trade early in the session. Quite a bit of evening up took place in the March contracts. Commercial brokers sold May.

Market Mixed; Specialty Issues Score Big Gains

NEW YORK (UPI)—Specialty issues scored some sharp gains to feature a mixed stock market. Trading slackened from Wednesday's pace as a note of caution crept into the market.

There was some improvement noted late in the session, sparked in part by a prediction by the president of Standard Oil (N.J.) that the outlook is for higher oil prices and earnings.

The principal stumbling block to the resumption of the bull market rise continued to be the realizing of profits amassed in recent weeks. Hardest hit were the recent favorites.

The economic news remained definitely bullish and Russian Premier Khrushchev's latest remarks on the Berlin situation buttressed the belief that problem will be settled amicably.

Ford, among the blue chips, was an upside feature, rising 2 points on the news its share of the over-all auto market is at a postwar high. Chrysler, stepping up production sharply, rose more than a point. General Motors firmed but American Motors eased.

Standard Oil (N.J.) added more than a point in the oils on the optimistic remarks of its President. However, profit-taking sent Richfield Oil down more than 2 and Amerada more than 1.

Good Clothes-Buying Sense

How wisely do you choose clothes? The answer lies in how you feel about what is hanging in your closet right now, when it is too late to buy winter clothes and too early to buy Spring clothes. If you can dress happily for every occasion and go out feeling you are looking your best, you are probably a wise buyer.

I'd be the last one to rub salt into the stabs of your conscience over ill-advised purchases, but I'd be the first to urge you to study the ways of the fashion-wise women who always manage to look their best . . . frequently on very limited clothes budgets.

If you want to keep skeletons out of your closet permanently, here's what clotheswise women know you must never, never do.

Never, never allow the lines of your clothes, no matter how currently fashionable they may be, to distort your figure. Everything you choose (hats included) must possess lines modified in silhouette and detail to flatter your figure.

Never, never think of clothes without thinking of color. The color of a dress, coat, suit or accessory is an ineherent part of its design and another signpost to its figure flattery.

Never, never be tempted by high fashion into wearing any color that does not become your color type.

Never, never mistake a fad for a fashion. Fads can swamp your wardrobe at great cost — but you can ride the crest of a true fashion trend with the utmost economy.

Never, never feel that you must be dressed-up for the occasion. Most occasions require a great deal of dressing-down!

Never, never buy your clothes piece-meal. Save your money until you have your entire season's wardrobe planned. You can then have a grand and glorious shopping spree safe in the knowledge that the results will be correlated, smart, economical and becoming!

To help you select colors that are just right for you and your wardrobe, read what I have to say in my newest booklet, "Your Color Type." To get your copy, send 25c and a stamped, return envelope to this column, c/o this paper.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—After an erratic trading day, grains closed quite irregular on the Chicago Board of Trade.

The final trading session for March contracts found prices juggled into almost every level on the board.

Wheat closed off 1¼ to up ¾; corn unchanged to off ½; new corn off ⅛ to up ⅛; oats off ⅝ to 1½; new oats unchanged to off ½; rye off 1½ to up ¾; soybeans unchanged to off 1⅜.

Observers considered Wednesday's planting report moderately bearish and also noted a reported increase in Canadian wheat acreage. Spot trade was light, and the trading basis remained unchanged.

Corn steadied after rather easy trade early in the session. Quite a bit of evening up took place in the March contracts. Commercial brokers sold May.

In oats, liquidation by March longs influenced a decline.

Soybeans declined on early selling.

Potomac River Plan Could Start In 1962

Army Engineers Ready To Begin

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Plans to insure the Upper Potomac River Basin against flood threats and develop water resources for recreation and industry were presented Thursday to Maryland legislators.

The Army Corps of Engineers said it was ready to go ahead with the project—calling for three major dams and reservoirs and a number of local projects—as soon as Maryland, West Virginia and Congress can get together on the financing.

March, 1962, was set as the earliest date for starting construction if approvals go through without any hitches.

The first two dams — on the North Branch of the Potomac in Maryland and on Stony River four-tenths of a mile below the crossing of U.S. 50 near Mt. Storm, W.Va., would cost an estimated 60 to 70 million dollars.

Would Repay Half

The federal government would pay the construction costs with the states or local governments affected reimbursing half of it over a 50-year period. It was indicated industry may be asked to share in local costs.

A third reservoir, three and a half miles above the site of one presently located on Savage River near Luke, Md., would be constructed later at a cost of about 10 million dollars.

The engineers said the projects will more than pay for themselves by stimulating industrial development of the economically hard hit areas as well as minimizing flood damage and reducing pollution.

The North Branch dam, a 283-foot high cement structure, is designed to prevent flood damage in urban areas from Luke, Md. to below Cumberland.

Would Reclaim Land

Engineers say it also would "effectively remove from flood hazards 1,600 acres of land otherwise ideally suited to industrial development." Many other acres could be made industrially attractive because of the increased water supply.

The reservoir would cover 1,300 acres during maximum flood and operating with the Stony River reservoir would provide a regulated flow of 350 cubic feet per second at Luke compared to the present 93 cubic feet per second.

The Stony River reservoir would provide a normal maximum pool of 610 acres to be used primarily for recreation purposes and 20,000 kilowatts of supplemental hydroelectric power. The 157-foot earthen dam would help protect Kitzmiller, Md. and Blaine, W. Va. from flood damage.

"It has been estimated by the National Park Service that this reservoir could expect about 225,000 visitor-days annually," the report said.

The Savage River Dam No. 2 would store water primarily for domestic consumption, since the water there is of better quality. It also would serve as a recreational lake during summer.

Flood Work Planned

Local flood control projects are planned at Bayard, W. Va., Kitzmiller, Md., Blaine, W. Va., Westernport, Md., Piedmont, W. Va. and Keyser, W. Va. as part of the overall plan.

The study was developed at the request of Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-WVa) after floods cause heavy damage in 1955. It is part of a survey which will extend to lower areas of the Potomac.

Rep. John R. Foley (D-Md) called Thursday's meeting with Western Maryland legislators so engineers could explain plans already developed, and the lawmakers could help sell it to the governor and their local officials.

D.V.C. Birrell, who presented the report for the district Engineers office, said the project should solve industrial and water needs of the area for the next 50 years and provide a great spur to industrial development and increased population. West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. already has a mill at Luke, utilizing the present Savage River dam, and Potomac Edison is contemplating one near Keyser.

Payment System

Edward Bacon, deputy assistant Secretary of the Army, explained it will be necessary to have a letter from governors of the two states, or from local government officials with taxing authority, saying they are willing to work toward the program's accomplishment.

State and local payments would

Accident Fund Seeks Reversal In Court Here

The State Accident Fund has filed a petition in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking the reversal of a decision of the Workmen's Compensation Commission concerning an accident involving a Frostburg man.

Enoch P. Price, employer, and the State Accident Fund have filed the petition against Enoch W. Price, who was injured on July 18, 1958. The insurer has appealed from an order of the commission of January 16, 1959, that the State Accident Fund was the insurer of Enoch P. Price on July 18, 1958.

The State Accident Fund alleges the coverage of the accident of the injured man was terminated, cancelled and certified for non-payment of premium about June 26, 1958, and it was not in full force and effect the day Mr. Price was hurt.

On that date, according to the petition, the employer had not reinstated his account by providing the necessary payroll and payment of premium due the insurer.

The petition states the commission misconstrued the law and facts applicable to the certification and cancellation of the policy by the State Accident Fund for non-payment of the premium.

The employer and fund are represented by C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general; J. Howard Holzer, assistant attorney general, and Thomas B. Finan, special attorney.

Dr. T. E. Bess, Keyser, Found Dead In Cottage

Dr. Thomas E. Bess, 67, of Keyser, prominent area physician, was found dead in his cottage near Aurora, W. Va.

Dr. Bess and his brother, Dr. Robert Bess of Piedmont, located in Keyser in 1927, coming to this area from a practice in Fort Madison, Iowa. The brothers purchased the old Hoffman Hospital at Keyser and in the early 1930's built Potomac Valley Hospital.

Mrs. Bess, the former Miss Mary Macfarlane of Cumberland, was visiting in Fairmont, W. Va.

Surviving, besides his widow and brother, are a son, Thomas Bess Jr., Charleston, W.Va.; three daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Cannon, Berkeley, Calif.; Mrs. P. Erwin Berry 3rd, Fairmont, and Mrs. Daniel Ingram, Richmond, Va., and four sisters, Mrs. Richard Keim, Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Bernard Canterbury, Beckley, W. Va.; Mrs. Paul Nower, Russell, Ky., and Mrs. Joseph Keatly, Oak Hill, W. Va. Mrs. J. Grant (Mary) Macfarlane of this city is a sister-in-law. Two older brothers, Dr. Samuel Bess, Freeport, Ill., and Herman Bess, Huntington, W. Va., also survive.

Dr. Bess was a past president of the West Virginia State Medical Society. He was a veteran of World War II and had been active in civic, fraternal and Boy Scout programs.

Dr. Bess was a past president of the Keyser Rotary Club and a past district governor of the organization. He also was affiliated with the Shrine and was a past president of the Upper Potomac Shrine Club.

City To Accept Flood Control Project May 1

Damage Complaints Go To Contractors

The City of Cumberland plans to accept the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project from the federal government on May 1, City Solicitor William R. Carscaden said yesterday.

That is the completion date set for work on the city's flood protection program which is moving rapidly to a close, considerably brightened by the balmy weather of the past two days.

Mr. Carscaden noted, however, that in the past, after completion of projects accepted by the city, some residents have presented claims to the Mayor and City Council for damages which were the legal responsibility of the contractors performing the work.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, stated that in the past week complaints have been received from two property owners regarding claimed damages to property by the flood control contractors on North Mechanic Street.

The city solicitor said yesterday that these persons should file their claims with the contractors and not the city, as the city is not legally responsible for any such damages.

It was pointed out by the city officials that if any of the property owners do not know the names of the contractors now working on the various phases of the flood project, they may obtain the information by contacting the office of the city engineer, or by calling the area engineer, R. E. Dexter, of the Corps of Army Engineers.

Progress on the final phases of the flood work is on schedule, and should the present weather continue the project will be finished in time for the city to accept it on May 1.

The use of oil heaters and covers, however, is a valuable aid in the pouring of the concrete when temperatures drop below freezing, and contractors expect little or no difficulty in meeting the acceptance date.

Youths Given Suspended Terms In Theft

Four local youths were given suspended jail terms yesterday at a hearing in Trial Magistrate court on petty larceny charges in the theft of 37 cases of beer.

The youths, Jack Richard Skinner, 20, and his brother, Charles A. Skinner, 19, both of Jane Frazier Village; James Bernard Warner, 18, of 410 Grand Avenue, and Thomas Edward Spicer, 17, of 43 Somerville Avenue, were charged with the theft of the beer from the warehouse of Homer Lippold, Christie Road, distributor.

Magistrate Jack Mullen sentenced each youth to 30 days in the County Jail but suspended the jail term on condition the youths be home each night at 10 p. m. for the next six months. Magistrate Mullen also ordered the youths to make restitution to Mr. Lippold for the 15 cases which weren't recovered by the police.

Assisting with the investigation were Tfc. Jack Browning and Trooper Richard J. Grahame of the State Police.

96 Booth Spaces Are Sold For Jaycee Home Show

All of the originally-planned 90 booths for the 1959 Cumberland Home Show have been sold, according to W. Bruce Douglas and Glen R. Brant, general co-chairman.

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce has been well pleased at the response by Cumberland area businesses requesting booth space for the Home Show. As a result the Jaycees have added eight more booths to the available space and expect them to be sold soon.

This year's Home Show will be held at the old Potomac Edison "car barn" at 407-409 North Centre Street. Because of the added space available there, the Jaycees have added another feature to the Home Show this year. They have allowed a number of automobile dealers to purchase display areas at the show.

Dates for the Home Show have been set for April 16, 17 and 18.

E. F. Mullan Jr., Jaycee president, has announced the committee chairmen for the Home Show. Besides Mr. Douglas and Mr. Brant as general co-chairmen, they include Mr. Mullan himself and George L. Carney Jr., administration; Raymond H. Lapp Jr. and Frederick J. Hill, sales; Bruce M. Anderson and Buford L. Saville, house; Arthur S. Davis Jr., publicity; Lawrence R. Dickerhoff, admissions and traffic; Francis Deremer, legal; Chris Lockard, concessions; Lee Emerick, decorations; George C. Fichelberger and Beecher J. Holland, safety, and Walter Hensel, finance.

Bowen Vice President Of Potomac Edison Company

A. J. Bowen was elected vice president and director of district operations for The Potomac Edison Company at a special meeting of the electric company's board of directors in Frederick.

Mr. Bowen has been located in Hagerstown where he has served as director of district operations since April 1958. As an officer of the company, he will continue to be responsible for personnel, customer services, policies, public relations, and other matters of a specifically local nature in all of the 11 districts which make up the PE System.

He was first employed by the electric utility as a meter reader in Winchester, Va., in 1929. Following a succession of transfers to other departments in that area, he was made local manager at Berryville, Va., in 1933.

Four years later he was transferred to Piedmont, W. Va., as local manager and in 1940 he was promoted to the assistant district managership in Martinsburg, W. Va. In 1942 he returned to Winchester as assistant district manager and held that post until he was made district manager there in 1947.

Speaking to the electric company's board of directors, PE President D. E. Stultz reported that in January and February of this year, the sales of kilowatt-hours to all types of customers shows a 6.8 per cent increase as compared with those of a year ago.

A breakdown of this total, he said, shows residential kilowatt-hour sales up 10.4 per cent; commercial KWH up 9.6 per cent; and a small increase in sales to industrial customers.

"In making this report to you about our company's power business," Mr. Stultz said, "I am pleased to inform you that we are much encouraged at the prospect for additional power customers as a consequence of the efforts of our Area Development Department which works with the many communities in our territory in endeavoring to attract new industry."

He cited the example of the Futura Design Company which is establishing a plant at Thurmont and the decision of the Crown Cork and Seal Company to locate a plant initially employing some 100 persons at Winchester, Va. "We have reason to believe," he commented, "that several other announcements of a similar nature could be made in the near future."

Work has now begun, Mr. Stultz stated, on the new, 26-mile transmission line from Millville, W. Va. to Frederick. This 132,000-volt-line project is the largest item in the company's $7,182,000 construction budget for 1959.

The utility company president also reported on the "rapidly growing" use of electric power for house heating. Over 250 installations of this kind are now on PE lines, he said.

50 Students Take Tests For College

About 50 high school juniors and seniors and a few high school graduates from the Tri-State area took College Entrance Examination Board scholastic aptitude and achievement tests offered last Saturday at Allegany High School.

John R. Snyder, guidance counselor at Allegany, was the supervisor of testing. He was assisted by Robert Hutcheson, another Allegany teacher.

The College Entrance Examination Board offers a program of tests that are required for admission by many colleges. Perhaps the board's best-known activity is its program of college entrance tests, required by many colleges as part of their admission procedure and by sponsors of some scholarship programs.

These examinations consist of the three-hour scholastic aptitude tests and a series of one-hour achievement tests in various subjects.

Some 24 took the scholastic aptitude test. They included JoAnn Carscaden, Carol Sue Geppert, Sally Gerson, Ronald Gilchrist, Ellen Jo Kauffman, Martin Sigel, Sue Taylor, Donna Marie Walker and Elizabeth White, all Allegany High School juniors; Martha Coulehan, Louis Shinnamon, John Tosh and Ann Williams, all Allegany seniors; William Hyde and John Thomas, both Beall High School seniors; Gene Counihan, Fort Hill senior; John Bahen and Richard Murray, both LaSalle High School seniors; Katherine Determan and Margaret Strong, both St. Peter's High School in Westernport seniors; William Calhoun, Moorefield, W. Va., High School senior; Richard Johnson, Romney, W. Va., High School senior; Dorothy Vose, Allegany graduate, and Donald Vanorsdale, Bruce High School graduate.

Achievement tests were taken by 13 students. Among them were Marvin Kroll and Paul Ossip, both Allegany seniors; Karl Van Newkirk, Beall senior; Henry Johnson III, Fort Hill senior; Michael Mackert, John C. Baar, William Blake, Philip Cioni, James Davis, Joseph Firlie and Frank Zorick, all LaSalle seniors; Leslie Hoffman and Linda Livengood, both Bedford, Pa., High School seniors.

Thirteen other students took both scholastic aptitude and achievement tests. They included Jack Kauffman and Robert Weisman, both Allegany juniors; Bertha Duke, Robert Roeder and Robert Shuman, all Allegany seniors; William Hahn, Fort Hill senior; Mary Ann Jenkins, Catholic Girls Central High School senior; Thomas Cumiskey, LaSalle senior; Michael Maine and Michael Montgomery, both Keyser, W. Va., High School seniors; Charles Ryan Jr., Morgantown, W. Va., High School senior; Robert McNeill, Romney, W. Va., High School senior, and Robert Lewis, Potomac State College freshman.

Senators Battle Over Two Bills To Censor Films

End With Apologies, But No Decision

By LOUIS PANOS

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — An explosive debate on movie censorship ended in the Senate Thursday after charges of chicanery, countercharges, apologies all around and no decision.

The next chapter was scheduled to unfold Friday.

Only a dramatic last-second vote switch by Sen. Jones (D-Balto 4th) salvaged the more controversial of two measures on the subject.

Sponsored by Sen. Bertorelli (D-Balto 2nd), it would authorize the State movie censorship board to designate certain films as too obscene to be shown to minors under 18. A virtually identical measure already has been killed in the House.

The second bill, passed by the House, would prohibit movie operators from showing minors any films which might be obscene or tend to corrupt their morals.

Both Lack Support

Both measures came up for Senate action Thursday with Judiciary Committee recommendations that they be defeated.

Bertorelli moved that the recommendation on his bill be rejected to set up a vote on tentative approval of the measure.

The roll call, a protracted affair because many senators debated the bill under the guise of "explaining" their votes, first resulted in a 14-14 tie. This would have killed the bill for lack of a majority.

But just as President Della announced, "there being 14 votes—," Jones popped up to ask that his vote be changed in the record from "no" to "aye."

His bill now resuscitated by a 15-13 count, Bertorelli attempted to offer an amendment which might make it less objectionable to censorship opponents. It would make the bill applicable to children under 16 instead of 18.

Parliamentary Snarl

However, Della instead recognized Sen. Hughes (D-Caroline) as the next speaker. Hughes, who had sided with senators seeking to kill the bill on the first roll call, proposed an amendment which would make only foreign films subject to an "adults only" label.

Desperately seeking to have his amendment accepted first, Bertorelli clamored for the floor, threw the chamber into a parliamentary snarl, and — failing to carry his point — called Della "unfair."

"I saw legislative chicanery take place in the committee on judicial proceedings," he declared, "but little did I think I would see it take place here."

Della, who had voted with Bertorelli to keep the bill alive, demanded whether the First District senator wished to appeal the ruling under which Hughes had been given floor.

"It distresses me to do so," said Bertorelli, "but, yes sir, I do."

"Don't Do It"

Della turned over the rostrum to Majority Floor Leader Northrop (D - Montgomery) but was hardly in his seat on the floor before Bertorelli—yielding to colleagues who implored "Don't do it"—withdrew his appeal.

"If I owe the chair an apology," he said, "I do so make it now and publicly." He added he didn't really think Della was unfair.

The tense situation eased when Sen. North (D-Talbot) moved that the bill be laid over until Friday. The motion, theoretically designed to give members an opportunity to study the possible effect of an amendment, is automatically granted under the rules.

Moments later the senators took up the movie censorship which cleared the House under the sponsorship of Del. Whitmore (D-Anne

2 Boys Admit Setting Fire On Hillside

Two 11-year-old local boys have admitted to city police that they set a grass fire on Shriver's Hill yesterday which kept firemen busy all afternoon.

City Police Detective Lieutenant James E. Van questioned the boys.

East Side firemen received an initial call at 12:32 p. m. and remained on the scene over two hours. About nine minutes after the first call, Box 32 was pulled and firemen from Central station responded.

Minutes later West Side's pumper, which fills in at Central, went to the fire when Box 35 was pulled, but returned to the station when the firemen were not needed.

Later in the afternoon East Side returned to the hill, where stumps were smoldering. They were covered with dirt by the firefighters. En route back to the station East Side firemen received a radio call of a grass fire at 845 Columbia Avenue.

South End firemen also saw action yesterday afternoon when they were called to a dwelling occupied by John Clark, 13 East First Street. The motor of an automatic drier in the kitchen caught fire, they said. Cause of the fire was not determined.

About 2:02 p. m. yesterday West Side was called to 600 Washington Street where they extinguished a brush fire. The occupant said he had piled up some leaves, which caught fire. There was no damage, firemen said.

East Side received a call about 3:06 and learned later the fire was along Willowbrook Road beyond the city limits.

Volunteer firemen of Baltimore Pike were notified of the fire, at a greenhouse. They found a grass fire in the vicinity. A woman living nearby had been burning papers, firemen said, and the fire spread to nearby grass.

Judge Fraley Upholds Liquor License Move

Rules Decision Not Arbitrary

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley ruled yesterday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court that the County Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners did not act arbitrarily and capriciously in authorizing the transfer of the Potomac Fruit Market Inc. liquor license from 65 North Centre Street to National Highway in LaVale and dismissed the appeal of the board's decision.

Judge Fraley signed the brief opinion yesterday afternoon after studying the transcript of the testimony in the remonstrance hearing. He then returned to his home in Oakland.

In his opinion, the Garrett County judge emphasized that the Maryland Court of Appeals has ruled many times that the court will not substitute its discretion for action of administrative boards. In the absence of proof that a board has acted without legal authority or that there is fraud or bad faith, courts will not disturb board findings.

Split Decision

The decision of the liquor board of February 17 was a split one in which Stanley Hamilton and Howard Vandegrift voted for the license switch, and Edward J. Ryan, the newest member, dissented.

Earl E. Manges, atorney for the appellants, argued that the board "acted arbitrarily and capriciously and that the board's ruling was not supported by a substantial part of the evidence."

Mr. Manges emphasized that 11 residents of the LaVale neighborhood testified against the license transfer and the only witness for the transfer was one of the applicants.

Milton Gerson, attorney for the licensees, Bertha M. Wright, Edna K. Griffith and Edward E. Allen, said that eight of the 11 opposition witnesses testified they were against liquor permits anywhere.

Judge Fraley's opinion read as follows:

"The remonstrants filed on appeal from the action of the Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners of Allegany County authorizing the transfer of a liquor license held by Bertha M. Wright, Edna K. Griffith and Edward E. Allen from the City of Cumberland to LaVale.

"At the hearing it was conceded by counsel for the remonstrants that the board had the power and authority under the law to issue the license and that there was no evidence of fraud, bad faith or corruption on the part of the majority of the board in passing the order dated February 17, 1959.

Not Arbitrary

"The Court of Appeals of this state has ruled many times that the court will not substitute its discretion for the actions of administrative boards, and in the absence of proof that they have acted without legal authority or that there is fraud or bad faith, will not disturb the board's findings.

"Here the only contention on the part of the remonstrants is that the board acted arbitrarily and capriciously in approving the transfer of this license. I have read the record and I find nothing in the testimony that convinces me that the board did act arbitrarily and capriciously. The board heard the testimony of a number of witnesses and in my opinion they have the authority, even though the Court may not agree with them, to pass the order that it did. For this reason the appeal from the order of the board dated February 17, 1959, will be dismissed with costs."

Naughton Tells Senate Committee Bank Mergers Should Be Regulated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) Thursday urged enactment of a strong law dealing with bank mergers to halt what he termed a financial power grab by the bigger banks.

"Large banks in New York City are continually flexing their muscles and edging all the little banks off the sidewalk," Celler told the Senate Banking Committee.

He said the New York experience can be applied to almost any metropolitan area in the nation, and that the disappearance of small independent banks is hurting the small businessman.

Celler testified on a bill to make virtually all bank mergers subject to federal approval.

Under present law, the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Reserve Board or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. passes on mergers only when the assets of the combined institution are smaller than the total of the merging banks.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a member of its Antitrust Subcommittee, said he could accept the bill only if it were more restrictive.

Another witness, Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank of Cumberland, Md., voiced support for the bill.

Speaking in behalf of the American Bankers Assn., Naughton said there is no need to subject banks to anti-trust laws because "stern and aggressive competition is simply a fact of life in the banking industry today."

He opposed provisions of another bill he said would give the Justice Department authority to rule on bank mergers.

Naughton said also that the limited power the Justice Department does exercise in mergers involving bank holding companies is "unnecessary and inconsistent."

No bank merger should be assessed simply on the basis of competition, Naughton said. He listed several cases where he said a merger may substantially lessen competition yet still be in the public interest.

They included cases of inadequate management, possible failure of one bank or where a bank is unable to meet community needs. He added:

"We are convinced that final authority over all bank mergers and assumption transactions should be centered in the banking agencies, which in our judgment will effectively and objectively carry out the will of the Congress and protect the interests of the public."

Potomac River Plan Could Start In 1962

Army Engineers Ready To Begin

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Plans to insure the Upper Potomac River Basin against flood threats and develop water resources for recreation and industry were presented Thursday to Maryland legislators.

The Army Corps of Engineers said it was ready to go ahead with the project—calling for three major dams and reservoirs and a number of local projects—as soon as Maryland, West Virginia and Congress can get together on the financing.

March, 1962, was set as the earliest date for starting construction if approvals go through without any hitches.

The first two dams — on the North Branch of the Potomac in Maryland and on Stony River four-tenths of a mile below the crossing of U.S. 50 near Mt. Storm, W.Va., would cost an estimated 60 to 70 million dollars.

Would Repay Half

The federal government would pay the construction costs with the states or local governments affected reimbursing half of it over a 50-year period. It was indicated industry may be asked to share in local costs.

A third reservoir, three and a half miles above the site of one presently located on Savage River near Luke, Md., would be constructed later at a cost of about 10 million dollars.

The engineers said the projects will more than pay for themselves by stimulating industrial development of the economically hard hit areas as well as minimizing flood damage and reducing pollution.

The North Branch dam, a 283-foot high cement structure, is designed to prevent flood damage in urban areas from Luke, Md. to below Cumberland.

Would Reclaim Land

Engineers say it also would "effectively remove from flood hazards 1,600 acres of land otherwise ideally suited to industrial development." Many other acres could be made industrially attractive because of the increased water supply.

The reservoir would cover 1,300 acres during maximum flood and operating with the Stony River reservoir would provide a regulated flow of 350 cubic feet per second at Luke compared to the present 93 cubic feet per second.

The Stony River reservoir would provide a normal maximum pool of 610 acres to be used primarily for recreation purposes and 20,000 kilowatts of supplemental hydroelectric power. The 157-foot earthen dam would help protect Kitzmiller, Md. and Blaine, W. Va. from flood damage.

"It has been estimated by the National Park Service that this reservoir could expect about 225,000 visitor-days annually," the report said.

The Savage River Dam No. 2 would store water primarily for domestic consumption, since the water there is of better quality. It also would serve as a recreational lake during summer.

Flood Work Planned

Local flood control projects are planned at Bayard, W. Va., Kitzmiller, Md., Blaine, W. Va., Westernport, Md., Piedmont, W. Va. and Keyser, W. Va. as part of the overall plan.

The study was developed at the request of Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-WVa) after floods cause heavy damage in 1955. It is part of a survey which will extend to lower areas of the Potomac.

Rep. John R. Foley (D-Md) called Thursday's meeting with Western Maryland legislators so engineers could explain plans already developed, and the lawmakers could help sell it to the governor and their local officials.

D.V.C. Birrell, who presented the report for the district Engineers office, said the project should solve industrial and water needs of the area for the next 50 years and provide a great spur to industrial development and increased population. West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. already has a mill at Luke, utilizing the present Savage River dam, and Potomac Edison is contemplating one near Keyser.

Payment System

Edward Bacon, deputy assistant Secretary of the Army, explained it will be necessary to have a letter from governors of the two states, or from local government officials with taxing authority, saying they are willing to work toward the program's accomplishment.

State and local payments would

Accident Fund Seeks Reversal In Court Here

The State Accident Fund has filed a petition in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking the reversal of a decision of the Workmen's Compensation Commission concerning an accident involving a Frostburg man.

Enocl. P. Price, employer, and the State Accident Fund have filed the petition against Enoch W. Price, who was injured on July 18, 1958. The insurer has appealed from an order of the commission of January 16, 1959, that the State Accident Fund was the insurer of Enoch P. Price on July 18, 1958.

The State Accident Fund alleges the coverage of the accident of the injured man was terminated, cancelled and certified for non-payment of premium about June 26, 1958, and it was not in full force and effect the day Mr. Price was hurt.

On that date, according to the petition, the employer had not reinstated his account by providing the necessary payroll and payment of premium due the insurer.

The petition states the commission misconstrued the law and facts applicable to the certification and cancellation of the policy by the State Accident Fund for non-payment of the premium.

The employer and fund are represented by C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general; J. Howard Holzer, assistant attorney general, and Thomas B. Finan, special attorney.

City To Accept Flood Control Project May 1

Damage Complaints Go To Contractors

The City of Cumberland plans to accept the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project from the federal government on May 1, City Solicitor William R. Carscaden said yesterday.

That is the completion date set for work on the city's flood protection program which is moving rapidly to a close, considerably brightened by the balmy weather of the past two days.

Mr. Carscaden noted, however, that in the past, after completion of projects accepted by the city, some residents have presented claims to the Mayor and City Council for damages which were the legal responsibility of the contractors performing the work.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, stated that in the past week complaints have been received from two property owners regarding claimed damages to property by the flood control contractors on North Mechanic Street.

The city solicitor said yesterday that these persons should file their claims with the contractors and not the city, as the city is not legally responsible for any such damages.

It was pointed out by the city officials that if any of the property owners do not know the names of the contractors now working on the various phases of the flood project, they may obtain the information by contacting the office of the city engineer, or by calling the area engineer, R. E. Dexter, of the Corps of Army Engineers.

Progress on the final phases of the flood work is on schedule, and should the present weather continue the project will be finished in time for the city to accept it on May 1.

The use of oil heaters and covers, however, is a valuable aid in the pouring of the concrete when temperatures drop below freezing, and contractors expect little or no difficulty in meeting the acceptance date.

Youths Given Suspended Terms In Theft

Four local youths were given suspended jail terms yesterday at a hearing in Trial Magistrate court on petty larceny charges in the theft of 37 cases of beer.

The youths, Jack Richard Skinner, 20, and his brother, Charles A. Skinner, 19, both of Jane Frazier Village; James Bernard Warner, 18, of 410 Grand Avenue, and Thomas Edward Spicer, 17, of 43 Somerville Avenue, were charged with the theft of the beer from the warehouse of Homer Lippold, Christie Road, distributor.

Juvenile Court waived jurisdiction in the case of the Spicer youth.

Magistrate Jack Mullen sentenced each youth to 30 days in the County Jail but suspended the jail term on condition the youths be home each night at 10 p. m. for the next six months. Magistrate Mullen also ordered the youths to make restitution to Mr. Lippold for the 15 cases which weren't recovered by the police.

The boys were arrested Tuesday by Detective Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Harold Gibson after the officers found 22 cases of the beer stacked in a garage at the rear of a Race Street residence.

Assisting with the investigation were Tfc. Jack Browning and Trooper Richard J. Grahame of the State Police.

96 Booth Spaces Are Sold For Jaycee Home Show

All of the originally-planned 96 booths for the 1959 Cumberland Home Show have been sold, according to W. Bruce Douglas and Glen R. Brant, general co-chairmen.

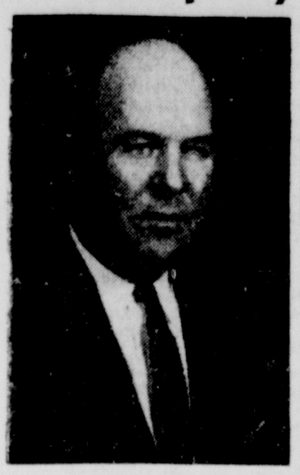
The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce has been well pleased at the response by Cumberland area businesses requesting booth space for the Home Show. As a result the Jaycees have added eight more booths to the available space and expect them to be sold soon.

This year's Home Show will be held at the old Potomac Edison "car barn" at 407-409 North Centre Street. Because of the added space available there, the Jaycees have added another feature to the Home Show this year. They have allowed a number of automobile dealers to purchase display areas at the show.

Dates for the Home Show have been set for April 16, 17 and 18.

E. F. Mullan Jr., Jaycee president, has announced the committee chairmen for the Home Show. Besides Mr. Douglas and Mr. Brant as general co-chairmen, they include Mr. Mullan himself and George L. Dickerhoff, admissions and traffic; Francis Deremer, legal; Chris Lockard, concessions; Lee Emerick, decorations; George C. Fichelberger and Beecher J. Holland, safety, and Walter Hensel, finance.

Bowen Vice President Of Potomac Edison Company



A. J. BOWEN

A. J. Bowen was elected vice president and director of district operations for The Potomac Edison Company at a special meeting of the electric company's board of directors in Frederick.

Mr. Bowen has been located in Hagerstown where he has served as director of district operations since April 1958. As an officer of the company, he will continue to be responsible for personnel, customer services, policies, public relations, and other matters of a specifically local nature in all of the 11 districts which make up the PE System.

He was first employed by the electric utility as a meter reader in Winchester, Va., in 1929. Following a succession of transfers to other departments in that area, he was made local manager at Berryville, Va., in 1933.

Four years later he was transferred to Piedmont, W. Va., as local manager and in 1940 he was promoted to the assistant district managership in Martinsburg, W. Va. In 1942 he returned to Winchester as assistant district manager and held that post until he was made district manager there in 1947.

Speaking to the electric company's board of directors, PE President D. E. Stultz reported that in January and February of this year, the sales of kilowatthours to all types of customers shows a 6.8 per cent increase as compared with those of a year ago.

A breakdown of this total, he said, shows residential kilowatthour sales up 10.4 per cent; commercial KWH up 9.6 per cent; and a small increase in sales to industrial customers.

"In making this report to you about our company's power business," Mr. Stultz said, "I am pleased to inform you that we are much encouraged at the prospect for additional power customers as a consequence of the efforts of our Area Development Department which works with the many communities in our territory in endeavoring to attract new industry."

He cited the example of the Futura Design Company which is establishing a plant at Thurmont and the decision of the Crown Cork and Seal Company to locate a plant initially employing some 100 persons at Winchester, Va. "We have reason to believe," he commented, "that several other announcements of a similar nature could be made in the near future."

Work has now begun, Mr. Stultz stated, on the new, 26-mile transmission line from Millville, W. Va. to Frederick. This 132,000-volt-line project is the largest item in the company's $7,182,000 construction budget for 1959.

The utility company president also reported on the "rapidly growing" use of electric power for house heating. Over 250 installations of this kind are now on PE lines, he said.

The College Entrance Examination Board offers a program of tests that are required for admission by many colleges. # Senators Battle Over Two Bills To Censor Films

End With Apologies, But No Decision

By LOUIS PANOS

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — An explosive debate on movie censorship ended in the Senate Thursday after charges of chicanery, countercharges, apologies all around and no decision.

The next chapter was scheduled to unfold Friday.

Only a dramatic last-second vote switch by Sen. Jones (D-Balto 4th) salvaged the more controversial of two measures on the subject.

Sponsored by Sen. Bertorelli (D-Balto 2nd), it would authorize the State movie censorship board to designate certain films as too obscene to be shown to minors under 18. A virtually identical measure already has been killed in the House.

The second bill, passed by the House, would prohibit movie operators from showing minors any films which might be obscene or tend to corrupt their morals.

Both Lack Support

Both measures came up for Senate action Thursday with Judiciary Committee recommendations that they be defeated.

Bertorelli moved that the recommendation on his bill be rejected to set up a vote on tentative approval of the measure.

The roll call, a protracted affair because many senators debated the bill under the guise of "explaining" their votes, first resulted in a 14-14 tie. This would have killed the bill for lack of a majority.

But just as President Della announced, "there being 14 votes—," Jones popped up to ask that his vote be changed in the record from "no" to "aye."

His bill now resuscitated by a 15-13 count, Bertorelli attempted to offer an amendment which might make it less objectionable to censorship opponents. It would make the bill applicable to children under 16 instead of 18.

Parliamentary Snarl

However, Della instead recognized Sen. Hughes (D-Caroline) as the next speaker. Hughes, who had sided with senators seeking to kill the bill on the first roll call, proposed an amendment which would make only foreign films subject to an "adults only" label.

Desperately seeking to have his amendment accepted first, Bertorelli clamored for the floor, threw the chamber into a parliamentary snarl, and — failing to carry his point — called Della "unfair."

"I saw legislative chicanery take place in the committee on judicial proceedings," he declared, "but little did I think I would see it take place here."

Della, who had voted with Bertorelli to keep the bill alive, demanded whether the First District senator wished to appeal the ruling under which Hughes had been given floor.

"It distresses me to do so," said Bertorelli, "but, yes sir, I do."

"Don't Do It"

Della turned over the rostrum to Majority Floor Leader Northrop (D - Montgomery) but was hardly in his seat on the floor before Bertorelli—yielding to colleagues who implored "Don't do it"—withdrew his appeal.

"If I owe the chair an apology," he said, "I do so make it now and publicly." He added he didn't really think Della was unfair.

The tense situation eased when Sen. North (D-Talbot) moved that the bill be laid over until Friday. The motion, theoretically designed to give members an opportunity to study the possible effect of an amendment, is automatically granted under the rules.

Moments later the senators took up the movie censorship which cleared the House under the sponsorship of Del. Whitmore (D-Anne

Naughton Tells Senate Committee Bank Mergers Should Be Regulated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) Thursday urged enactment of a strong law dealing with bank mergers to halt what he termed a financial power grab by the bigger banks.

"Large banks in New York City are continually flexing their muscles and edging all the little banks off the sidewalk," Celler told the Senate Banking Committee.

He said the New York experience can be applied to almost any metropolitan area in the nation, and that the disappearance of small independent banks is hurting the small businessman.

Celler testified on a bill to make virtually all bank mergers subject to federal approval.

Under present law, the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Reserve Board or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. passes on mergers only when the assets of the combined institution are smaller than the total of the merging banks.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a member of its Antitrust Subcommittee, said he could accept the bill only if it were more restrictive.

Another witness, Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank of Cumberland, Md., voiced support for the bill.

Speaking in behalf of the American Bankers Assn., Naughton said there is no need to subject banks to anti-trust laws because "stern and aggressive competition is simply a fact of life in the banking industry today."

He opposed provisions of another bill he said would give the Justice Department authority to rule on bank mergers.

Naughton said also that the limited power the Justice Department does exercise in mergers involving bank holding companies is "unnecessary and inconsistent."

No bank merger should be assessed simply on the basis of competition, Naughton said. He listed several cases where he said a merger may substantially lessen competition yet still be in the public interest.

They included cases of inadequate management, possible failure of one bank or where a bank is unable to meet community needs. He added:

"We are convinced that final authority over all bank mergers and assumption transactions should be centered in the banking agencies, which in our judgment will effectively and objectively carry out the will of the Congress and protect the interests of the public."

2 Boys Admit Setting Fire On Hillside

Two 11-year-old local boys have admitted to city police that they set a grass fire on Shriver's Hill yesterday which kept firemen busy all afternoon.

City Police Detective Lieutenant James E. Van questioned the boys.

East Side firemen received an initial call at 12:32 p. m. and remained on the scene over two hours. About nine minutes after the first call, Box 32 was pulled and firemen from Central station responded.

Minutes later West Side's pumper, which fills in at Central, went to the fire when Box 35 was pulled, but returned to the station when the firemen were not needed.

Later in the afternoon East Side returned to the hill, where stumps were smoldering. They were covered with dirt by the firefighters. En route back to the station East Side firemen received a radio call of a grass fire at 845 Columbia Avenue.

South End firemen also saw action yesterday afternoon when they were called to a dwelling occupied by John Clark, 13 East First Street. The motor of an automatic drier in the kitchen caught fire, they said. Cause of the fire was not determined.

About 2:02 p. m. yesterday West Side was called to 600 Washington Street where they extinguished a brush fire. The occupant said he had piled up some leaves, which caught fire. There was no damage, firemen said.

East Side received a call about 3:06 and learned later the fire was along Willowbrook Road beyond the city limits.

Volunteer firemen of Baltimore Pike were notified of the fire, at a greenhouse. They found a grass fire in the vicinity. A woman living nearby had been burning papers, firemen said, and the fire spread to nearby grass.

Judge Fraley Upholds Liquor License Move

Rules Decision Not Arbitrary

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley ruled yesterday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court that the County Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners did not act arbitrarily and capriciously in authorizing the transfer of the Potomac Fruit Market Inc. liquor license from 65 North Centre Street to National Highway in LaVale and dismissed the appeal of the board's decision.

Judge Fraley signed the brief opinion yesterday afternoon after studying the transcript of the testimony in the remonstrance hearing. He then returned to his home in Oakland.

In his opinion, the Garrett County judge emphasized that the Maryland Court of Appeals has ruled many times that the court will not substitute its discretion for action of administrative boards. In the absence of proof that a board has acted without legal authority or that there is fraud or bad faith, courts will not disturb board findings.

Split Decision

The decision of the liquor board of February 17 was a split one in which Stanley Hamilton and Howard Vandegrift voted for the license switch, and Edward J. Ryan, the newest member, dissented.

Earl E. Manges, atorney for the appellants, argued that the board "acted arbitrarily and capriciously and that the board's ruling was not supported by a substantial part of the evidence."

Mr. Manges emphasized that 11 residents of the LaVale neighborhood testified against the license transfer and the only witness for the transfer was one of the applicants.

Milton Gerson, attorney for the licensees, Bertha M. Wright, Edna K. Griffith and Edward E. Allen, said that eight of the 11 opposition witnesses testified they were against liquor permits anywhere.

Judge Fraley's opinion read as follows:

"The remonstrants filed on appeal from the action of the Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners of Allegany County authorizing the transfer of a liquor license held by Bertha M. Wright, Edna K. Griffith and Edward E. Allen from the City of Cumberland to LaVale.

"At the hearing it was conceded by counsel for the remonstrants that the board had the power and authority under the law to issue the license and that there was no evidence of fraud, bad faith or corruption on the part of the majority of the board in passing the order dated February 17, 1959.

Not Arbitrary

"The Court of Appeals of this state has ruled many times that the court will not substitute its discretion for the actions of administrative boards, and in the absence of proof that they have acted without legal authority or that there is fraud or bad faith, courts will not disturb the board's findings.

"Here the only contention on the part of the remonstrants is that the board acted arbitrarily and capriciously in approving the transfer of this license. I have read the record and I find nothing in the testimony that convinces me that the board did act arbitrarily and capriciously. The board heard the testimony of a number of witnesses and in my opinion they have the authority, even though the Court may not agree with them, to pass the order that it did. For this reason the appeal from the order of the board dated February 17, 1959, will be dismissed with costs."
